"A Good Advertiser is a Safe Borrower"

Under the bank cashier's wicket every day pass thousands of dollars in loans to the manufacturers of America. They make automobiles or soap, adding machines or candy, talcum powder or furniture.

Why do these business men borrow large sums with confidence?

Because by persistent ADVERTISING they have each created in the great buying public a demand for a particular automobile, a special brand of candy, a particular make of

They judge the future by the past. What advertising has done, it will do, and do increasingly. There is an inexhaust ible fund of good will for the advertised trademarked product. An idea is sold to the public and kept sold by well-planned reiterated Advertising.
