National Fruit Cleaning Machine—

The National Fruit Cleaning company is putting on the market, a late model fruit cleaning machine, which cleans the apple of spray and dirt but does not bruise it, as has been demonstrated from last year's crop. There were 20 machines used in Hood River valley during the packing season last year and proved very satisfactory, even though they are of the old model. A small amount of fruit is still in some of the warehouses in perfect condition for so long a time, thereby proving to the most skeptical that it does not bruise the fruit or remove the wax or paraffin so necessary to the proper keeping of the apple or other fruit. The fruit is carried by a padded belt between three adjustable spiral brushes revolving in opposite directions, causing the fruit to rotate rapidly while being carried along and brushed. The capacity is 1200 boxes per day and can be increased by increasing the speed slightly. Further information can be had by addressing Miss Elizabeth Reuter, Jacksonville, Oregon. 30-fr-m

Receives Fine Jersey —

R. D. Sanford, of 399 Beach street, received by express from Oregon City, a richly bred registered three year old Jersey cow, which he thinks is part cream, and he figures he can sell her calves as soon as dropped for enough to pay the cow's feed for a year, and have her milk clear for caring for her, besides her fertilizer for the garden is worth $50, while a grade calf is not worth its keep in the city.

EXTEND WELCOME TO DOGS

Animals Admitted Anywhere on the Continent of Europe, if Proper Payment is Made.

In Venice a dog can go anywhere with his master, even to the hotel table, where, if he is paid for at the same rate as his master, he may take his food. If he accompanies the boss on one of the noisy steamers that destroy the poetry of the Grand canal he must be paid for exactly as if he were a human being.

All over the continent of Europe the rights of people with dogs are recognized—at a price. One can take a dog into any compartment of a train, including the wagon-lit, but first it is necessary to buy a third-class ticket for him. In Italy he travels a little more cheaply. There, when one is getting his baggage weighed (and paying for the billed) one buys another for the dog, which costs one-half of third-class rate. Provided with this ticket the dog is admitted to wherever his master goes.

"Fish's "Smoke Screen."

The aristocrat, a deep-sea prawn, has a method of lighting that gives the appearance of a multitude of smoke rings. When excited by the nearness of an enemy the prawn ejects respiratory water in tiny squirts and into this stream the luciferin is forced from countless glands opening into the stream by fine ducts. As the chemicals combine, puffy clouds of luminescent particles float in the sea. This is the "smoke screen" provided by nature. The species of luminous fish, called "photoblephron," has a dimmer system in an inside chamber and burns continuously. When the fish wishes to shut off the light, he causes a black pigmented curtain to slide down over the light cell opening like an eyelid. The light organ preserves its luminescence even when removed and is used by fishermen of the islands of Banda, about 800 miles southeast of the Philippines, as bait for night fishing.

Omens Seen in Lightning.

In a book published in England in 1602 it said that "the Thracians when it thunders take their bows and arrows and shoot up to the clouds against the thunder, imagining by their shooting to drive the thunders away. Cabrias, the general of Athens, being ready to strike a battle at sea, it suddenly lightened, which so frightened the soldiers that they were unwilling to fight, until Cabrias said: 'Now is the time to fight, when Jupiter himself, with his lightning, doth show that he is ready to go before us.' So Epaminondas, at his going to battle, it suddenly lightened that it so amazed his soldiers, when Epaminondas comforted them and said: 'Lumen hoc nunciat ostendunt—By these lightnings the gods show us that we shall have victories.'

Various Burial Customs.

The practice of carrying a corpse out feet first may be derived from the idea that if he were living, he would leave the house feet first. A coffin of a layman if taken into a church is placed in the middle of the nave, the feet to the East or sanctuary, but if the body be that of a cleric, the head is put to the sanctuary.

It is the practice in Great Britain to place the bodies of soldiers in their coffins with their feet going in the direction that the caisson is to travel. In countries where shoes are worn, the deceased is shod, for he has a long journey to take. This, therefore, points to a reason for carrying out the dead feet first—they are traveling on their last journey.—Literary Digest.

Barbarous Treatment of Prisoners. Formerly, all prisoners were "ironed" even in their cells, and the irons used were of enormous weight. Up to the eighteenth century great weights like round shot were attached to the legs, so that the wearer could not walk unless he picked up the weights and carried them.

WINBURN IS FETED AT BIG BANQUET IN CIVIC BLDG.

ford would be more than glad to build a canyon down the center of the city, if that would be any inducement to Mr. Winburn to move to that city.

H. G. Enders Sr. spoke a few appropriate words, while John Dill, who was introduced by the toastmaster as a man having "water on the brain," remarked:

"My whole desire for more water is wholly to enable the people of the community to make an easier living. Whatever comes to Ashland also comes to southern Oregon."

During the banquet, a quartet, composed of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Dickey, Irving Porter and Frank Jordan, played. A particularly harmonious musical effect was obtained by the combination of two accordions and the two saxophones. Mrs. Dickey also played an accordion solo.

As a special musical number, a male quartet, consisting of Victor Peiffer, Elwin Freeman, Donald Snyder and John Galey. Robert Fegar accompanied the quartet. The boys sang a song composed for the occasion, inspired by the generosity of Jesse Winburn and sung to the tune of "Solomon Levi," as follows: "His name is Jesse Winburn, He lives at Sap and Salt, He is the man we love the best, With him we find no fault, We do appreciate his deeds And everything else he's done; And all the boys are with us In giving a glad hurrah."

Several other similar songs were also rendered by the quartet. Many prominent and attractive young ladies of the city served the diners. These were Beth and Joyce Johnson, Elbert Greer, Ethel and Edith Hazen, Emily Wentner, Genevieve Swedenburg, Josephine Barber and Alice Ruger.

JUDGE CALKINS WILL SUPPORT KELLY The Independent American Voters League is composed of men and women, some of whom are lifelong Republicans and Democrats. They have realized that one of the most important issues in this campaign is the election of a Circuit Judge. They feel that the Judge of the Circuit Court and those lawyers practicing in that Court are qualified to know who should be elected Judge in this campaign. There is certainly no cleaner, abler, better Judge than Judge Calkins. This League is in receipt of his written statement to you as to his position upon this matter and it is also in possession of the indorsement of the majority of the Bar of both Jackson and Josephine Counties. It therefore submits to you these two separate indorsements as follows: "FRANK M. CALKINS "Circuit Judge "Medford, Oregon, October 30, 1922. "To the Voters: "In response to the request of a majority of the practicing attorneys of this district that I state my views, will say that, in accord with my best judgment, I intend to vote for E. E. Kelly for Circuit Judge. "F. M. CALKINS." "As lawyers practicing at the Jackson and Josephine County Bar, we indorse E. E. Kelly for Circuit Judge, having the utmost confidence in his honesty, integrity, ability and fitness. We believe the office should be non-partisan, and we urge those having confidence in our judgment on this question to do what they can in his behalf. Jackson County "PORTER J. NEFF. "MAHLON PURDIN. "GUS NEWBURY. "A. E. REAMES. "F. J. NEWMAN. "N. DICKEY. "WM. M. COLVIG. "LINCOLN McCORMACK "B. F. LINDAS. "G. M. ROBERTS. "DON R. NEBURY. "CHAS. W. REAMES. "RAWLES MOORE. Josephine County "NIEL R. ALLEN. "JAMES T. CHINNOCK. "H. D. NORTON. "O. S. BLANCHARD. "C. A. SIDLER. "J. N. JOHNSTON. "G. W. COLVIG. "GEORGE H. DURHAM. "EDWARD VAN DYKE. "A. C. HOUGH." "C. E. RUSK. It likewise urges upon you the necessity of electing Alice E. Hanley as Representative instead of Ralph Cowgill. Miss Hanley is a farmer, has during all of her life made a business success of her farm, is determined to do what she can on the side of economy and to lower taxes, and to uphold constitutional government. We submit that she is entitled to your enthusiastic support. This League likewise has indorsed George W. Dunn for State Senator, because of his worth and sterling qualities and his superior qualifications over those of his opponent. And this League has likewise indorsed Governor Olcott for re-election. And the League pledges the voters that in its councils made up of all parties it has carefully considered the making of these recommendations, and it asks the support of the public without regard to politics. And it asks this in the name of clean, respectable and effective government and administration of all laws. Respectfully submitted, INDEPENDENT AMERICAN VOTERS LEAGUE. (Paid Advertisement)
