Extraordinary!

Something out of the way in the way of dogs is to be found at the home of Walter Frulan, on B street, where a fine Airedale has a litter of 11 puppies. This is an extra large litter for an Airedale, as they seldom have over six or eight.

Dancing at the Big Hot Springs Pavilion, Wednesday and Saturday nights.

Better be safe than sorry. See Beaver Realty Co. about your insurance. Phone 68.

Nominee at Fair Wednesday

Walter M. Pierce, democratic candidate for governor, will attend the Jackson county fair Wednesday to give the glad hand to the Jackson county voters.

We sell Fred Rapp's watermelons at the White House grocery, 1 1/2 cents per pound.

Piano tuning guaranteed by Carl Loveland. Studio 135 E. Main St. Phone 465.

Arrives from Newport

F. B. Sanger has arrived home after a month's vacation spent at Newport, Or., where he enjoyed the seabreezes for a change. Mr. Sanger suffers from asthma, and found that it bothered him while at the seashore, but is relieved since arriving home.

The W. R. C. will meet with Mrs. J. N. Dennis, 542 Boulevard, Monday afternoon, September 11.

Wanted, women to work in fruit at Talent cannery. For particulars, phone 364-J1.

W. C. T. U. Meets Early

On account of the inter-denominational meetings, the W. C. T. U. has advanced the hour of its regular meeting for Tuesday. For tomorrow's meeting only, the hour will be 1:30 o'clock, instead of 2:30 o'clock.

For cleaning, pressing and dyeing, phone 119. Paulserud's.

Orres cleans clothes. Phone 64.

Will Visit Here

Mr. and Mrs. Jess Squire, of Alpaugh, Calif., were expected to arrive in the city today for a visit with Mrs. Clyde Darling.

You may be sorry if you don't insure with, Yeo, of course.

Famous Dickens Inn Changes Hands

The famous inn at Cobham, England, known as the "Leather Bottle," is soon to be vacated by the present host, one of the most prominent of Dickens enthusiasts. The old inn, pictured here, has been a center of attraction for tourists and sightseers, for it figures prominently in the "Pickwick Papers."

COLORADO PRIMARIES ARE HELD TOMORROW

NEW POST OFFICE LOCATION IS SOUGHT

DENVER, Colo., Sept. 11.—Without a United States senatorial election in Colorado this fall, the primary campaign for the selection of candidates for congressional and state offices, has developed only passing interest, despite the fact that a large field appears on both republican and democratic tickets for various nominations to be designated at the state primary election tomorrow.

Only one of the three republican congressmen from Colorado has encountered opposition in the effort to succeed himself in the sixty-eighth congress. William N. Valle, of Denver, representative from the First district, and Guy U. Hardy, of Canon City, in the Third district, are running for re-nomination with the field to themselves, while Charles B. Timberlake, of Sterling, incumbent, is opposed in the primary by Roscoe G. Ozman, of Amhurst. Merle D. Vincent, of Grand Junction, who has previously aspired to election from the Fourth district, is again an unopposed candidate for the nomination on the republican ticket.

Opportunity knocks at your door. Open it and invest in Delta lands, where there is no water shortage. See Sperry at 172 Mountain avenue.

REDDING, Calif., Sept. 11.—The Redding post office is seeking larger quarters to accommodate the growing business of the city.

H. B. Hall, inspector of leases for the department, was here last week and directed that advertisements be posted. The present location is good enough, but the floor space is only 3500 square feet, and the government wants space of 5000 square feet. The advertisement states that the department wants to lease for a term of ten years. The owner of the building is required to furnish the equipment, lock boxes, desks, etc.

ROSEBURG, Sept. 11.—The sum of $500 has been appropriated by the county court to be used for the Douglas county exhibit at the state fair. C. O. Garrett, of Glendale, and County Agent B. W. Cooney will have charge of the exhibit, which will be the best Douglas county has ever had. The melon exhibit will be the feature of the display. Melons and fruits are being placed in cold storage each day, in preparation for the fair.

DOUGLAS COUNTY TO HAVE FINE EXHIBIT

Its Day of Glory Forgotten. You will perhaps remember that when Dewey got through with the Spanish warships in Manila bay, about the only one left of any value was the Isla De Luzon, a small gubnot which the navy refitted and used effectively in the archipelago for some years. Last winter I saw her in one of the shallow harbors of the West Indies. The Navy department had sold her for a song to some skipper who had refitted her as a wrecking boat and was living on her with his family among a small wilderness of ropes and winches. Of course, with so many demands on the treasury as there are, it would be nonsense to spend money for mere sentiment, but I felt something of a pang of regret that the only memento of this glorious naval victory should meet such a fate.—New York Correspondent of the Indianapolis Star.

COLORFUL COMBS COME INTO VOGUE

THE VOGUE of the wearing of the comb is increasing daily, not to say nightly. A season or two back, the high Spanish comb came in with the silken fringes and shawls of Spain. And as the seasons grew, so did the height and width of the combs, until they reached almost amazing proportions. And it was found and admitted, that there were other women in the world than the Spanish women, who could wear a comb with an air and dash.

Since combs could no longer increase in size, something else had to be done about them. So they took on color.

They now come in all sorts of lovely shades, all very brilliant, to accompany matching gowns, or to lend the dash of color to a black velvet dress. Chinese lacquer red ones, and jade green-ones are the most vivid and popular perhaps, so far. But these combs cannot properly be called Spanish combs, even though they are patterned after them in shape and design.

But the variety in shapes and sizes of the new combs for fall is legion. Some are fan shaped, others triangular, some oval; and some so narrow as hardly to be called combs at all, but rather pins.

TELLS OF ESKIMO MELODIES

Arctic Explorer Declares They Are Weirdest and Distinct to a Degree, and Characteristic.

Knud Rasmussen and Fridtjof Nansen and also Hinrich Johannes Rink, who was sent north years ago by Lady Franklin to find her husband, have given to the world valuable facts about the customs and lives of the Eskimos. The Detroit News observes. Christian Leden's unique contribution from the arctic regions is in the field of music. For years he studied and faithfully transcribed the Innuut melodies. Each Eskimo, he says, is obliged to compose his own song, and no person may sing the song of another without first obtaining permission. The mother has her cradle song, infinitely low and sweet. The hunter has his song of the chase, clear and bold. Even the bad man of the tribe has his song, and it was quick and appropriately brazen. Harmony has not been developed among the Eskimos. They sing only in unison. But their melodies are weird and wistful, often consisting of only two or three notes, which are strangely effective. It is during the long polar night that the Eskimo has time to rest in his igloo and sing his songs.
