CAR WASHING IS IMPORTANT TASK

Mud Should Never Be Allowed to Remain Over Night as It Is Injurious to Varnish.

USE PLAIN EVERY-DAY WATER

Guard Against Excessive Use of Soap and Let Hood Alone Until It Has Cooled—Go Over Entire Body With Hose and Sponge.

There is a proper time to wash an automobile and the work should be thoroughly done. If mud is allowed to dry on the car it is harder to get off and stains the varnish. Mud should never be permitted to remain on a car any longer than absolutely necessary, by any means not over night. All mud contains alkali, and in some parts of the country is almost clear alkali. Alkali has the same relation to varnish as muriatic or nitric acid has to steel. The antidote is water; isn't it simple, plain every-day water right out the tap.

If one expects to keep a fine car looking fine he must be willing to flush off the mud at night no matter how late it is; the work need not take more than half an hour and the work can be done thoroughly in the morning. The chief faults to guard against are the excessive use of soap, using water with too much force, and washing the hood before it is cooled.

In the old days no coachman would permit a fine carriage to go unwashed no matter how late he came into the stable at night. You must treat an automobile the same way if you reach the same standard that the old-fashioned coachman reached.

Soap Injures Varnish. There are two things that should be remembered. First, that soap, glycoline, or anything like them intended to cut grease, will attack varnish if allowed to stand on the car, because oil is an important part of varnish. Second, hot water takes the lustre from varnish.

First of all a car should not be washed out in the sun, because the sun will dry off the water too quickly, leaving water marks; choose a shady place with plenty of light.

Dissolve a little good soap in a pail of water so as to make a soap solution. Have a soft carriage sponge ready. Start with the right hand front wheel and the under side of the fender and that part of the chassis nearby. Let the water flow from the hose in a gentle stream so that it will carry about six inches from the end of the hose. Go over the wheels, etc., first with water from a hose. Most of the mud will come off. There may be road oil or machine oil, which requires soap. In that case put some of the soapy water on these parts, sopping it on freely.

After that has been done start right in with a hose and sponge and wash off. Don't let the soapy water stand more than five minutes on the varnish. Now wash off thoroughly with clean water because all of the mud and grease should have come off by this time. Leave it alone to dry. That completes the right-hand front part of the chassis, and the same work should be done on the three other wheels and adjacent parts. That completes the work on the chassis.

Use Hose and Sponge.

Take another clean sponge and with the water still flowing gently from the hose start at the left-hand front of the body and flow all the dust off. There will be no need for soap because machine oil or road oil is never scattered on the body. After flowing the water on, then go over the entire body again with a hose and a wet sponge and wash it. Go entirely around the car, including the top of the fender to the left side, but don't wet the hood, it may still be warm.

Now all the dirt has been flowed off and the sponge should be squeezed as dry as possible and all the water remaining on mouldings or in crevices should be picked up.

After all that is done, wash the hood and the top of the radiator. There may be some spatters of machine oil on the hood and if there are use a little soap locally, washing it off soon after it is put on. In any case, don't let the water stand more than five minutes on the hood because it has become heated by the engine and the lustre will be damaged.

AUTO WITH AIRPLANE PROPELLER

The weird car shown in the illustration, the "Eolia," was invented and made in Paris and now is startling the staid and stolid inhabitants of London as it runs through the streets of the big metropolis. The eight-horsepower engine is geared to a small airplane propeller revolving within a circular guard, while the body has a long taper to avoid "drift."

Read your home-town paper. A want ad will sell it.

You Auto Know

That a simple test of whether the carburetor is properly adjusted is to run for a short distance—say a quarter of a mile—with the throttle practically closed. Then, picking a space where the roadway is clear, step sharply upon the accelerator, thus opening the throttle wide.

If the car speeds up smoothly and rapidly, there is nothing wrong with the carburetor. But if the pick-up is slow, this is an indication that the mixture of gasoline and air is too rich. If the engine splutters, spits and back-fires, the mixture is too lean—a condition which can be temporarily remedied by the use of the "choke" or priming lever on the dashboard. In either case, it is advisable to have the carburetor adjusted as soon as possible, for, until this is done, the car will not develop the power which it should. This adjustment, however, should be handled by an expert, for "monkeying with the carburetor" has probably been the cause of more engine trouble than any other single piece of amateur experimenting.

The object is to provide a system which insures a proper distribution and application of lubricant to the various elements such as the chassis, springs, steering mechanism, and other mechanism and elements thereof, and is especially adapted to utilize the forces presented by the exhaust of the power plant of the vehicle.

AUTOMOBILE GOSSIP

Keep the engine clean.

Flush the radiator occasionally.

Drain the vacuum tank of impurities.

Grease the wheel bearings at intervals.

Extra tires not in use on the car should be stored in a cool, dark, dry place.

Make sure the Jack is secure and in working order before attempting to take off a wheel.

Keep a careful record of the number of miles run, and compare it with the records of each month past for gasoline and tires.

Don't carry spare tubes loosely in the tool box or under the seat; keep them in the special tube bags or wrap them carefully in soft cloth.

When a spotlight is used on the windshield post of a car, its rays should be focused to strike the road immediately in front of the right hand fender.

When working around the engine care should be exercised in the use of the machinist's hammer, which forms a part of the tool equipment of every automobile.

A driver of an automobile should never pass a vehicle proceeding in the same direction unless the road ahead on the left-hand side is clear for at least 100 yards.

Pressure On Lungs Caused By Gas

Often a dull, full feeling in chest is caused by gas from undigested food pressing upwards towards the lungs. Sometimes gas presses on heart and is mistaken for heart trouble. Simple buckthorn bark, glycerine, etc., as mixed in Adlerika, expels gas and stops pressure almost INSTANTLY in many cases. Removes surprising matter from BOTH upper and lower bowel, which formed gas and poisoned stomach. Adlerika is EXCELLENT to guard against appendicitis. T. K. Bolton, Druggist.

Highway Is Favored

By an unanimous vote Wednesday noon, the Medford chamber of commerce went on record as being back of the passage of the proposed bond issue of $100,000 for the completion of the Klamath Falls-Ashland highway and the construction of a new bridge over the Rogue river at Gold Hill, according to J. H. Fuller, secretary of the local chamber of commerce, who was present and who spoke at the Medford meeting. The talks in general, including that of Judge George A. Gardner, who spoke in Ashland recently on the same question, were all in favor of the highway, and the marketing situation was specially stressed.

Fusion Is Improving

Word from Medford today states that Tom Fuson, who was thought to have been seriously injured when his head connected with a stone wall after being knocked down by Karl Knapp Tuesday, is reported to be improving. It has been found his skull was not fractured, as was first thought to be the case. It is thought that Knapp's trial would be delayed until Fuson is able to appear. Knapp denies the report that he struck Fuson from behind.
