FRENCH 'TIGER' PAYS VISIT TO AMERICAN SOIL

TRIP MADE TO CEMENT RELATIONS BETWEEN THE TWO NATIONS

CLEMENCEAU, POINCARÉ BURY POLITICAL HATCHET

Old Enemies Join in Common Cause For Salvation of Country; Premier Anxious to Meet Woodrow Wilson; Legion is on Hand.

NEW YORK, Nov. 18.—Georges Clemenceau, France's famous "war premier," who arrived today, came to America as a result of a secret understanding with Premier Poincaré to foster Franco-American relations for the ultimate salvation of France.

The information was obtained by the International News Service from high sources.

Clemenceau and Poincaré have been bitter political enemies for years, but under the stress of an international crisis which threatens Europe, they decided to get together and bury the hatchet for the good of their native country. Clemenceau naturally came as a private citizen.

Ambassador Jusserand was the first to greet Clemenceau. Assistant Secretary of State Bliss represented America on the reception committee.

The "Tiger" looks forward to meeting Woodrow Wilson. The Legion greeter said, "the Legion greets you as a person who exemplified the spirit which inspired us to carry on the war."

PLAZA BILLIARD HALL SOLD TO WM. REINHART

The Plaza billiard hall has been sold by W. D. Jackson, who has owned the place for the past several months, to William Reinhart, who took charge Friday.

Mr. Reinhart recently sold the cigar store and pool room on A street, near the railroad station, and therefore goes into the new location as an experienced man with a large number of friends who wish him well with the business.

Mr. Reinhart expects to add some new fixtures, but will not change the policy of the place of business. Orra E. Angle, who has been with the firm during the summer, will continue with the new management.

MERCHANTS' COMMITTEE MEET AND DISCUSS WINTER FAIR

A meeting of a merchants' committee was held recently in connection with the Winter Fair to discuss plans for enlivening the entire week beginning December 4, and incidentally the entire holiday season.

It was proposed that the business part of town should be decorated with fir trees and evergreens, and that all the stores should be urged to put their windows in holiday attire.

In connection with this program, prizes are to be offered for the best decorated windows, as well as the best booth at the fair. Plans for carrying out the street decoration features will be discussed briefly at the forum Tuesday noon at Pioneer hall.

DEAN ROBBINS, U. OF O., WILL SPEAK AT TUESDAY LUNCHEON

A good, old-time Chamber of Commerce luncheon will be held at Chauqua Pioneer hall, Tuesday noon, November 21. Dean E. C. Robbins, of the school of commerce, University of Oregon, will be the speaker. The topic for discussion by members will be "Boosting the Winter Fair." Some of our newcomers in business and professional activities in Ashland will be the guests of the forum at this time.

As space is limited, members are requested to notify the chamber Monday, November 20, of their attention to attend. Tickets for the luncheon are 60 cents.

JOHNNY BULL NOT SO THIRSTY. REPORT SHOWS

DUBLIN, Nov. 18.—There was a marked decrease in the consumption of alcoholic drink in Great Britain and Ireland in the first six months of last year, as compared with the similar period in 1921, according to the report of the Alliance for the Suppression of the Liquor Traffic, just completed.

The drink bill was down 26,000,000 pounds. These figures do not, however, indicate a growth of temperance habits. Mr. G. B. Wilson, secretary of the Alliance, states that the decreases are due to the continuance of high prices, coupled with the prevailing unemployment and shortness of money.

SPECIAL COUNCIL MEETING HELD TO CONSIDER WATER

A special meeting of the city council was held last evening in the Chamber of Commerce room in the city hall, for the consideration of the water situation in the city.

Mayor-elect Loomis and all the recently elected councilmen, with the exception of Mr. Pierce, were present to "listen in" on the doings of the outgoing council, having been invited by Mayor Lamkin to attend the meeting.

When the meeting had been called to order, Mr. Joy was asked to explain the purpose of the gathering, which he did briefly, closing his talk by asking Mr. Dillard, engineer for the Talent district, who was present, to give the history of the investigations made in the district and what conditions had been found.

Mr. Dillard stated that when he came here six years ago, he found that no measurements had been taken of any of the streams in the valley or that might be brought into the valley. After making examinations and experiments, it was found that only two projects were at all feasible. The first one of these to be considered was the Emigrant creek dam, but it was found that the amount of water which could be impounded would not justify the amount of money necessary for construction, neither would it supply the acreage that was in the district. The Hyatt Prairie project was then taken up and found to be a much better proposition than the Emigrant creek site.

Mr. Dillard went over the project and reported favorably, after which the state engineer examined the plan in detail and reported that he believed it to be a good proposition. The bonds were issued and the bonding house which had contracted to take them, sent their engineer here. He likewise made a favorable report, after which the bonds were taken by his concern on his recommendation. This matter was brought out to show that the Hyatt Prairie dam was considered absolutely safe from every standpoint.

Seven thousand acres of land are in the district as it now stands with the Hyatt Prairie reservoir as the storage unit. With the building of the Emigrant creek dam, 4000 more acres could be brought under irrigation, making a total of 11,000 acres located near Ashland which could be furnished one and one-half acre-feet of water, allowances being made for evaporation and seepage.

The directors of the district have decided that the 4000 additional acres must be signed up before the Emigrant creek project is started, but it is thought very little trouble will be encountered in getting this acreage, as quite a number of land owners beyond Talent are asking for water from the district, making it almost certain that the other dam will be built at once whether the Bellevue land owners enter the district or not. According to Mr. Dillard, should the Bellevue people turn down the present offer, and the same accepted by ranchers further down the valley, the chance for water in Bellevue will be gone forever, as the Talent district has filed on all surplus water in all the streams of the valley, making it impossible for any other person or corporation to get water from any source.

ROSEBURG DEFEATED 12 TO 6; GRANTS PASS ALSO HUMBLE

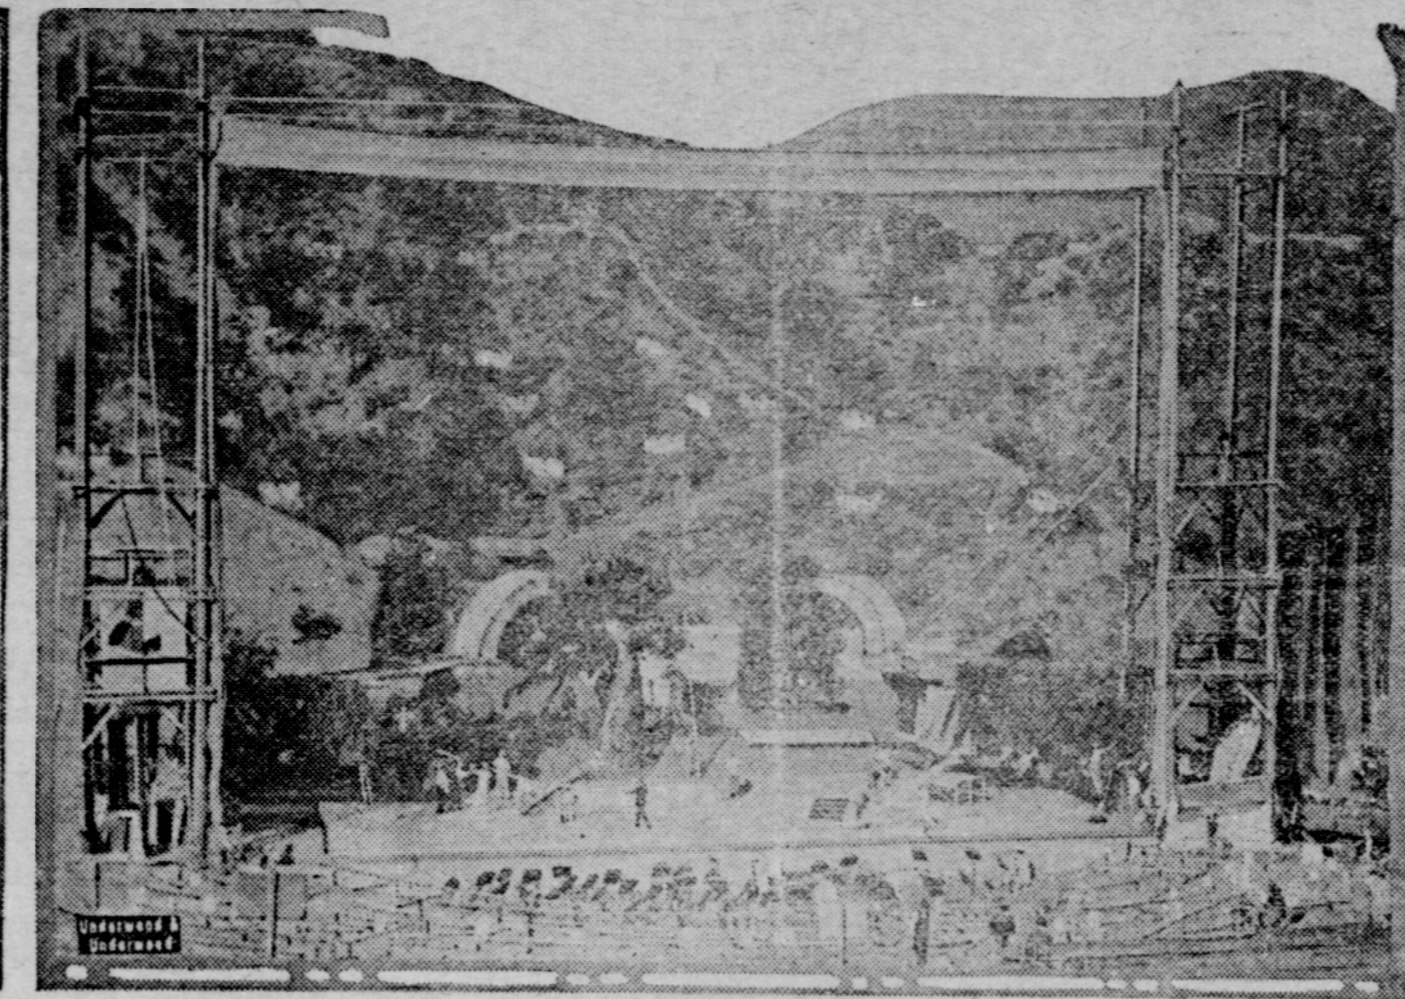

Ashland's high school eleven downed Roseburg high school Friday afternoon by a 12 to 6 score, according to a wire from the Umpqua valley city. Though no particulars of the game were given, it is evident from the low score that Coach Hughes exercised his judgment and played second string men chiefly, giving the boys who have worked hard this season an opportunity to win their "A."

Word from Grants Pass stated that the Medford eleven succeeded in walking over G. P. H. S. to a tune of 73 to 0. Both games, it is said, were played on wet and slippery fields.

ROBISON ELECTED S. S. PRESIDENT AT PHOENIX MEETING

Every moment of the final session of the Sunday school convention at Phoenix was occupied by live discussions and addresses Friday. The meeting was even better than that of the first day.

A feature of the morning session was a symposium on who should teach in the Sunday school, and what should be taught, and why.

Mrs. Davison, Table Rock, gave a spirited talk on the rural Sunday school in the afternoon, followed by a keen discussion of "The Boy in the Sunday School," by Cash Wood, county Y. M. C. A. secretary.

Special music was furnished by a Phoenix quartet. The Budget committee reported that an assessment for county and state work for 1923 will be at the rate of 10 cents for each enrolled member of each school. A resolution that Jackson county give $100 of this to state work and to use the remainder in county visitation and institute work, was adopted. Ten of the 40 Sunday schools in the county were represented in the large delegation that attended the convention.

Officers elected, installation being made by Miss Parker, of Portland, state secretary, were: W. W. Robinson, Ashland, president; Prof. A. G. Smith, Medford, vice-president; Mr. Faber, Central Point, secretary-treasurer; S. D. Taylor, Ashland, adult superintendent; Mrs. H. A. Canaday, Medford, young people's department; Mary Spencer, Ashland, children's department; H. M. Bickerydyke, Talent, executive.

At the close of the convention, an orchestra from the Baptist and Presbyterian churches, of Ashland, led by Mr. Gilmore, furnished music for a splendid song service.

Among the resolutions passed at the convention, the following one stood out prominently.

To Miss Georgia Parker, acting state secretary, for her presence, help and inspirations, and to the local county speakers for the part in making the program a success. Also to the county officers for their hard work and patient effort, which has resulted in the best county Sunday school convention the county has ever known.

AUTHOR DOESN'T NEED EDUCATION, HE TELLS JUDGE

AKRON, O., Nov. 18.—Education is unnecessary to write his kind of fiction, Luke Walnoski told Judge H. C. Spicer, of the juvenile court here. Luke attended the North Springfield high school till a year ago, but now calls himself an author of the Hawthorne type. He admitted he had not sold any of his works, nor yet given them titles, which were the last thing to be chosen, he explained. He denied emphatically that his novels were of the "Deadwood Dick" kind.

He wore his hair in a bushy roll and his soft collar up about his ears. Judge Spicer advised him to get a job and leave off authorship till he had acquired a stake.

GREENHOUSE ADDS ANOTHER BUILDING TO CARE FOR TRADE

The Ashland Greenhouse has not been standing idly by during the last summer, as one may see by taking a drive down Oak and Nevada streets and seeing the improvements that have been added this year.

One of the old greenhouses, built a number of years ago, when nothing would be considered for sidewalks but wood, was torn down during the year, and in its stead is a fine building with cement sidewalks, 40 feet wide by 175 feet in length. The top is constructed of glass panels, with the latest system of ventilation throughout. The house is divided in two sections, one being for the plants requiring heat of at least 62 degrees and running as high as 72 in the daytime, while the other house is kept from 10 to 20 degrees cooler.

Six rows of boxes, each about six feet wide with a narrow aisle between, run the full length of both rooms and are filled with practically every kind of flowers, among which the poinsettia stands out among the most beautiful, but is greatly outnumbered by the carnations, the greater part of one of the rooms being filled with this favorite flower.

Besides the new buildings, two old buildings are still in active use, one being 30 by 150 feet, while the other is 40 by 175 feet. In one of these buildings is to be found another space about 40 by 75 feet, devoted to carnations, but the beautiful full-blown chrysanthemum takes the eye of one entering the room, for there are many of them that measure from seven to nine inches across. The other building is also filled with flowers of all kinds and descriptions, among which the potted cyclamen plants and the snapdragons stand out prominently.

It is the intention of Mr. Sanders to rebuild the old structures in the near future and put in cement sidewalks, making them on a par with his new room. The greenhouses have a total of 20,000 square feet of glass at the present time.

The heating of the building is accomplished by two boilers, located under the office, which is in front of the new building. One small boiler is sufficient to keep the rooms warm during the moderately cool weather, while the larger boiler will be used when the weather becomes colder.

As winter passes on and spring approaches, the flowers will gradually be replaced with tender vegetables for early summer use and for transplanting when the weather becomes sufficiently warm to allow of outdoor growing.

Despite the fact that a greenhouse generally does the greater part of its business in the local territory, the opposite is the case with Mr. Sanders as the larger part of his flowers and vegetables are sold in outside territory. He enjoys a large trade throughout northern California and as far south as Redding, with occasional orders from as far as Los Angeles, while Portland and several of the adjacent cities send in orders regularly.

At this time of the year, Mr. and Mrs. Sanders and one helper are able to do all the work about the place, but during the spring season, several additional people are required to take care of the work about the place and the payroll runs up into good figures.

TWO WOMEN ARE KILLED BY MAN WHO SLAYS SELF

JEALOUSY BELIEVED MOTIVE FOR CRIME ON WASHINGTON BEACH

BODIES OF BOTH ARE BADLY MULTILATED

One Woman Made Valiant Fight for Life, Escaped, But Later Was Found; Suicide Found with Gun And Knife in Hands.

ABERDEEN, Wash., Nov. 18.—Insane jealousy is believed to have caused Hjalmar Anderson, 39, to murder Tansy Bolton, 25, and Mrs. J. T. O'Brien, 38, and then commit suicide in a cabin on Copalls Beach, on Ocean Point, 25 miles from here.

Miss Bolton fought valiantly and managed to escape for a time. Her body was found in a mutilated condition on the beach. Mrs. O'Brien was found near a shed in the cabin, shot through the breast and her body slashed. Anderson's body was found back of the cabin with a revolver in one hand and a knife in the other.

The women stayed in the cabin with John Oberg, age 65. Oberg was cut in the mele.

MISSIONARY MAKES APPEAL FOR CLOTHING FOR NEEDY

Rev. C. C. Hulet, Sunday school missionary, has appealed to his home church for clothing for needy persons, chiefly children. A feature of the Thanksgiving service of the Presbyterian church will be the bringing of gifts to supply these needs. Last year's gifts are said to have proven a great help to many. Money gifts will go to home mission work.

Following is a list of articles especially desired: Rubber boots, much needed by children who have to walk to school, sizes from six years up; boots or shoes, sizes 12, 13, 14 and 2, stockings to fit; overalls and clothing for boys from 6 to 16 years of age; clothes for a little girl, age 9; warm cloak for girl of 14 years; underwear for the same child; all clothing that a boy of 8 years can wear; twins, age 4, but large for their age, need everything.

Some very touching stories have come to Rev. Hulet about the cases helped last year and the needs this year.

REBEKAHS TO HOLD "EXPERIENCE" SOCIAL

At the last meeting of Hope Rebekah lodge, the members decided that, instead of holding a bazaar or doing various other stunts to raise money for "end of the year" expenses, they would have an old-fashioned "experience" social at the next regular meeting, November 28, when each member will tell of her experience in getting 50 cents or more. It would be well for Ashland housewives to know that the Rebekahs are looking for jobs and will tackle anything.

Refreshments for the evening will be on the "covered dish" order—each member to bring one filled dish. Mesdames Perozzi, Miller, Myer, Schwein and Guisinger volunteered to act as committee.
