CITY FATHERS SIT FOR HOURS TUESDAY NIGHT

FLOCK OF DETAILS MAKES LONG SESSION AND PARLEYING NECESSARY

WATER SITUATION IS SUBJECT OF SPEECHES

Engineer Ordered to Proceed with Survey for Uniting Neil and Ashland Creeks; Many Requests Presented by Residents of City.

The regular meeting of the city council took place in the recorder's office at the city hall last evening, owing to the fact that the chamber of commerce had made arrangements to use the regular council chamber for the evening.

All the councilmen save Mr. Frost answered to roll call, with Mayor Lamkin and the city recorder in their usual places.

Attorney W. J. Moore appeared before the council and talked for several minutes on the water situation and urged that the supply be kept clear and free from contamination, but was unable to set forth a definite mode of procedure.

Councilman Joy followed with a talk along the same line and brought the condition which faces the Bellevue district before the council, stating that every effort should be made to get that section under the Talent irrigation district. He stated that Talent at the present time practically considered itself a part of a district, with Ashland as a center, but if the Bellevue district fails to take the water at the present time, it will lose the water for all time, as other districts towards Medford are anxious to get the water and are only waiting to get the chance to grab it, thereby leaving Ashland to hold the bag, for if the Talent irrigation district takes in land nearer Medford, the whole community will lean that way, and in time will be considered a part of the Medford community, instead of Ashland, as it should naturally be.

The failure of Bellevue to take the water would also rob Ashland of any possibility of getting any water from the district, should investigation show that this should be done for the interest of the city.

Mr. Joy stated that from 1400 to 1600 acres must be signed up in Bellevue, and that at the present time, only one-fourth of this amount has been obtained.

The engineer, who was obtained to make the survey to see if the plan to bring the Neil creek water into Ashland creek was feasible, was reported to be ready to go to work, and a motion to order him to proceed was passed.

Mayor Lamkin, in order to keep the fact before the council that he was opposed to any reservoir up the canyon, mentioned the fact that Engineer Heney had advised strongly against the city spending any money in this manner, stating that the city had more water than was actually needed now.

Several of the proprietors of the stores of the city were present and urged that the ordinance in regard to licensing retail peddlers in the city, be changed from the rate of 50 cents a day to a minimum fee of $200 a year. The matter was taken under advisement and the city attorney advised to draw an ordinance covering the matter.

Mr. Banta was present and reported that he had noted cattle belonging to Jesse Winburn grazing in a field adjacent to Ashland creek, and stated that, inasmuch as the city had an ordinance prohibiting any cattle grazing in the water shed, he believed that this should be looked into as he did not enjoy the idea of drinking water that came directly by this grazing land. The matter will be taken up with the state board of health.

A hospital bill for $96 was turned down, as the council did not have any definite information as to what it was for.

The water department was granted the right to purchase six new hydrants, and Superintendent Hosler was granted a 10 days leave of absence, "just time enough to go out and get a buck." Mr. Hosler stated, "A remonstrance was presented, signed by some 15 or 20 people in the vicinity of North Main and Coolidge street, asking that the Stand-

WAR DISPROVED PACIFIST IDEAS, SAYS PERSHING

WASHINGTON, Oct. 3.—"The world war brought home to the United States in a very striking manner, the advisability of reasonable precautions, completely vindicating the advocates of military training and preliminary organization and demonstrating beyond the question the fallacies of pacifist theories," General Pershing declared today in an address here to the Reserve Officers' association.

"These resources were forced upon us," Pershing said, "at the unnecessary cost of valuable human life and the lesson has sunk deeper in the breasts of all save those few who, having eyes, see not, and, having ears, hear not."

AMERICAN LEGION SETS ZERO HOUR IN BIG LYCEUM DRIVE

With the zero hour set at 9 o'clock Thursday morning, and the support of the Ladies' Auxiliary assured, the Ashland post of the American Legion will go over the top in a drive that will carry its representatives to every house in the city in a whirlwind campaign planned to put across the Midland Lyceum attractions for the coming season.

Committees from both the Legion and the Auxiliary met last night to complete plans and work out the final details for the drive. Team captains were appointed, and the city divided into districts, the captains being held responsible for a personal interview with each household in their sector.

"The lyceum course last year was excellent and of a nature only found in the larger cities," is the word given out by the Rev. W. Judson Oldfield. "The course this year, judging from what I have seen and heard from the advance copy, will greatly exceed the talent of the other attractions."

In its endeavor to place the coming attractions within the reach of everyone in Ashland, the Legion has set a very low price upon the season tickets, feeling it to be better to have more people present to enjoy the numbers than to charge a higher price and have fewer attend the course.

ard Oil sign on the Billings lot near that place be removed. The council ordered the sign removed.

Superintendent Fraley reported that the old grader owned by the city was broken and that it would hardly pay for repairing. The proposition of buying a new Baker grader was brought up, and Councilman Pierce offered to get the grader for the city at a good saving and at a cost of approximately $300. The matter was referred to the street committee.

Contractor Jordan's bond for the proper construction of the sidewalks and gutters recently ordered, was presented, and the contract between him and the city was read.

A bill of $210.67 for electric lights in Lithia park was turned over to the city council by the park board, asking that the council pay the same. The matter was held over until the next meeting.

A motion was made to have Superintendent of Streets Fraley scrape all the streets that needed working at this time.

Some of the larger dairymen were present and asked that the one and two cow dairymen be made to put their dairies in sanitary condition and keep them that way, as it is claimed some of them are not doing this at the present time.

East Main street citizens have asked that a street light be placed at the railroad crossing on that street, as many hoboes congregate at the crossing and the residents consider it unsafe to cross there after dark. Councilman Joy asked that two street lights be placed on the Boulevard beyond Ashland street. Both cases were referred to the light committee.

As the last order of business, the new two-speed axle was ordered purchased for the new Ford truck, and haste was made to adjourn as the hour was close to 11:30.

SEASON IS CLOSED FOR CRATER LAKE

Despite the fact that the season at Crater Lake has closed officially, cars still continue to make their appearance at the resort, and people gaze with pleasure at the beautiful scene, which, according to those familiar with the lake at all seasons, is at the height of beauty during the month of October, when the atmosphere has cleared and no smoke is on the horizon to obstruct the view.

Attendance at the lake the past season was considerably larger than ever before, according to official figures which have been compiled. Cars to the number of 5691 entered the park this year, as compared with 4915 last season, while 19,916 people have viewed this wonderful body of water in 1922, as compared with 17,096 in 1921.

The roads to the lake are reported to be in fine condition, as the rains have served to level rough places and lay the dust, making the highway as good or better than any time during the summer.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 4.—Comparing the American army to a giant insurance company, Major General Harbord, deputy chief of staff, charged that a widespread conspiracy exists to displace this "old line insurance" with a much advertised substitute called "d'sarmaniac," which is presented as a panacea for every national ailment from callouses to consumption.

"This 'fake substitute' is being pushed in the interests of firms who are rivals of ours across the distant seas, especially in the oriental trade," Harbord declared in speaking to a convention of reserve officers.

C. OF C. CONSIDERS MANY PROJECTS ASHLAND'S FUTURE

Suggestions and discussion on various propositions presented occupied an open meeting of the chamber of commerce last night. In addition a questionnaire relative to the work of the organization for the coming months, was also prepared. "The enlargement and safe-guarding of the water supply," was the reply made by C. F. Koehler in answer to the query. "What, in your opinion, is the most important matter for the chamber of commerce to devote its efforts toward accomplishing?" He was on hand to defend his proposition.

"The one great and vital interest for Ashland and the chamber of commerce, as I view it, is to promote the signing up of 1400 acres in the Bellevue district with the Talent irrigation district, without which the city cannot get the 400 acres it wishes to sign for, provided the engineer's survey and other conditions show up right," was the signed statement of C. H. Pierce regarding the query. Mr. Pierce was unable to be present, as he was needed at the meeting of the city council. C. A. Brown and A. C. Joy spoke regarding the matter presented by Mr. Pierce.

Three replies were sent by C. L. Loomis. First, the big hotel; second, more water for irrigation, and finally, a combination plant, cannery and dryer. Mr. Loomis was not able to be present, and Mr. Joy referred to the increased production which would come with the irrigation of omre land in this district, in touching upon the cannery project.

Clyde Young, representing First company, O. C. A., spoke for the organization, and believed it a vital matter for the chamber of commerce to enter into some plan for developing interest in the company, and the importance to Ashland of maintaining and upbuilding this organization. A rifle range was suggested by Mr. Young as a necessity for company efficiency, and other plans were presented. J. W. McCoy suggested that a luncheon or banquet be arranged for the men of First company, where this company's interests could be presented to the chamber of commerce and the public.

Fred Homes entered a plea for the winter fair as one of the best projects which the chamber had initiated for a long time, and urged the enthusiastic support of everybody for a bigger and better fair than ever this winter.

MORGAN GIVES FINE TALK TO CHAMBER

The address given by Major Morgan to the chamber of commerce last night was one of the best in a long time. The subject was "Citizenship," and the principal points were: First, that our government is founded on majority rule; that when the majority speaks, obedience to laws and authority must follow; that some consider themselves superior to law—here the speaker referred to disregard of speed laws, and the fact that every 30 minutes in this land some fatal accident occurs as a result of such disregard. We are the greatest law-breakers in the world today. Disregard of prohibitory laws, and other instances, were alluded to. Second, partisanship leads us to speak unjustly and unfairly many times of our public officials, because they are not our choice. We do not support them and we say mean things about them many times when they are doing their best. This is a very bad example, particularly for the hordes of foreigners who are pouring into the country to observe, and does not tend to make them law abiding citizens.

Third, failure of citizens to back up and support officers of the law in performance of their duty, frequently tends to throw them under the influence of those whose desire is to subvert and hinder the rightful working of the laws. A man or woman who disregards his political obligation, who refuses to serve on a jury, is as much a slacker as a man who will not respond to his country for military service. The speaker made many strong statements, but convincingly maintained all his points.

Nearly 100 men were pledged to campus organizations at the University of Oregon yesterday, including three from Ashland, according to word from Eugene. Though the agricultural college recently announced a large number of pledges to various fraternities, Ashland was not represented at the Corvallis institution.

The trio of pledges from here are Mings Aitken, Delta Tau Delta; Eugene Bryant, Kappa Sigma, and George Ross Jr., Phi Sigma Pi.

MOVIELAND STAR IS REPORTED TO BE FLAT BROKE

Louis B. Mayer, field producer, and Kenyon Lee, attorney, were each creditors for $3000, and the United States government is to lose to the extent of $1028.85 in income tax for money that Miss Harris believed she had when she filed her income tax return. Several amounts were owed for "merchandise." The petition had been signed "Mildred Harris Chaplin," but the "Chaplin" had been crossed out.

GIANTS TAKE FIRST GAME OF SERIES BY ONE POINT MARGIN

POLO GROUNDS, New York, Oct. 1.—Storming "Bullet" Joe Bush right off the premises under a barrage of base hits that was as vicious as it was sudden, the New York Giants came from behind with a three run rally in the eighth inning, winning 3 to 2 from the New York Yanks in the first of the world series games here today.

Successive singles by Bancroft, Groh and Frisch filled the bases, followed by "Irish" Meusel's safety over second, worked the ruin of the American league ace, and he gave way to Hoyt.

Bush confined the Giants to four hits through the first six innings, only two of John McGraw's young men getting as far as third during that interval.

In the seventh he started to sag, however. The Giants filled the bases on successive hits by Kelly, Stengel and Snyder. Earl Smith was summoned from the dugout at this juncture to bat for Neft, and he proceeded to muf a perfectly good opportunity to step into the hero's niche by hitting into a double play, ending the inning.

Bill Ryan finished the last two innings for the Giants and was a fortunate youth, indeed, that nothing unforeseen happened to him. He went as far as to fan the esteemed Mr. Ruth, but only a glittering play by Frisch saved him in the ninth.

Pipp opened the Yanks' last stand with a single to center and was dashing high, wide and handsome for second as Bob Meusel lined one towards right, but Frisch leaped far to his left, plucked the ball from the air and doubled Pipp off first.
