Mystery of Trees.

One of the most puzzling questions in botany is. "Why or how does water rise to the top of a tree?"

Various explanations of the phenomenon have been proposed, but none is regarded as altogether satisfactory. One investigator attacked the problem by means of interesting and novel experiments. For instance, he constructed an artificial tree of plaster of paris and found that water moved upward Have your clothes cleaned this in it more than 40 feet high. Accounted for Attention.

A story told on the late Dean Stanley refers to his thorough immobility in the pulpit. Preaching one morning at Westminster abbey, he was pleased to notice the perfect attention of his congregation. At the close of the service he remarked to his wife upon their steadfast attendance on his words. "They never seemed to take their eyes off me," he told her with obvious gratification. "No wonder, my dear," said Lady Agatha, "seeing you had one of your gloves on your head all the time you were preaching." Placing his gloves in his hat on leaving home, the dean had removed his hat in the vestry beak. upon being gowned and had walked reverently to the pulpit unaware that he was carefully balancing one glove on his head.

Care of Pet Birds.

"People make too much fuss over rules and too little common sense," says an expert on the care of house

Environment Affected Law. Blackstone states that in the Isle of Man, to take away a horse or ox was no felony, but merely a trespass. There was no way to conceal them in this limited territory or carry them off. Because successful stealing of large animals was difficult, the punishment was light. But to steal a pig or fowl, which was easily done, was punishable by death. The environment affected rang after the ladies had finished, the the laws.
