INSIDE STORY PERTAINING TO JESSE WINBURN

INTEREST IN COMMUNITY WAS AROUSED BY FIRST VISIT TO ASHLAND

MILLIONAIRE SPENDS THOUSANDS ON OPTIONS

Local Men Carry Out Negotiations While He Remains in the East; City Always First in His Thoughts and Actions.

Jesse Winburn's Sap- and Salt home is located in the Ashland canyon—in the Ashland watershed—and citizens are afraid his presence there will pollute the Ashland water supply. The Tidings holds no brief for Jesse Winburn. He seems able to take care of himself, but it will not be out of place here to discover, if we can, who is taking the lead against Winburn's canyon activities, what animus, if any, is behind it, and who really is responsible for Jesse being in the canyon. It is a good thing to look into the angles of a case before we take snap judgment on anybody. Let us examine a little history.

Three years ago in February, Jesse Winburn stopped in Ashland on his way to New York on an eight months' trip in the Orient. He was the guest of Irving Vining. It was his first trip to Ashland. He was a total stranger here to everyone save Mr. Vining. He became wonderfully interested in Ashland's scenic environment. He was told that Ashland had a great future if she was developed along tourist lines. He was shown the Ashland mineral springs. He was shown the Oregon hotel. He was shown Nim Long's cabin up the canyon, and told what a wonderful place it would be for a summer cabin. He liked everything that was shown him.

Returns to New York

After two weeks stay and entertainment here by his friend Vining, he returned to New York with a great idea of Ashland's big future possibility. He did not know that the Ashland canyon was Ashland's domestic watershed. He had not been here long enough to learn where Ashland got her water. He made up his mind to close out his New York interests and move to Ashland. He thought it would be a good thing to buy the Hotel Oregon (now Hotel Ashland) property and remake it into a fine tourist hotel. He thought it would be a good idea to take over the Murphy lithia spring and bottle the water and ship it out to the trade. He thought the Nim Long cabin place up the canyon would be a fine place for a summer cabin and the home of another one of his enterprises, "Sap-and-Salt-in-the-Woods."

He communicated his thoughts to Mr. Vining and asked him to come back to New York to confer with him on the subject. Mr. Vining went and stayed for a month or more and convinced him that it was the thing to do to close up his interests there and come here with these enterprises in mind, whereupon he delegated Mr. Vining to form a corporation out here for the holding of these proposed properties and authorized that organization to make the purchases and take the necessary options to carry out the object.

Mr. Vining returned and formed a corporation for the purpose, with himself as president, E. V. Carter as director and E. D. Briggs as attorney.

Hotel Deal Closed

This organization proceeded to close the deal for the hotel property, optioned the Murphy springs, bought the Nim Long place up the canyon, closed a number of other deals on option and negotiated a contract with the city for the use of the mineral waters.

All this time, Mr. Winburn was not on the ground, but was in New York—it was said, sick in a hospital—while his corporation, headed by Vining, Carter and Briggs, acted as confidential agent for him. They negotiated and closed the deal for the purchase of the Oregon hotel property, at a cost of $45,000, paying $10,000, with terms on the balance. They negotiated an option on the Murphy springs at a cost of $60,

U. OF O. JUNIORS WILL SHINE SHOES FOR SWEET CHARITY

EUGENE, Oct. 14.—"Shoe shine, mister?" That will be the call resounding over the University of Oregon campus some day shortly before Thanksgiving, when the entire junior class enters into the business now monopolized by Greeks and the colored gentlemen from the southern states.

However, let it be known that the motive impelling the corduroy painted males is no selfish one, for all receipts are to go towards providing a fine Thanksgiving dinner for the poor of Eugene and vicinity.

D. A. R. STATE REGENT IS ENTERTAINED BY ASHLAND CHAPTER

Mount Ashland chapter, D. A. R., welcomed the state regent, Miss Anne M. Lang, of The Dalles, Friday afternoon, at a special meeting at Mrs. J. P. Dodge's home on the Boulevard.

The routine business was quickly dispatched in order to give Miss Lang as much time as possible to deliver the message that she brought to the local organization.

Miss Lang is a very able officer in the position she holds, and she shows herself sincere and is devoted to the furtherance of patriotism and Americanization, two of the principal points which the D. A. R.'s stand for. Miss Lang says that in the opinion of some misguided people, the D. A. R. stands for a lot of snobs who hold regular meetings for ancestor worship, whereas, as a matter of fact, the organization is endeavoring to carry on patriotic work similar to that done by the

SEVEN PROPERTIES BID IN BY THE CITY

What is said to be an exceptional record was made this morning when the city bid in but seven properties that had become delinquent through the non-payment of taxes. All of the properties were bid in. It is stated that in a city of this size it is not uncommon to find hundreds of such properties carried on the delinquent list.

From the showing made today it is quite evident that Ashlanders so love the community that they are unwilling to lose their property, and consequently are prompt in paying their taxes.

ADDITIONAL LOCALS.

Visiting with Friends

Mrs. Jo Green and two daughters, of near Montague, are in the city visiting for a few days. The Greens have been living on the C. B. Lamkin place near Montague, but expect to move in a short time to a ranch near Etna Mills.

Engaged as Substitute

Mrs. Grace Andrews, of this city, has been engaged as substitute instructor in the Medford schools, and will answer any S. O. S. call for a teacher that may come.

Part of Manila and Its Bay Seen From the Air

This interesting photograph of Manila, P. I., was taken from an airplane and shows Manila bay, the Luneta, the Army and Navy club, the Manila hotel and war and merchant ships.

CIVIC CLUB PLANS MEETING TUESDAY

Members of the Civic Improvement club will meet Tuesday, October 17, at 2:30 o'clock in Pioneer hall for an important business meeting. The constitution and by-laws have been revised and amended, and will be discussed preparatory to voting at the following meeting. Changes in dues and the abolishment of the initiation fee are to be acted upon, while a tentative program for the year is to be outlined.

Formal opening of the club house will be held in November, and Mrs. Callahan, state president, and Mrs. Meikle, first president of the Ashland Civic club, will be present. All of the clubs in the Rogue River valley have signified their intention of being present at this time. Recent arrivals in the city are cordially invited to affiliate themselves with the organization. No meeting will be held on November 7, on account of the general election, and another day will be designated.

There are in the general federation 49,000 clubs, with a total membership of 2,077,463 women, whose energies are concentrated on the things that count most in the well-being of America.

The motto of the local organization is: "The objects are to assist in beautifying the city of Ashland, and to encourage enterprises that will better conditions, and add to the development, comfort and pleasure of the people of the said city."

QUAIL SEASON WILL OPEN HERE SUNDAY

Sunday marks the opening of the quail season in this county, and the attention of hunters is called to the following, taken from the state game laws:

"Chinese pheasants and quail—October 15 to October 31, both dates inclusive. Bag limit, five of any such birds in any one day, or 10 during seven consecutive days; provided that not more than three female pheasants may be killed in any seven consecutive days. No open season on Chinese pheasants in Josephine, Coos and Curry counties. No open season on mountain or plumed and California valley quails, except in Jackson, Josephine, Coos and Curry counties the open season being from October 15 to October 31, both dates inclusive, and bag limit 10 of such birds in seven consecutive days.

Rally Day Sunday

Tomorrow will be Rally Day at the Phoenix church. A special program has been arranged for Sunday school at 11 o'clock, with music, flag exercises, and brief talks by John Galey, of this city, and Cash Wood, of Medford. Promotion exercises will occupy the regular hour devoted to Sunday school. Sunday, October 29, will be observed as communion Sunday.

GREEKS TO QUIT THRACE SOIL BY MIDNIGHT HOUR

PROTECTION FROM THE TURKS DEMANDED FOR HARRIED CHRISTIANS

POLICY PREVENTED WAR SAYS BRITISH PREMIER

Lloyd George May Resign from the Cabinet According to Present Indications; Old Diplomacy Scored by the Speaker.

LONDON, Oct. 14.—Greece finally has signed the Near East armistice, the foreign office announced today.

Greece, however, has made a formal demand for protection for the Christian population of Thrace against the Turks.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Oct. 14.—The official evacuation of the Greeks from eastern Thrace will begin at midnight, but thousands have already left, following the signing of the armistice at Mudania. There are about 400,000 Greeks to be evacuated into Greek territory which is already filled to overflowing with penniless and starving fugitives.

LONDON, Oct. 14.—Fighting has broken out at Flume between legionnaires organized by Gabrielle D-Anunzio and regular troops supporting the administration of President Zanella, according to a Rome dispatch.

MANCHESTER, Eng., Oct. 14.—In a political speech of supreme importance, in which he claimed the British policy in the Near East prevented another world war, Lloyd George strongly indicated that he is prepared to resign immediately from the premiership.

The premier made the startling revelation that 2,000,000 Greek and Armenian Christians had been slaughtered by the Turks since 1914. He scored the "old diplomacy," which he charged brought about the most disastrous war in the world's history. Lloyd George's address was made to the Manchester Reform club whose guest he was at luncheon.

BIRTHDAY PARTY GIVEN IN HONOR OF CHARLES MOORE

A birthday party was given to Charles Moore Friday night in honor of his 20th birthday, at his home, 431 North Main street. The rooms were beautifully decorated with white dahlias and pink roses. There were 20 invited guests who were entertained by music, games and a radio program received by Charles' radio set.

Those present were: Lloyd Crowson, Marshall Barber, Joe Neil, Orville Hall, Carrol Holmes, James Hayes, Burton Moore, Dale Leslie and Charles Moore; Misses Clara Wilson, Alice Ruger, Josephine Barber, Linda Simmons, Velma Clapp, Pearl Penion, Mildred and Arlene Johnson, Alma Hays and Geneva Holmes. Refreshments consisting of sandwiches, pickles, cake and punch were served. Many beautiful and useful presents were received. All departed at a late hour, wishing Charles many more such happy birthdays.

EX-SERVICE MEN PRESENT CLAIMS

W. F. Loomis, special contact representative of the United States veterans' bureau, will be at the city hall Monday for two days, consulting and advising men having need of vocational training or hospitalization. The question of reinstating war risk insurance will also be discussed.

"Because of the fact that the veterans' bureau is but one year old, there are some things for disabled veterans of the northwest district still undone," declared Mr. Loomis upon his recent visit to Ashland.

"However, I believe it is safe to say that rapid progress is being made in developing an organization which will properly care for injured service people and rehabilitate those who are unable to take vocational education."

"The government is eager to adjudicate all claims of ex-service people as the veterans are to have their claims passed upon. An important feature of the veterans' bureau is the board of appeals, which reviews all cases brought to its attention by claimants not satisfied with decisions of the bureau's rating board."

MIDDLE WEST ELEVEN DEFEATS HARVARD TEAM

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Oct. 14.—The University of Iowa beat Yale 6 to 0 today.

GOLD HILL MAN IS WINNER IN MATCH

The wrestling match at Gold Hill last night resulted in a victory for Ralph Hand, Gold Hill contender for the mat championship, when he threw Ad Gustavo in one hour and 40 minutes. Despite the fact that the match was scheduled for two falls out of three, the time limit was up before either man had obtained the second fall.

Hand was on the defensive for the first hour and a half, as his opponent's weight was almost too much for him, but once he took the offensive, 10 minutes were sufficient to put Gustavo's shoulders flat on the mat.

The boxing bout between Johnny Carlson and Battling Ritchie, the Grants Pass glove artist, resulted in a knockout in the second round when Carlson's mitt found a vital point in Ritchie's anatomy, and he went down for the count.

Two fast boxing preliminaries preceded the main boxing event, making a good program for the evening.

POOR EQUIPMENT CHARGED AGAINST S. P. & S. RAILROAD

SALEM, Oct. 14.—The public service commission has ordered officials of the S. P. & S. railroad to appear for a hearing in Portland Monday to explain reasons for alleged defective equipment said to be in use on the railroad. The order followed a complaint the commission received from the federated shop crafts, oilers and firemen of Portland that defective equipment was endangering the lives of travelers.

Eugene—Ajax lumber mill completed and operation has started.

ROAD WORK ORDERED BY WASHINGTON JUDGE FOR ALL DRUNKARDS

WALLA WALLA, Wash., Oct. 14.—The course of the drinker was made extra hard when the city commissioners, at a special meeting, decided that men convicted in police court of drunkenness and sent to jail must work in the streets. "No work, no eats," was the order that was handed over to the police officers to enforce. As a result three men fined $100 for being intoxicated must put in 50 days at street work.

G. O. P. FOLLOWERS SHOW BIG MAJORITY IN JACKSON COUNTY

JACKSONVILLE, Oct. 14.—According to the registration books for the general election, which were closed last Saturday, October 7, there are 13,816 registered voters in Jackson county, a number equal to a presidential year. The confusion at the last primary sent many hesitant voters to the registration centers, as they did not care for the uncertainty of election day bustle, and there will be a minimum of swearing in at the general election as a result.

The books show there are 9725 republicans registered, the average of past years, but Jackson county is noted for its unwillingness to vote 'er straight. There are 4024 registered democrats, and 400 voters who do not care to state their political faith. There are 157 registered as socialists, and 120 prohibitionists.

It is figured by the county clerk that there are approximately 15,000 voters in the county.

TEACHERS HOSTS AT TEACHERS' DINNER

The teachers of Junior high entertained last night the teachers of the other Ashland schools, the members of the Ashland school board and their wives, at a chicken dinner. The 54 guests came half-way, literally as well as figuratively, to the affair, for the party was held in Phoenix at Clyde hall, the village community center building. The Ashland teachers dropping in on their way home from the closing day of institute in Medford, and the school board members and their wives drove out from Ashland.

Ladies of the Phoenix Ladies Aid society served the three-course dinner to the guests seated at tables attractively decorated with sprays of scarlet autumn leaves and gay nasturtiums. The familiar silhouette, tower, gables and all, of the Junior high building, appeared on the place-cards.

STRIKING LONGSHOREMEN HURT PORTLAND SHIPPING

PORTLAND, Oct. 14.—The shipping of Portland harbor is seriously handicapped by a strike of longshoremen, which is being engineered by the I. W. W. element.

Union officials claim 900 men are out and only about 50 working. The strike is declared to be a protest against the hiring methods of the Waterfront Employers' association.

FOUR HOBOES SENTENCED TO JACKSON COUNTY JAIL

Four hoboes were sentenced to the Jackson county jail yesterday by Judge Gowdy, two receiving 30 days each for stealing rides on passenger trains, while the other two received sentences of 15 days each for being caught for the second time on railroad property.

Ten cases were disposed of Friday, while seven were up for disposition this afternoon.

THREE DIE WHEN DREDGE IS HIT NEAR PORTLAND

"PORT OF PORTLAND" RAMMED BY STEAMER "SANTA CLARA"

BLAME MAY BE PLACED ON PILOT OF VESSEL

Waters of Willamette Close Over Wreck at an Estimated Total Loss Of $100,000; Shoes Cause Man's Death.

PORTLAND, Oct. 14.—Ben Johnson, a carpenter; Tom Campbell, a fireman, and Ben Willing, a fuel passer, were drowned, and other members of the crew of the dredge "Portland" were thrown into a near panic early today, when the dredge was rammed by the steamer "Santa Clara" and sank in the Willamette river below the Portland flouring mills.

Frank O'Conner, a mechanic, was injured, his hip being crushed. The dredge, valued at $100,000, was owned by the Port of Portland, and will be a total loss.

An early investigation indicated that the pilot of the "Santa Clara" lost control of the vessel, as the dredge was in the outside channel.

Oscar Wilson, mate on duty aboard the dredge, is believed to have aided the sinking by cutting the "Portland" loose from a sawdust barge which was tied to her starboard side. The dredge immediately tilted and soon sank, but not until she had submerged four or five times. Wilson cried for all hands to leave their rooms. Some jumped into the barge before it got too far away, while others jumped into the water and swam to the barge. About a dozen were taken off the dredge by a small boat which the "Santa Clara" put off.

Campbell lost his life because he returned to his room for his shoes.

CHAMBER OF COM. PLANS BIG DINNER NEXT WEEK

Arrangements are being made by the Chamber of Commerce for a dinner to be given during the coming week for the farmers, merchants and any others who are interested in the question of irrigation, especially pertaining to the territory adjacent to Ashland, according to J. H. Fuller, secretary.

The following committee has been named to assist the secretary in the details concerning the dinner and the program: J. W. McCoy, V. O. N. Smith, Louis Dodge, C. H. Pierce and Homer Billings. Further announcements will be made relative to the date and place of gathering.

BROADCASTING PROGRAM BY ASHLAND VIOLINIST

Leonard Pettit, local violin artist, will furnish the program at the KFAY broadcasting station at the Jackson county fairgrounds, next Monday night. The following program has been arranged for the evening: Gypsy Serenade . . . Valdez Prize Song . . . Wagner Love Song . . . E. Nevin Viennese Melody . . . Gaertner-Kreiser Cradle Song . . . Schubert-Elman Indian Love . . . Thurlow-Lieurance The Old Refrain . . . Fritz Kreisler The Walnut Tree . . . Schumann-Aner Rondio . . . Fritz Kreisler

Mrs. J. Kenneth McWilliams will act as piano accompanist.

In addition, the usual commercial news of the week will be broadcast in the course of the evening.

RECEIVE RADIO MUSIC AT AUTOMOTIVE SHOP

J. S. Jordan set up his radio receiving set in the Automotive shop, last night and was successful in listening in on nine different stations before the KFAY station at the fairgrounds opened up for the evening. The music was very good with the exception of the cornet quartet, which seemed to be off quality for the evening.

Announcement was made of a special concert program to be given Sunday evening between 8:30 and 9:30 o'clock, from KFAY, in addition to the regular programs of Monday, Wednesday and Friday nights.

A want ad will sell it.
