Broadway Foresees Season of Many Revivals

Round her neck she wears a yellow ribbon.

Old Songs, Old Plays, Old Stars to Delight New York Audiences

NEW YORK CITY.—The wise acres are predicting a season of revivals for the Great White Way. Old plays are being brought out of the storeroom and dusted off for representation or for conversion into the movies.

Even old stars are reported to be grooming up the roles in which they first won popular favor. From intense modernism the tide is turning back to the old fashion. Frances Starr's new play "Shore Leave" is not a revival, but it includes a resurrection that draws applause every night from blasé Manhattan audiences.

Will Leave for O. A. C.—

H. W. Whillock, who has been connected with the Golden Rule store in this city since early in the year, will leave for Corvallis Monday where he will attend Oregon Agricultural college this year.

Will Go to Corvallis—

O. H. Barnhill will leave Sunday evening for Corvallis, where he has accepted a position as local reporter on the Gazette-Times. Mr. Barnhill has a tentative offer to go to Los Angeles as assistant editor of Orchard and Farm, which is being enlarged from a monthly to a weekly paper about November 1.

Returns from Klamath Falls—

Mrs. E. J. Teters has returned home after a week's visit with her daughter, Mrs. E. B. Kellogg, of Klamath Falls.

Will Arrive Sunday—

J. R. Norris, of Corvallis, is expected to arrive in the city Sunday for a few days' visit with friends.

Leave for Crater Lake—

Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Yarbrough, who arrived in Ashland a few days ago on their honeymoon, left this morning for a trip to Crater Lake.

Moving to Eugene—

Dr. Buchanan is moving to Eugene, one truck load of his household goods having left this morning for the university city.

Mother was very anxious to have this particular dinner a success. Therefore she was very much dismayed when at 5 o'clock she discovered that the maid had broken the gravy boat belonging to her best set of dishes.

Constitution Into Effect in 1789.

The federal Constitution was framed by the constitution convention which met in Philadelphia May 25, 1787, and adjourned September 17, 1787, and it went into effect March 4, 1789, having been ratified by eleven of the thirteen states, the others, North Carolina and Rhode Island, ratifying it November 21, 1789, and May 29, 1790, respectively.

Its Day of Glory Forgotten.

You will perhaps remember that when Dewey got through with the Spanish warships in Manila bay, about the only one left of any value was the Isla De Luzon, a small gunboat which the navy refitted and used effectively in the archipelago for some years.

TIPS TO THE RADIOIST

Dr. Marconi cites as one of the future benefits of radio the ability of a man to talk with his wife without others being able to listen in.

No better example of the versatility of radio can be cited than its use for transmitting Chinese music.

The city fathers of Newark, N. J., are framing a law to tax all possessors of radio aerials $1 a year.

It is reported from Washington that President Harding has a powerful radio set installed in the White House.

The barbers have evidently talked themselves out and are now resorting to radio so that their customers may feel at home. The wave with the shave.

proportion of the congregation indicating that they had come from a distance to attend the meetings. Quite a number are here from other states.

Another healing meeting for children is being held this afternoon. The healing meeting Sunday evening is expected to eclipse in both numbers and results all previous gatherings here.

Many sufferers could not be prayed for last evening, owing to the limitations of the evangelist's strength. He declares, however, that he will remain in Ashland as long as anyone wishes him to pray for them.

"The Fruits of the Spirit" will be the subject of tonight's discourse. The rewards of the good and the punishments of the wicked was discussed in a masterly manner last evening.

Dr. Price expressed his gratitude to the Tidings for not alluding to him as a "Miracle Man," "Divine Healer," or in similar terms. He does not claim to have the gift of healing, but only faith in the power of the Lord to do what is promised in the Holy Writ.

Mr. and Mrs. Kirkpatrick expect to leave October 3 for Los Angeles to spend the winter with their son John and his wife. The Kirkpatricks may decide to remain permanently in the California city. They have leased their house at 99 Leonard street to two railroad men, whose wives are sisters.
