Hon. Walter M. Pierce

Candidate for Governor of Oregon will deliver an address on the issues of the campaign.

Walter M. Pierce is a fluent public speaker, who talks openly and plainly to the people. What he will have to say to the citizens of Ashland about the campaign will be highly interesting. No one should miss this chance to hear Mr. Pierce talk, because when he talks, he says something.

Come out and hear this man Pierce! His message will be addressed to every man, woman and child in Ashland. He should be greeted by a very large audience.

If the party who borrowed my Eversharp pencil and failed to return it, will call I'll furnish him some extra leads.—Billings. 49-1

Leave for Final Hunt —
Progress of a party of three hunters can be estimated by watching for their return. The men left today for points beyond the head of Neil creek for a final deer hunt. Should the party fail to get their buck soon, they will remain in the hills until the final day of the season, October 31. An earlier return will mean a successful venture. Those who left in the party are A. C. Nininger, Cliff Jenkins and Ben Bowers.

THE BAZAAR has just purchased a large stock of toys at about 25 cents on the dollar, the display of which makes the store a veritable Child's Paradise. Toy dishes, children's tables, chairs, rockers, bugles, dolls, mechanical toys, drums, etc., all go at a fraction of their original cost. Do your Christmas shopping now and save considerable. One's Deeds Indestructible.
Our deeds are like children that are born to us; they live and act apart from us. Nay, children may be strangled, but deeds never; they have an indestructible life both in and out of our consciousness.—George Eliot.

The Unusual.

Terrific mob on the street the other day. First a cop tried to hold 'em in. He rapped for help and the sergeant brought out a platoon.

Some mob! Two women fainted, boy broke leg, man lost his hat, clothes torn. No such excitement seen in 10 or 20 years. Terrific.

Finally the police got the cause of it separated from the tangle and took her to the station, where she was fined $10 and costs for disturbing the peace. "And the next time you go on the street," said the judge, "see that your face is pointed, eyebrows penciled, skirts are short, hair false and everything un'stand? It's all right for you to be old-fashioned, but the public safety demands that you look like the rest of 'em or stay home!"—Richmond Times-Dispatch.

Oregon's World Champion Jersey

Mrs. Sam J. McKee of Independence, Ore., is holding Lad's Iota, the champion Jersey cow of the world. Oregon has long held most of the Jersey honors. A few years ago Vive La France was world's champion, and she lived at Marion, Ore. Then some Maine cow managed to squeeze out a few more pounds of butterfat. But Lad's Iota promptly came to the front with a production of 1048.97 pounds of butterfat in 18,832 pounds of milk in a year and brought back the Jersey crown to Oregon. This wonderful cow is expected to be at the Pacific International Live Stock Exposition, at Portland, Ore., November 4-11.

Brazil's Great Water Power.
The potential energy of falling water of the streams in Brazil is estimated to be about three and a quarter times that of Niagara falls.

Splendid Code for Humanity.
What's brave, what's noble, let's do it after the high Roman fashion, and make death proud to take us.—Shakespeare.
