DAYS OF DIZZINESS

Come to Hundreds of Ashland People There are days of dizziness; Spells of headache, languor, backache; Sometimes rheumatic pains; Often urinary disorders. Doan's Kidney Pills are especially for kidney ills. Endorsed in Ashland by grateful friends and neighbors. Ask your neighbor! Mrs. Jennie Hammon, 643 East Main street, Ashland, says: "I have used Doan's Kidney Pills with benefit and am glad to endorse them. My kidneys troubled me for some time and I had such severe backaches it was hard for me to keep going. I was hardly ever free from dizziness and headaches and the action of my kidneys was irregular. Doan's Kidney Pills helped me more than any other remedy I ever tried and it was not long before I was free from the backaches and other signs of kidney complaint." Price 60 cents at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Hammon had. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfrs., Buffalo, N.Y.

HAIL UNIVERSITIES AS FILM STAR INCUBATORS

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 3.—The future stars of the screen will come from the American universities.

At least such is the belief of Marshall Neelan, director-producer of motion pictures, who is planning a tour of the country to visit the leading educational institutions in a search of material. Neelan is now said to be in correspondence with the presidents of several large colleges regarding co-operation in finding screen talent.

"I firmly believe the future photoplay stars will be drawn from the American colleges," Neelan said. "More breeding, good looks and culture are found among university students than any other class."

EDUCATIONAL BILL STARTS ROW AMONG PASTORS

PORTLAND, Oct. 3.—Portland clergymen refused to declare themselves Monday morning on the compulsory education bill. Following a long and heated debate, which lasted all morning, through the lunch hour and into the afternoon, the ministers by an overwhelming majority passed a motion to table a set of resolutions introduced by Dr. Edward H. Pence, pastor of the Westminster Presbyterian church, which were aimed to back schools for religious training.

After the resolutions were passed the meeting was thrown into a turmoil on two occasions when attempts were made to reopen the discussion. The Rev. Edward H. Constant, pastor of Highland Congregational church, made the first attempt when he declared himself "disappointed with the action of the association." Dr. Constant attempted to speak in favor of the resolutions and against the proposed bill, but as soon as he started to talk the Rev. S. Earl DuBois, pastor of the United Presbyterian Church of the Stranger, rose to a point of order.

OWNERSHIP OF LAND AND AIR

Point Made by Henry George May Yet Be Made the Center of Legal Controversy.

In the course of a lecture in the hall at Aston-under-Lyne, England, the late Henry George put his audience in roars of laughter when he remarked: "The man who owns the land owns the air as well. There has been only one attempt that I have ever heard of to make air separate property. Near Strasburg, in Germany, about the Twelfth or Thirteenth century, there was a convent of monks who put up a windmill. One of the lords in the neighborhood—they would be called 'robbers' now—finding he could not get any tribute from them, set up a claim to the ownership of the air, and when they put up their windmill, said: 'All the wind in these parts belongs to me.' The monks sent in hot haste to the bishop, and told him of this claim. The bishop 'got up on his hind legs' and cursed in ecclesiastical language. He said the baron was a son of Belial; that he did not own the wind in that province; that all the wind that blew over it belonged to Mother Church; and that if the baron did not take back his demand for rent he would launch with bell, book, and candle the church of Rome. Mr. Baron backed down. But if he had owned the land he would not have needed to set up a claim to the wind. Most cannot breathe the air unless they have land to stand on."

CHOOSE THEIR OWN LEADERS

Eskimo Tribe Has Made Conspicuous Success in an Effort at Self-Government.

From Point Hope, 300 miles north of the Arctic circle, comes a remarkable story of a self-governing Eskimo community which has been successfully carried out there for the last six years. Under the tutelage of missionaries equal suffrage has been established among the Eskimos, who annually in town meeting elect from among themselves the omalik, or council of leading men, who in turn enact the local laws and see to their enforcement among the thousand natives who inhabit the region.

Originally the omalik was composed of seven men, it is recounted. But it was found later that five was a better number. From the beginning of the experiment the right of suffrage was given to men and women alike, in the selection of the council. Christmas was fixed as the day of the election because on that day all of the tribesmen come into the settlement for feasting and merry-making. The names are written on a blackboard, and the five securing the greatest number of votes are declared elected, while that one of the five who receives the greatest number of votes becomes the chief councilman.

Spiders and Music.

It has been asserted that spiders possess a sensitiveness to musical sounds. Some species seem to respond to the note of the piano, the harp, the flute, and so on, in a manner suggestive of their ability to recognize these sounds as the harmonic vibrations on which they are based. By a member of the College of France, who is said to have made a special study of the instincts and the supposed "psychism" of spiders, it is claimed that the apparent sensitiveness of these creatures to music has been misunderstood. It is his opinion that when musical instruments are played near their nests the spiders simply feel the vibrations through their webs, or otherwise, without recognizing the musical notes as sounds. The effect upon them is similar to that of the buzzing of an entrapped fly. He does not ascribe much "intelligence" to spiders.—Washington Star.

First Bible in English

The first complete version of the English Bible was that of Miles Coverdale. It appeared in 1535, and was based on the Swiss-German version published at Zurich in 1524-1529. In 1582 there had appeared a version attributed to Wycliffe, but the gospel alone can be identified as the work of Wycliffe himself.

Special Justice in Earlier Ages.

The disturbing thing is the constant discovery that earlier ages were equal to us in what we may broadly call moral progress. The minimum wage in ancient Babylon, the emphasis on justice in the Egyptian code, the same standard of personal conduct everywhere, the concern of the gods for righteousness, the full democracy of Athens and Rome, the beginning of the enfranchisement of women, the complete scheme of free education, the trade combinations. . . . It certainly looks as if we ought to be much more advanced than we are in 1922. J. McCabe in "The Evolution of Civilization."

Peacock Blue Is Color of Newest U.S. Stamp Issue

WASHINGTON, Oct. 3.—A new 11-cent stamp of peacock blue color with the portrait of Rutherford B. Hayes, will be placed on sale October 4 at Fremont, O., commemorating the 100th anniversary of the ex-president's birth, according to a statement issued by W. Irving Glover, third assistant postmaster general.

This is the first postage stamp to be placed on sale of the complete new series planned by the postoffice department. The new 5-cent Roosevelt stamp will be available, Mr. Glover stated, on October 27, the birthday of Theodore Roosevelt. One reason for the selection of Roosevelt's portrait for the 5-cent stamp was the fact that this denomination is most widely used on letters to foreign countries, where the president's fame was believed to be more universal than that of any other.

It is planned to place on sale the new 50-cent stamp with a picture of the Arlington amphitheatre and the tomb of the unknown soldier on Armistice day, November 11. In the new series, of denominations, the 13-cent stamp has been dropped and 14-cent and 25-cent stamps have been added.

U. S. COAL SHORTAGE GODSEND TO ENGLAND

LONDON, Oct. 3.—It's an ill wind that blows nobody good, and while the American coal strike may have been an ill breeze for the United States, it blew close to $15,000,000 of good American money into England.

The American coal strike was a godsend to the English miners' according to Herbert Smith, leader of the English Miners' Federation. Demands for British coal, which came as the result of the American strike, have put the coal industry of England on its feet and miners have had their first full weeks of work for more than a year. A winter that threatened the utmost poverty does not look as black now as it did during the early summer months, and the fruit branch of the Dominion department of agriculture, will be 2,537,850 barrels and 2,215,000 boxes.
