A Roman Woman's Headdress

THE beautiful creation of pearls above is worn by Leatrice Joy, leading woman in the Paramount Stock Company. The effect was achieved by designers of the Hollywood studios after the research department had made extensive studies of the period of about 400 A. D. during the height of the Roman Empire. The costume is one in which Miss Joy appears during the Bacchanalian revel scene which Cecil B. DeMille has made a part of his new production, "Manslaughter," from the Alice Duer Miller novel.

ceived.

The subject for the afternoon was taken from John—the well known story of Jesus and Lazarus, with Mary and Martha and their faith. The thought was that first Jesus lifted up His eyes and said, "Father, I thank Thee that Thou hast heard Me, etc." Then he cried with a loud voice, "Lazarus, come forth." That first we thank God for hearing our prayers, because they are answered through faith before they are uttered. And He cried with a loud voice, not because the Father could not hear Him, but it was with such earnestness and vehemence that all the hosts of angels might hear.

The evening service being a healing service, it was the greatest in spirit and power of the Lord yet known in Ashland. After opening with song, prayer was led by Rev. Miller of the Baptist church. "The Old Rugged Cross" was sung as a solo by Mrs. Roat, Mrs. Barnhill and Prof. Andrews, alternating the verses and joined in the chorus by the choir, at the same time all eyes being directed upon a vine-wreathed cross designed by the decorating

FILM STARS' RECIPES

LEATRICE JOY'S "GRUILLAND"
(A famous Creole dish)

LEATRICE JOY was born and raised in New Orleans. She began her career in motion pictures there before affiliating with Paramount. She is an expert on Southern cooking specialties. Here is one of her favorites.

Quarter a round steak and fry it. Slice onions, add flour and a little garlic, and fry these in a separate pan until brown. Be careful not to burn the onions. When brown, add one can of tomatoes. Take out the cooked meat, place these ingredients on it, and, putting it back in pan, allow it to simmer for one half hour. Serve with boiled rice or hominy grits.

MONTANA WORLD IN ITSELF

State Needs No Outside Aid to Support in Comfort People Within Its Borders.

If Montana were walled in and cut off from the world, she could support herself, declares the National Editors' Argus. Her half million people would lack none of the necessities, and but few of the luxuries of life.

For food, she grows all the grains, fruits and vegetables of the north temperate zone; her cattle, sheep, swine and poultry number millions; her wilds abound with game, her waters teem with fish.

For clothing, there's wool from 2,000,000 sheep, linen from 500,000 acres of flax, leather from 700,000 horse hides and pelts from 20 kinds of fur-bearing animals.

For shelter, there's lumber from 20,000,000 acres of forests, limestone and shale for cement, clay for brick and tile and granite, sandstone and marble and all necessary ores from copper and zinc for brass to iron and manganese for steel.

For fuel, her coal mines, natural gas and oil deposits are of undetermined richness; to industry her streams offer 2,749,000 horsepower for hydro-electric energy.

For luxuries, her resources range from gold, silver and sapphires, to bees for honey, sugar beets for candy, phosphate for matches or fertilizer and tungsten for incandescent lamps.

TWAIN HATED FALSE PRAISE

Great Humorist Asserted It Always Made Him Feel Both Ashamed and Humiliated.

Writing on the insincerity of people seeking favors, in a chapter of his "Autobiography" in Harper's Magazine, Mark Twain says:

"I am built as other people are built, so far as I can discover, and therefore I do prize a good hearty compliment above rubies; and am grateful for it, and as glad as you are yourself when I can in sincerity return the mate to it. But when a man goes beyond compliment, it does not give me pleasure, it makes me ashamed.

"It makes me ashamed; I am not thinking about him, I am thinking about myself; he may humiliate himself if he likes; it is his privilege, but I do not want to be humiliated. Adulation, adulation—spoken or hinted. And never earned; never due, to any human being.

"What a king must suffer! For he knows, deep down in his heart, that he is a poor, cheap, wormy thing like the rest of us, a sarcasm, the Creator's prime miscarriage in inventions, the moral inferior of all the animals, the superior of each one of them all in one gift only, and that one not up to his estimation of it—intellect."

Citadel of Quebec.

Quebec citadel is a strong fortification covering 40 acres of ground, and in its present form it dates from 1823. The more modern fortifications were constructed in 1820-30, substantially on the lines of the French works of 1620. The citadel has been garrisoned by Canadian soldiers since the withdrawal of British troops in 1871. It includes a parade and drill ground, 42 acres in extent, surrounded by barracks and magazines under the walls. Heavy cannon are mounted on the ramparts. A large stone building forms the officers' quarters, with the governor general's residence (occasionally occupied by him) at the east end, overlooking the river. A splendid vista can be seen from the king's bastion at the northeast angle of the ramparts. The west ramparts overlook the Plains of Abraham. Quebec citadel has been called the "Gibraltar of Canada."

Great Sea Fighter Indignant.

Towards the close of the war with the first French republic, when the general distress was very sharp and bread very dear—in 1800 the price of a quarter loaf in England rose to 1 shilling and 10 pence half penny—a curious fashion arose of giving dinners in which the guests were asked to bring their own bread. Nelson was invited to such a dinner, but through some oversight he had apparently not been informed of the conditions of the feast.

At all events, when Nelson found that there was no bread, he made quite a little scene, called his servant and, before the whole company, gave him a shilling and ordered him to buy a roll, saying aloud: "It is hard after fighting my country's battles I should be grudging her bread."

Why Eddies Whirl Counter-Clockwise.

A correspondent writes to Scientific American asking if it is true that all whirlwinds, tornadoes, cyclones, typhoons (movements of air), maelstroms, water leaving a washbowl, or bathtub (movements of water), unless artificially interfered with, revolve counter-clockwise. If so, what causes this revolving always in that direction?

The answer is: "The rotary motions which you describe are caused by the earth's rotation on its axis. They are counter-clockwise in the northern, and clockwise in the southern hemisphere."

A Sage's Limitations.

"Did you ever study the Darwinian theory?"
"No," replied Senator Sorghum; "I can't see how it would help me in my business. He offers no suggestions that would assist me in flattering the self-esteem of my auditors. Darwin was a smart man, but no politician."

Unusual Family Record.

A man astonished a friend a few days ago saying casually that one of his sisters was buried a hundred years ago! As his own age was sixty-five, the case needed an explanation, which he gave. The sister buried in 1819 was the first of a family of 22 children and she died in early infancy. The man was the youngest member of the family and was born in 1854, 35 years after his sister.—London Chronicle.

While but two definite parties are known from whom the accessories were stolen, it is authoritatively stated that at least 10 or 12 were taken Saturday and Sunday nights while the cars were parked on East Main street, and the owners were in attendance at the revival meetings.

How Many Will Give One Dollar?

Walter M. Pierce is making a gallant fight, almost single handed, to be elected Governor of Oregon. He has no funds to pay the expenses of his campaign.

The issue he makes is Reduced Taxes, and he promises, if elected, to use every power vested in the Governor to lessen the taxation that now rests so heavily upon the backs of the people.

No powerful corporations are behind Pierce; nobody but the plain people. His election depends upon them alone. Don't you feel it your duty to help him in his worthy fight by contributing One Dollar to his expenses? It isn't much for any one to give, but there are many plain people, and if you help a little the battle will be won. It will make a clean campaign and elect a clean man.

Please send your dollar today, together with your name and address, and the contribution will be acknowledged by return mail.
