Demands For Northwest Lumber Strong; Stocks Reach Low Point; Shingles Needed

There is a strong demand from all sections for all grades of lumber that the big mills of the northwest are now producing. Yard stocks were never so low in years as they have now fallen, according to late reports from Portland on the lumber outlook.

The car situation which has been more or less of a problem to some manufacturers, is still "spotted." In the larger centers such as Portland, the mills are having little difficulty in obtaining enough cars to supply their demands. Grain shipments from eastern Oregon and Washington coming into Portland are releasing large numbers of cars and these are being diverted to the mills for lumber shipping purposes.

Two weeks ago the mill of C. H. Wheeler Lumber company at Cochran was forced to suspend operations because of a lack of cars. With this concern, however, conditions have more or less adjusted themselves, and the plant will open soon with a full crew.

Several months ago, the manufacturers were bewailing the fact that the demand for common lumber was slack. In their yards thousands of feet of common material were daily piling up. There was little demand from those sections that as a general rule absorb the output the low grade lumber. Now conditions are reversed. There is a constant demand for common lumber, and the big supply that piled up in the yards has for the most part been moved out. The agricultural districts have been in the field for large volumes of lumber and they have taken a big percentage of the common grade supply.

Demands for heavy structural timber are now heavy. They come for the most part from Chicago and like manufacturing towns where new factories are going up and where heavy wood structural work is required.

Demands for Japanese "squares" has been particularly heavy until a week ago, when buying almost ceased. The reason for the Japanese going out of the market is due to the fact that freight rates have been high and that the increased demand for all grades of lumber has shoved up the prices to the point where the orientals feel that they cannot buy. It is evident that the prices will not be lowered with conditions of demand as they are and it will not be long until the Japanese are back in the market for "squares."

There is a big demand for shingles at the present time. With the demand for lumber continuing to grow larger, an increasing demand for shingles would naturally follow. Prices are held to be at a figure where the manufacturers can make a profit. This is a vastly different situation than has existed for some time for the shingle manufacturers. For a long time, on account of Canadian competition, the shingle manufacturers of the northwest have had "hard sledding." Now conditions seem to be on the upgrade.

Some of the shingle mills have been forced to shut down on account of a shortage of cedar logs. This has been due to the fact that logging was set back considerably on account of the forest fires that took men from the camps. In a short time the loggers will be turning out their regular output of logs and the mills will be able to resume operations.

MAN IS POLITE; SAYS WIFE KILLED THE DEER

BEND, Or., Sept. 13.—Mr. and Mrs. L. S. Sillery, of Bend, fired simultaneously yesterday when they sighted a five-point buck in a clearing in the Walker mountains. The bullets entered the right shoulder so close together that it was impossible to tell which inflicted the mortal wound. But Mrs. Sillery signed the tag which the state game laws order affixed to all venison. The buck was killed within 100 yards of the road.

NOTICE OF INTENTION TO CONSTRUCT SEWER

To all persons interested in the ownership of my parcel of land within the following described sewer district, to-wit:

A strip of land 80 feet wide on the west side of Beach street, and a strip of land 120 feet wide on the east side of Beach street, extending from the north line of lots 13 and 32, of the H. B. Carter addition, south along Beach street 1220 feet, more or less, to the south line of Beach street as platted and shown on the map of the Matthew's addition to the city of Ashland.

It is the intention of the city council to have a sewer constructed to serve the district above described to be known as Sewer District No. 22.

All persons and parties interested are hereby summoned and required to appear before the common council of the city of Ashland, at the city hall, Ashland, Oregon, at their meeting on the 23d day of September, 1922, at 8 o'clock p. m., then and there to offer any suggestions and objections thereto. The expenses incident to such sewer and the cost of the construction thereof is to be hereafter assessed, in case of the construction thereof, as special benefits against the real estate within said district benefited thereby.

Dated this 13th day of September, 1922.

Free from destructive "sulpho" compounds

Cyclol is perfected by a new scientific method

The high lubricating value of Cyclol is due to an advanced method of refining—the new Hexeon process—used only in making Cyclol.

By making Cyclol free from destructive "sulpho" compounds the Hexeon process accomplishes what scientists have long striven for—increased stability of motor oil under engine heat.

Cyclol does not break down nor thin out rapidly under high operating temperatures. It maintains an unbroken lubricating film between moving parts. It sustains an "oil tight" piston seal. It prevents many serious motor troubles.
