

ASHLAND DAILY TIDINGS

(International News Wire Service)

VOLUME 4 (Successor to the Semi-Weekly Tidings, Vol. 43)

ASHLAND, OREGON, MONDAY, NOVEMBER 6, 1922

No. 56.

VOTERS URGED TO COMPLY WITH THE STATE LAW

CAMPAIGNING MUST CEASE AT 12 O'CLOCK (MIDNIGHT) MONDAY

TIDINGS COMPLETES LIST POLLS AND BOUNDARIES

Franchise Holders Have No Plea of Ignorance of Position of Ballot Boxes to Offer; Boxes Placed by Grainger Today.

Voters and supporters of various candidates and offices are cautioned against violating the Oregon Corrupt Practices act, which states that no banners may be displayed nor any meetings held after midnight of the day preceding election. Hence all shouting and boosting of favorites must be completed by 12 o'clock p. m. this evening.

Another point upon which a large portion of the populace is ignorant is that of soliciting rides to the polls. Voters have the right to ask a friend for a ride in his machine, but the man with an automobile is not permitted under the law to seek passengers for the purpose of taking them to the ballot boxes.

Voting booths were distributed and set up at the various polling places today by G. M. Grainger, local election sheriff. Ignorance of position of boxes will be no excuse for staying at home, for following are the precinct boundary lines and the voting places in each precinct:

Northwest Ashland

Beginning at the corner of North Main and Bush streets, running west in Bush street to Scenic drive, thence northwest on Scenic drive to section line dividing sections 5 and 8, thence west to west city limits, thence north to north city limits, thence east on north city limit to North Main street, thence south on North Main street to place of beginning. Voting place at Junior high school.

West Central Ashland

Beginning at the corner of Bush and North Main streets, running west on Bush street to Scenic drive, thence northwest on Scenic drive to section line dividing sections 5 and 8, thence west to west city limits, thence south on city limits to south city limits, thence east on south city limits to Granite street, thence north on Granite street to North Main street, thence north on North Main street to place of beginning. Voting place at McCarthy building, corner of Main and Granite streets.

East Central Ashland

Beginning at the corner of Granite and North Main streets, south on Granite street to south city limits, thence east on south city limits to a point directly south of the corner of Ashland and Euclid streets, thence north to said corner of Ashland and Euclid streets, thence west on Ashland street to Guthrie street, thence north on Guthrie and Gresham streets to East Main street, thence west on East and North Main streets to place of beginning. Voting place, council chamber at the city hall.

Boulevard

Beginning at the corner of Gresham and East Main streets, running south on Gresham and Guthrie streets to Ashland street, thence east on Ashland street to the corner of Euclid avenue, thence south to the city limits, thence east on the city limits to Elkader street, thence north on Elkader street to Prospect street, thence west to Mountain avenue, thence north on Mountain avenue to the Boulevard, thence west on the Boulevard to place of beginning. Voting place, basement of library.

South East Ashland

Beginning at the corner of the Boulevard and East Main street, running east on Boulevard to Mountain avenue, thence south on Mountain avenue and Elkader street to south city limits, thence east on south city limits to east city limits, thence north on east city limits to East Main street, thence west on East main street to place of beginning. Voting place, 303 Avery street.

North Ashland

Beginning at the intersection of North Main street and the north city limits, running east on north city limits to Ashland creek, thence south

BOOTH ADVOCATES PASSAGE $100,000 ROAD BOND ISSUE

Hon. R. A. Booth, of Eugene, member of the state highway commission, addressed a gathering at the Lyric theatre Saturday night on the issues of the election of November 7.

"Taxation is a legislative function and not executive," he declared. Mr. Booth then proceeded to tell how Walter M. Pierce, in his opinion, had neglected to follow out his policy of tax reduction while a member of the legislature.

It was also stated that in the state service a majority of automobiles were Fords, 30 of which were gifts of the federal government, also 451 trucks and much other equipment received without any charge from the government. Nearly 200 of these trucks have been passed on to counties without profit, while 250 are in use by the state on road work.

Mr. Booth urged that the people of Jackson county vote the $100,000 bond issue to complete the Ashland-Klamath Falls highway, and to build the bridge at Gold Hill, as this matching of federal funds would aid in getting the Crater Lake highway and other projects that will serve to complete a better outlet for local products.

G. F. Billings presided at the meeting, and George Dunn, republican nominee for state senator, was called upon for a few remarks. During his stay in the city, Mr. Booth was entertained by E. V. Carter, with whom he has associated for a great many years.

CARSON-FOWLER CO. VISITED BY THIEVES

For the second time in the past week a business firm reports thieves anxious to see the inside of a safe.

During the week-end, the safe at the Carson-Fowler Lumber company was forced, though the burglars received nothing for their work. The combination to the safe was hung accommodatingly upon the knob, though the inside doors were jimmied.

Warnings were given to all the merchants by J. W. Hatcher, chief of police, this morning. He believes the work to be that of the same gang that recently removed $288 from the safe of the Ashland Lumber company's office.

WEATHER OUTLOOK FOR WEEK

WASHINGTON, Nov. 6.—Weather probabilities for the period November 6 to November 11, inclusive, are forecast as follows:

Pacific Coast States—Generally fair, except occasional rain in Washington and Oregon. Temperature normal on coast, and somewhat below normal in the interior.

Northern Rocky Mountain and Plateau Regions—Generally fair and cool.

on Ashland creek to railroad tracks, thence south on Water street to North Main street, thence north on North Main street to place of beginning. Voting place, Presbyterian church.

Oak Street

Beginning at the corner of Water and North Main streets, running north on Water street to the railroad tracks, thence east on railroad right of way to intersection of Fourth street, thence south on Fourth street to East Main street, thence west on East and North Main streets to place of beginning. Voting place, next door to Whittle Transfer office.

East Ashland

Beginning at the intersection of the railroad and Ashland creek, running north in Ashland creek to the north city limits, thence east on north city limits to the east city limits, thence south on east city limits to the intersection of the railroad and East Main street, thence west on East Main street to Fourth street, thence north on Fourth street to the railroad right of way, thence west along the railroad right of way to the place of beginning. Voting place, old fire station on Fourth street.

Triplets Still in Action

Pulpit Politics

(Editorial)

Rev. Lawrence of the Medford Presbyterian church filled the pulpit of Rev. Koehler last night. He preached a great sermon. The only jar in the service was when, through the influence of Deacon Lamkin, he announced the political parade that the Lamkin faction was to pull off today. Then the congregation went up in the air. The lengths to which that man will go in using his church, the W. C. T. U. and everything and everybody else to pull his political chestnuts out of the fire exemplifies the acme of gall.

No doubt he tackled Rev. Koehler to make the announcement in the morning, but Koehler, rather wishing to be used of the Lord than an astute politician, did not dirty his hands in the mess. He was silent on the subject. But when the stranger, the Medford minister, showed up, it was Lamkin's opportunity, and he quickly availed himself of the chance to use the lack of knowledge of the stranger on local situations to play a political coup. Dirty, dirty, dirty.

Rev. Koehler, lately, is trying to introduce the spirit of the Lord into his church, instead of that of dirty politics, and he should have the support of all true Christians in the effort. We think a large majority of the Presbyterian congregation are with Rev. Koehler in his honest and sincere effort and will resent the attempt of Lamkin to neutralize the influence.

ASHLAND NEWS IN PARAGRAPH

Medford Residence Robbed

While Mrs. William Offutt, of Medford, was visiting friends in this city the latter part of the week, and her husband was at work in his machine shop, thieves entered their residence and made way with a large number of valuable articles of wearing apparel, including several pairs of shoes, two of Mr. Offutt's suits of clothes, Navajo blankets, an overcoat, raincoat and hat. The loot is valued at between $500 and $600.

Medford Swamps Roseburg

One of the largest football scores made in southern Oregon was chalked up by Medford Saturday afternoon, when it defeated the Roseburg high school by a score of 101 to 0. Though the visiting team was slightly outweighed and fought hard, they were unable to fathom the brand of ball offered by Coach Eddie Durno's aggregation. The second team was used, but they were as successful in keeping the adding machine working as were the first string men.

Thomas Parade Staged

Campaigning in the interest of C. M. Thomas, a great many cars from the Talent district were in the city this morning with noise and banners. Signs displayed indicated that the alert community were back of Thomas for circuit judge. Horns, sirens and megaphones enlightened people along the route of the purpose of the parade, providing they were not deaf and could read the banners.

LAST MINUTE BUNK

It is a safe guess that literature distributed during the night before an election carries statements that will not bear the scrutiny of light. Otherwise why wait until the last minute to answer it? We are told that Briggs, Lamkin & Company has prepared a kind of newspaper, to be circulated tonight, after there is no chance for the Loomis side to answer it, and readers receiving it can rest assured that statements therein will not stand the light of investigation or they would have been circulated earlier. Don't dote on last minute bunk.

WIFE MURDER TRIED AT JACKSONVILLE

MEDFORD, Nov. 6.—Melvin Horn of Jacksonville yesterday shot and dangerously wounded his wife, from whom he had separated, and then killed himself at Mrs. Horn's home. He leaves four children.

Political Parade Lively

Saturday afternoon, a parade, sponsored by backers of the Loomis ticket, held a parade from Charlie Loomis' store, down Main street and back over Mechanic, ending up with a trip back Main street and Third and Fourth streets. The procession was headed by the band, followed by a large number of cars displaying prominent banners. Another parade, sponsored by the supporters of Dr. W. E. Blake, headed by the band, was held this afternoon.

Embroidery Club Meets

The Friday Afternoon Embroidery club met at the home of Mrs. Earl Hosler on Helman street last week. The afternoon was spent in various needle work, after which dainty refreshments were served. Those present were: Mesdames H. C. Emery, Guy Jacobs, J. R. Lilly, Mark Smith, J. C. Poor, Frank Nelson, O. W. Long, Walter Frulan, Roy Hale, M. J. Love, M. Dyrud, C. A. Cotter, and the hostess. The club will be entertained next Friday by Mrs. J. C. Poor, 187 Sherman street.

Baby Boy Arrives

Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Wilhite are the proud parents of a fine baby boy which arrived at their home late Saturday evening.

Modern Woodmen Meeting

Camp 6565 meets Wednesday evening, in regular session, November 8. Will decide whether to meet hereafter second and fourth Tuesdays or second and fourth Wednesdays, each month, Moose hall. F. L. NUTTER, Consul.

BAPTIST CHURCH IS NICELY DECORATED AT SUNDAY SERVICE

The Baptist church presented a gala appearance Saturday night and Sunday, with a color scheme of yellow and green, which harmonized perfectly with the interior decorations of the building, exquisite yellow chrysanthemums with ferns and fir boughs, under the hands and direction of Mesdames Merrill and Oxford who showed their artistic skill and ability in the arrangement of flowers. Saturday night was the last night of the appearance of Miss Carvell at the tarrying meetings, where she has been a faithful worker for the last four weeks.

The meeting Saturday night was the best and most impressive evening of the four weeks' campaign. Miss Carvell left on train 15 at midnight for her home in Yreka. She expects to stop off here Friday night of this week, on her way to Albany, where she is going to assist Dr. Price in meetings to begin next week.

Russel Rothberg stopped yesterday between trains on his way to Albany, where he is going as advance agent of the meetings. Russell will be remembered as Dr. Price's secretary, and accordingly received a welcome in Ashland.

The tarry meetings will continue at the Baptist church on Monday, Wednesday and Friday nights; and there will be a Bible study on Thursday night of this week. All of the public are welcome to attend these meetings.

ASHLAND SMOTHERS G.P.H.S., SCORE 91-7

The superiority of the Ashland football machine over that of Grants Pass was clearly shown Saturday, when the red and white returned to the city carrying the large end of a 91 to 7 score. Though the boys left possessed with confidence they would win the game, the completeness with which this was accomplished came as a surprise.

One of the spectacular incidents of the contest was an 80 yard run for a touchdown by Beeson who found himself in possession of the pigskin and a clear field ahead. He made the most of his opportunity.

Four more days yet intervene before the supreme struggle of the season, when Ashland and Medford high school will meet in Medford on Armistice day. Supporters of both teams will be out en masse, and nearly as much interest is being evinced in the coming game as is in the Willamette valley during the intercollegiate contests.

WAR VETERAN WILL TALK ON STRUGGLE

Colonel Dan Morgan Smith, leader of the "Battalion of Death," will speak at the First Presbyterian church Thursday evening, 7:30 o'clock, on "The World's War and the Fields of France," under the auspices of the World League Against Alcoholism.

During the war, Colonel Smith commanded the first battalion of the 35th infantry, of the 90th division, troops drafted into the service from Oklahoma and Texas. He and his command, numbering 1120 men, entered the St. Mihiel drive, where they were surrounded on three sides, finally fighting their way out with a remnant of the unit, 327 men surviving.

Colonel Smith does not confine himself to the war, but also deals with after the war conditions and the need of a revival of that idealism which enabled America to do its share in bringing about world peace. He was a federal attorney before the war and is an interesting talker.

Visits in Ashland—M. Dubell, of Canyonville, Or., visited with his aunt, Mrs. F. C. Wing, of this city, last week. Mr. Dubell is a prominent fruit raiser in the Umpqua valley.

A want ad will sell it.

It pays to read the classified page.

WILL POWER AIDS ADVANCEMENT SAYS "PEP" MAN

"YOU CAN BE WHAT YOU WANT TO BE," WISEHAUPT DECLARES

FINAL PUBLIC LECTURE GIVEN SATURDAY NIGHT

Character Analyst to Devote Remainder of Time in Ashland to Special Classes; Will Visit the Northern Part of State Next.

Largely inspirational, given by request in response to heavy demands from those who had not yet heard him, the fourth of the public lectures was given by Howard J. Wisehaupt, character analyst and "pep" man at the Civic Club building Saturday evening.

"You are what you want to be. If you want a thing bad enough and work hard enough, you will get it," declared Mr. Wisehaupt. "Eighty-one per cent of the present day failures are from lack of training in the individual. Many are where they are because of a lack of confidence, which is also a lack of knowledge."

Urging the utilization of spare moments for the purpose of advancement, Mr. Wisehaupt divided the 24 hour day into four parts: eight for sleep, three in which to eat; nine for work and four in which to rest or recreate. In this last period it was advised to take at least an hour daily for study.

The story of the rise of Hugh Chalmers from the humble position of a sweeper out of offices to that of sales manager for the National Cash Register company, through the application to study in his spare moments, was told by Mr. Wisehaupt. Chalmers, while a janitor, studied at nights, which enabled him to take the position of office boy, later becoming a stenographer. Again he attended night school, specializing in bookkeeping, after which he was advanced to an accountant's position and later salesman, finally reaching his goal.

The lecture Saturday was the final one open to the public, Mr. Wisehaupt having organized many classes in the city which will occupy his entire attention. Miss Eula Shyrock, business and publicity manager for Mr. Wisehaupt, will leave for Portland Tuesday, where she will arrange for a series of lectures in the northern part of the state.

RADIO BROADCAST PROGRAM ANNOUNCED FOR TONIGHT

The following radio program will be broadcasted from KFAY, located at Medford, by the Pettit-McWilliams trio, this evening:

- I. Violin solos . . . . . Leonard Pettit
- a. Canto amoroso . . . . . Elman
- b. My Old Kentucky Home . . . . .
- . . . . . Foster-Stoessel
- c. By the Waters of Minnetonka . . . . . Lawrence
- Intermission and announcements
- II. Reading and piano solo . . . . .
- . . . . . Loraine McWilliams
- III. Violin solos . . . . . Leonard Pettit
- a. Massa's in the Cold, Cold Ground . . . . . Foster-Stoessel
- b. Old Black Joe . . . . . Foster-Stoessel
- c. Old Folks at Home . . . . .
- . . . . . Foster-Stoessel
- d. Waltz, Op. 39. Brahms-Hochstein
- e. The Rosary . . . . . Nevis-Kreiser
- Albert Stoessel's arrangement of the old familiar songs forms a very beautiful and violinistic program, aside from Kreiser's arrangement of "The Rosary" and Brahms' waltz which every one knows and loves.
- Personnel: Violin, Leonard C. Pettit; vocal, J. Kenneth McWilliams; piano, Loraine J. McWilliams.

COMING EVENTS

- November 7—General election.
- November 9—Colonel Dan Morgan Smith, Presbyterian church, 7:30 o'clock.
- November 11—Armistice day.
- November 15—"As a Woman Thinketh," High School anniversary play.
- November 22—"Colonial Players," Lyceum number.
- November 30, Thursday—Thanksgiving Day.
- December 4-7—Winter fair.