

Ashland Tidings
 Established 1866
 Published Every Evening Except Sunday
THE ASHLAND PRINTING CO.
 OFFICIAL CITY AND COUNTY PAPER
 TELEPHONE 39
 C. K. LOGAN, Editor

Entered at the Ashland, Oregon Postoffice as Second-class Mail Matter.

Subscription Price Delivered in City:
 One month ..... $ .65
 Three months ..... 1.95
 Six months ..... 3.75
 One year ..... 7.50

Mail and Rural Routes
 One month ..... $ .65
 Three months ..... 1.95
 Six months ..... 3.50
 One year ..... 6.54

ADVERTISING RATES
 Display Advertising
 Single insertion, each inch ..... 30c
YEARLY CONTRACTS
 Display Advertising
 One time a week ..... 27 1/2c
 Two times a week ..... 25 c
 Every other day ..... 20 c

Local Readers
 Each line, each time ..... 10c
 To run every other day for one month, each line, each time ..... 7c
 To run every issue for one month or more, each line, each time ..... 5c

Classified Column
 One cent the word each time. To run every issue for one month or more, 1/2c the word each time.

Legal Rate
 First time, per 8-point line ..... 10c
 Each subsequent time, per 8-point line ..... 5c
 Card of thanks ..... $1.00
 Obituaries, the line ..... 2 1/2c

Fraternal Orders and Societies
 Advertising for fraternal orders or societies charging a regular initiation fee and dues, no discount. Religious and benevolent orders will be charged the regular rate for all advertising when an admission or other charge is made.

What Constitutes Advertising
 In order to allay a misunderstanding among some as to what constitutes news and what advertising, we print this very simple rule, which is used by newspapers to differentiate between them: "ALL future events, where an admission charge is made or a collection is taken IS ADVERTISING." This applies to organizations and societies of every kind as well as to individuals. All reports of such activities after they have occurred is news.

All coming social or organization meetings of societies where no money contribution is solicited, initiation charged, or collection taken IS NEWS.

SMILING

The governor of the state of Washington has proclaimed the week beginning October 9 as "Smile Week." Smiling cannot be accomplished by this method. The result of the governor's proclamation will undoubtedly be a "Cheshire cat" expression upon the faces of the citizens of our neighboring state on the north. Smiling is habitual and will not result from any order issued by any human being.

Smiling is the outward manifestation of internal conditions, and is something that cannot be forced. It is not governed by creed nor proclamation. There is nothing more painful to behold than to see the muscles of the face being contorted and drawn out of shape in order to form what finally reaches the status of a sickly grin. A cheerful countenance, with an occasional voluntary turning up of the corners of the mouth, must be automatic and a reflection of the smilee's mental and physical condition.

One bright smile in the early morning, and the whole day is brighter, for there is nothing that can successfully combat the facial expression that exudes from a person who is habitually cheerful and whose body and mind are in a healthy working condition. The true smile is sincere and is accomplished not by practice alone, but from habit.

Persons who are of a grouchy disposition are seldom happy themselves, and it is on rare occasions that they succeed in making others happy. A pleasant word and an unforced smile go far toward making the world a happier place in which to dwell.

The saying of "Smile and the world smiles with you; weep and you weep alone," is as accurate as the "two and two makes four" proposition.

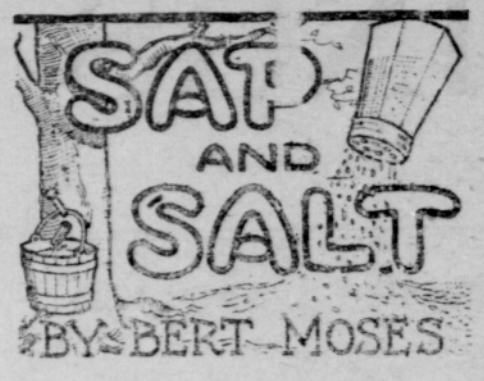

Keep smiling.

Tomorrow the sun will cross the equinox, making day and night of an equal duration. With the advent of crimp weather it is about time to dig up the old red flannels. Anyhow a few frosty nights are needed to bring the bloom to the cheeks of the apple.

"Turkish nationalists troops will begin military operations against the British on Sunday," says a report from Angora. Now doesn't that get your goat?

'Tis the last day of summer. Autumn begins Saturday.

For your cleaning and pressing—phone 119, Paulserud's. 14c

Man proposes—and is now and then accepted.

Most of the things you want cost more than you have the money to buy.

The world needs something better more than it needs something new.

Righteousness cannot be "put" into people; it has to "grow" there.

All sentiment should be discarded when a woman picks out a doctor to treat her.

When things go wrong, and you are all tired out, how little comfort and solace you can get at a soda fountain!

HEZ HECK SAYS:
 "A dull knife makes a tough steak seem tougher."

THOUGHTS FROM OTHER SOURCES

THE WINDROWED DEAD

(Portland Journal)
 Lying in windrows like grain as it falls before the reaper, the stark bodies of the 47 miners were found.

The annals of their passing were revealed in the mute notes rudely scrawled in their last moments of life. On the outer bulkhead, William Fessel, chemist, miner and father of a family, seared this note: Three a. m. Gas very bad. We are going to leave you.

WILLIAM FESSEL.
 A second note, a penciled scrawl, was found on the wet floor of the drift. It read:

3. Too much gas.
 Below was the figure "4." The writer had endeavored to pencil a final message at 4 o'clock. But he was already falling into the sleep that was to be his last, and the scrawl was never finished.

Occasionally we get glimpses of what the rest of the world is doing. It usually takes a tragedy to make us sense the comings and goings of those outside our own circle.

Here were 47 men, almost a mile down in the bowels of the earth, their escape cut off by a fire that raged in the single shaft between them and the surface. They looked for a mine elevator that was the sole means of exit, to come down. But it did not come, and then they knew that they were trapped.

Then came the gas, the frenzied building of the bulkhead to protect them from it, then the effort to build a second one, and then finish. As we read the mournful story of these dead, imagine their thoughts and remember their hopes, perhaps a new sympathy will go out from us to those who daily do the perilous work of the world on sea and land.

Nor can the thought escape us that, since the Argonaut is described as the "richest producer in the west," why was not one of the two tunnels drilled into the Argonaut from the Kennedy, built before the tragedy instead of after.

And perhaps, over the discolored remains of these dead, there will arise a widespread insistence, for the sake of the hopes and lives and homes of those who bore their way deep into the earth, that there must hereafter be more than a single means of escape.

The 47 will not have died in vain if by their death at Argonaut plans are crystallized to place a higher value on life at the mines and to protect it better.

RED CROSS IS MOTHER TO DESERTED INFANT

ALBANY, Or., Sept. 22.—A blue-eyed three-months-old boy, deserted by his 18-year-old mother, was turned over to the Linn county Red Cross chapter by neighbors who were unable to care for the infant. Numerous and varied demands have been made on the local Red Cross workers, but this is the first incident of this kind to be experienced here. The infant was clothed in clean clothes and kept at the Red Cross headquarters by Miss Edith Forrest, social welfare worker, who will take the baby and his mother to Portland where arrangements will be made for the boy's care.

A want ad will sell it.

Woman Out-Guesses Cynics As to What Public Wants

Dorothy Donnelly Gives Broadway Schubert's Music and They Like It

New York City.—The man who guesses the riddle of what the public wants is fortunate, for he has a chance to get rich.

Dorothy Donnelly, playwright and actress, had a bit of luck of this sort last year when in the face of pessimistic prediction, she insisted that Franz Schubert's music could be made to appeal to the popular audience.

"It would go over their heads," misanthropes in musical circles croaked dismally.

"Not if it's presented properly," answered Miss Donnelly, with Irish optimism, going straight on with the adaptation of "Blossom Time," which not only contains the music, but the history of the great master.

"When 'Tell Me Daisy,' from the "Blossom Time" folio, was sung for the first time by the inimitable Renald Werrenrath, and the public began to whistle and sing that and the "Song of Love" Miss Donnelly could afford to say "I told you so."

Now, with the piece beginning its second year to larger audiences than ever, she only remarks: "The public likes the best. 'Blossom Time' proves it."

Large Assortment of Books Recently Received by Ashland Public Library

Many new books on a varied list of topics which range all the way from technical, historical and fiction, have been recently added to the public library, according to Miss Blanche Hicks, city librarian. These are now ready for circulation. Following is the list of the new publications:

Book, "Americanization of Edward Bok"; Bryant, "Best stories to tell children"; Bruette, "Complete dog book"; Cambridge, "History of American literature"; De la Mare, "Down-adown Derry"; Clarke, "Track and field athletics"; M. T. F., "My Chinese marriage"; Mills, "Adventures of a nature guide"; Anonymous, "Painted windows"; Phelps, "Debaters manual"; Pierce, "Our unconscious mind"; Pound, "Iron man"; Quennell, "Every-day life in the old stone age"; Root, "A B C and X Y Z of bee culture"; Saintsbury, "A letter book"; Sleeper, "Construction of radio phone"; Spaulding, "Your dog and your cat"; Stefansson, "The friendly arctic"; Thompson, "Complete poems"; Tomson, "Outlines of science"; Tinker, "Young Boswell"; Who's Who in America; Wolcott, "Book of games and parties"; Underwood, "Wild brother"; Andreyev, "Seven that were hanged"; Bailey, "Trumpeter swan"; Beerbohm, "Zulika Dobson"; Benet, "First person singular"; Bennett, "Mr. Prohack"; Burnett, "Head of the house of Coombe"; Butler, "Way of all flesh"; Dell, "Obstacle race"; Dell, "Briary Bush"; Dostoevski, "Poor people"; Dusany, "Book of wonder"; Dusany, "Dreamers tales"; France, "Crime of Silverter Bonnard"; Fletcher, "Ravensdean court"; Haldeman, "Dust"; Hemon, "Maria Chapdelaine"; Mackenzie, "Poor relations"; Mackenzie, "Rich relations"; Maugham, "Moon and sixpence"; Mila, "Feast of Lan-

Platform of Alice Hanley

INDEPENDENT CANDIDATE FOR REPRESENTATIVE

To the Public: A large number of voters of Jackson county—irrespective of party affiliations—have nominated me as an independent candidate for the office of representative to the legislature, and I have accepted the nomination.

I recognize the fact that those who have named me for this important trust, have done so in order to have an opportunity to express at the polls their opposition to the insidious schemes and machinations of the Ku Klux Klan—a secret political order which now is seeking to gain control of the government of this state.

I do not believe in "invisible" powers of government, and if elected, I shall oppose the election of any person to the position of speaker of the house of representatives who is identified with the Ku Klux Klan.

I sincerely appreciate the honor conferred upon me by the nomination. I have spent my entire life in Jackson county, and among its people, and if I am elected, it will be a pleasure to represent their interests—and in doing so, I will at all times observe the same rules of economy that I practice in the management of my own personal business affairs.

The future of Oregon is already heavily mortgaged by bonded debt. It is time to retrench, and relieve the taxpayers of some of the burdens of taxation. These burdens have been increasing from year to year with an accelerating pace, until the people almost dread the recurrence of a session of the legislature. If I am elected, I will not favor any appropriation of money from the public treasury, unless it is needed for the actual expenses of state government.

I am not in favor of creating any more governmental commissions, and I believe that there are some already in existence which might well be dispensed with.

As your servant, my greatest reward will be your confidence and respect. ALICE E. HANLEY, Medford, Or., Sept. 21, 1922.—adv.

WESTINGHOUSE GOODS BEING DEMONSTRATED

Miss Grace Bogue, a representative of the Westinghouse Electric company has spent the past three days demonstrating the use of the electric range manufactured by that concern, to Ashland people.

Miss Bogue demonstrates the use of the oven as well as the top of the range, and shows that it is much more convenient than the old fashioned wood, coal or gas range.

ILLEGAL HUNTING BRINGS FINES FOR EUGENIANS

EUGENE, Or., Sept. 22.—George Martin pleaded guilty in the Cottage Grove justice court to the charge of killing a fawn and was fined $25 and costs, according to E. S. Harwker, deputy state game warden. L. A. Houck, of Eugene, was arrested Sunday for killing a native pheasant out of season, and paid a fine of $25 in the Eugene justice court.

DEFER CELEBRATION UNTIL NEXT SPRING

It has been definitely decided to postpone the proposed Klamath river highway celebration until next spring, according to the Yreka News. This decision has been made necessary because of the inability of the contractors to complete the bridge before the time inclement weather usually sets in.

Unforeseen difficulties have been the cause of a series of delays that could not be overcome. It is probable that the bridge will be completed and that some traffic will go over the highway from Yreka to Eureka this fall, but being new road it will not be safe for heavy traffic until the dry season of another year begins.

All of the material has been hauled to the bridge and considerable steel has been placed. Work now is progressing quite satisfactorily, it is reported.

W. C. T. U. Column

United States A Prohibition Country Forever

In a letter just received by the Union Signal, the official publication of the National Woman's Christian Temperance Union, Carrie Chapman Catt, president of the International Suffrage alliance, says: "Prohibition has come to stay in the United States. The manufacturers and restorers of liquor are doing their best to discredit the law and its enforcement, but one may be completely assured that this will be a prohibition country forever. We have found that drink creates crime, poverty and insanity, and the majority of voters are convinced that it is more sensible to shut up the saloons and thus lessen the cost of jails, courts and asylums."

Other women equally interested in the welfare of young people are daily testifying to the benefits of prohibition, and leading women everywhere are showing themselves opposed to any change in the Volstead code.

Mrs. Philip North Moore, president of the National Council of Women: "There is no question in the minds of women who have thoroughly investigated the returns from the eighteenth amendment, as to its value to the world at large. We cannot believe for a moment that intelligent women of this country will vote to repeal either the amendment or the interpretation as now in force."

Ellen Pendleton, president of Wellesley college: "From all I can learn, I judge that the home life and welfare of women and children, especially among the wage-earning class, have been vastly bettered. My belief is that even with the present inefficient enforcement of the law, the situation has been vastly improved."

Josephine Corliss Preston, state superintendent of public instruction for Washington: "No other factor has done more to better conditions in homes and resulted in greater improvement in the welfare of women and children than has national prohibition. The value of national prohibition as an agent in promoting the health, prosperity and happiness of the family and society generally, cannot be estimated. It is beyond mere human calculation."

Mary Antin, author and lecturer: "The difficulties that have been encountered in enforcing the prohibition law are in my mind no argument whatever in favor of restoration of the liquor traffic. It was very difficult at one time to clear the seas of pirates, and yet that was not taken as an argument in favor of permitting piracy to endure."

Mary Trumper, state superintendent of public instruction for Montana: "My experience and observations have been that prohibition has greatly improved the conditions of home life in many families, and has greatly benefitted the welfare of women and children."

W. C. T. U. TO HOLD JOINT PICNIC AND CONVENTION

The W. C. T. U. of the county will hold a joint picnic and convention in Lithia park, Monday, September 25. The program will be as follows: 10:00 a. m.—Devotionals, Rev. C. F. Koehler. 10:30—Report of county officers. 11—Election of officers. 11:30—Address, Rev. M. C. Reed. 12, noon—Noontide prayer followed by picnic dinner. 1:00—Devotionals, Mrs. J. W. Oldfield; address of welcome, Mayor C. B. Lamkin; reading, Dr. Mattie Shaw; solo, Mrs. Henry Reed; reading, Mrs. F. H. Walker; address, Attorney C. M. Thomas of Medford; address, Attorney N. W. Borden of Medford; address, O. H. Johnson, of Ashland; address, John Rigg of Ashland, and George Alford, Song, America.

Everyone is invited to come and bring their dinner and enjoy the picnic with the W. C. T. U. ladies.

We sell Fred Rapp's watermelons at the White House grocery, 1 1/2 cents per pound. 2ct

A TRUE RAT STORY

Auburntown, 6-22-22.
 Stearns Electric Paste Co.
 Dear Sirs: Mr. Robert T. Donnell of Auburntown, came in our store the other day and wanted something to kill rats, so I sold him a box Stearns Rat Paste. And he put some paste on six biscuits that night and the next morning he found fifty-four big rats. And the second night he put out four more biscuits with paste on them, and the second morning he found seventeen more rats, making a total of seventy-one rats in two nights, and there were lots more that he did not find.

This is some big rat tale, but nevertheless, it is so. Just thought would write to let you know that your rat paste is good.

Respectfully, KENNEDY BROTHERS.

Buy a 35c Box Today
 Don't waste time trying to kill these pests with powders, liquids and other experimental preparations. Ready for Use—Better Than Traps. Free and General Stores sell STEARNS' ELECTRIC PASTE

Heating Stoves

Our assortment contains both wood and coal burners that are made to render the maximum service. They are attractive, both in looks and in price, and are sure to give satisfaction.

Drop in and let us show them to you.

SIMPSON'S HARDWARE

37-39 North Main St. Phone 203

Taste is a matter of tobacco quality

We state it as our honest belief that the tobaccos used in Chesterfield are of finer quality and hence of better taste than in any other cigarette at the price.

Liggett & Myers Tobacco Co.

"I like 'em!"

Chesterfield
 CIGARETTES
 of Turkish and Domestic tobaccos—blended

"They Satisfy"