To Send Out Questionnaire— Hillah temple, Mystic Shrine, will send out questionnaires to the members of the temple this week, in an effort to get an opinion as to whether or not a new temple shall be built in Ashland. This matter is being taken up at this time because of the fact that available sites are fast disappearing, and it will soon be impossible to get a desirable site at a reasonable price.

Liberty Bell is Song- Theme After 146 Years

Director of New York City's Municipal Band Writes Patriotic Song Around Historic Relic

After one hundred and forty-six years the famous liberty bell has been used by a composer as the theme for a patriotic song. Delayed recognition of the possibilities of the historic relic that heralded the news of freedom for the thirteen colonies has come from Edwin Franko Goldman, Director of the Municipal Band of New York, who has named his composition "Chimes of Liberty." The new song is to be introduced in New York schools as soon as the term opens and later will be placed in educational institutions throughout the country. "Chimes of Liberty" has been endorsed by Mayor Hylan of New York and George Garlan, Superintendent of Music of the New York schools. "My aim was to write a patriotic song with an American tune," says Mr. Goldman. "I have also tried to combine words embodying American ideals with a simple effective melody which children will find easy to sing."

LOSS OF LOCAL C. A. C. IS FACED BY ASHLAND

"Unless Ashland evinces more interest in the local company, C. A. C., there is a probability that the 484th company will be taken away and given to another town that shows more interest," declared F. J. Jirak, instruction sergeant, of Salem, who was in the city today, and who is anxious to meet all members of the local unit at drill tonight. Sergeant Jirak stated that the company formerly located at Independence had been disbanded, and re-assignment of the number made to Tillamook. He hinted that either Grants Pass or Klamath Falls were anxious to receive a unit of the coast artillery, and that unless Ashland manifested more interest and gave the local company more backing it was probable that it would lose the 484th.

Sergeant Jirak will remain in the city for a part of tomorrow, leaving for Medford, where he will visit the military organization of that city.

All helpers on the granite teams, please meet Tuesday at the city hall at 9 a. m. sharp. 1t

the fact that there is more in store from the Lord, for all who will seek. The announcements for the meetings are as follows: Regular services this evening at 7:30; a preparatory healing service at 10 o'clock both Tuesday and Wednesday morning; also the regular afternoon services at 2:30, and evening services at 7:30 both days. But no services during the day or evening, Thursday, in Ashland, that day being at Medford. The preparatory healing service and all services for the day will be held in Medford Thursday.

In commenting upon the services Sunday, Rev. C. F. Koehler, pastor of the Presbyterian church, said: "It is impossible to really estimate in money the amount of good that Dr. Price has done to this community. No man has ever come into Ashland who has done the amount of good, both spiritually and physically, as he has done. He has only been here three weeks, but he has learned to love him. I repeat, Dr. Price has made a greater impression on this community than any man who ever came here, and we have come to know his Christ better because of his ministry."

(Note.)—The Tidings is very greatly indebted to Mrs. Clara Bommar for her splendid handling of the services yesterday.

Advertisement for Cyclo motor oil. Features a large open book with testimonials from users like Raymond Wade, H.H. Hollister, and V.E. Parrish. The testimonials praise the oil's performance, such as 'Cyclo stands up under heat' and 'Engine runs cooler'. A small illustration of a motor oil can is also present.

Adding a new chapter to the book of motor experience

Hundreds have written us—telegraphed us—of amazing results with Cyclo in the motor. They tell the story of increased power and mileage, greater hill climbing ability, less engine trouble, reduced repair costs, smoother running motors. All give full credit to Cyclo for the change.

The reason for such enthusiastic tribute is plain:

Owing to the new Hexeon Process, used only by us, Cyclo is free from destructive "sulpho" compounds and other impurities. Cyclo is made from Cyclo-Napthenic base crude.

Consequently Cyclo does not break down, thin out or evaporate rapidly under engine heat. It maintains an unimpaired lubricating film between all moving parts. This film prevents metal-to-metal contact and the serious damage that follows friction wear.

Take the word of Cyclo users—give your engine a chance to develop its maximum mechanical efficiency. Flush out the crank case—not with kerosene—and refill with the correct grade of Cyclo as shown by the Cyclo Lubrication Chart.
