Fraternal Orders and Societies
Advertising for fraternal orders or societies charging a regular initiation fee and dues, no discount. Religious and benevolent orders will be charged the regular rate for all advertising when an admission or other charge is made.

What Constitutes Advertising
In order to allay a misunderstanding among some as to what constitutes news and what advertising, we print this very simple rule, which is used by newspapers to differentiate between them: "ALL future events, where an admission charge is made or a collection is taken, IS ADVERTISING." This applies to organizations and societies of every kind as well as to individuals.

All reports of such activities after they have occurred is news.
All coming social or organization meetings of societies where no money contribution is solicited, initiation charged, or collection taken IS NEWS.

THANKSGIVING
Give thanks unto the Lord. We are living in a marvelous age. The very foundations of material things are being shaken. The old order is passing away. The sun is rising on a new and wonderful day. Man's extremity is God's opportunity. Since the world war broke out in 1914, to the present, events have been beyond the control of nations or of man. Unholy ambitions of Germany were brought to naught through the agencies of force, but, with all the loss of treasure and life, nothing constructive has been accomplished. Reconstruction, peace, normalcy, are proving tasks too great for the wisest statesmen. Europe is still in the throes of disorder, and great statesmen of the world prophesy dire calamity. The governing powers of Europe are being changed overnight; there is great unrest among the people; still wars and rumors of wars. Former national allies are now grinding their teeth at each other. Even in America the social unrest is apparent in the political landslides at the polls. In our elections, unaccountable things are happening. In our commerce, uncertainty prevails. In our social relations, the very foundations are being shaken. Selfishness struggling for command, social justice crying out for a place, with sabotage, strikes and anarchy breaking up through the bottom of social structures, and legal restraints and injunctions being applied from the top without avail.

Are these omens of calamity and ruin? No indeed. They only illustrate the futility of greed, ambition, force and injustice to bring about a satisfactory solution. The old order is passing away. Like a woman in travail, the world is giving birth to a new thought and conscience. The limitations of statescraft, government, commerce. The inability of institutions of error and corruption to reform themselves; the ill-reforming effects of law without regeneration of mind and soul. Justice cannot come through government unless it is primarily in the hearts of men; government rises no higher than its source, but precisely reflects the conscience of those who compose it. Instead of loading cannons of destruction with the most powerful forces chemistry can devise, and the minds of men with ill-directed patriotism to fire them, the world needs brotherhood, justice, love. Greatness does not lie in material power, but in service. Wealth is, after all, not so much what we get as what we give. Success comes not by accumulation, but by radiation. What the world gives us counts little; what we give the world counts much. This is the glorious thought that is being born into the world of today, and out of it will come better government, right relations between nations and peoples, between capital and labor.

The world is in dire travail now, yet it is but the birth pangs of this new conscience, and those wise enough to read the signs of the times can see a glorious consummation.

Nothing is ever settled until it is settled right. Physical force will not settle the great problems of the world. It does not minister to the needy and oppressed. There is not heart in it and justice, sympathy and love.

The minds of men are being agitated by these considerations more than ever before. "Injustice must go. The world leaders are confessing their incapacity to adequately deal with the problems of the hour. The people will not be satisfied with less than a just solution. Government, social, spiritual relations must be revised. Through pain and sorrow the scenes are being shifted in every part of the world. Nations are groping now, but dawn is breaking over the eastern hills.

If peace, prosperity and happiness come at all, they must come through the awakening conscience of mankind. The spirit of justice if abroad in the land, hammering at the gates of national power and it will speedily prevail, because, in man's extremity, the Lord of Hosts is at the helm. BERT R. GREER.

The Medford Mail Tribune puts us in mind of the man who said he would have some ham and eggs if he had the eggs, when that paper states, "The management of the fairgrounds will stage a 'football party' on Wednesday, December 6th. The affair will be in the nature of a celebration over the winning of the southern Oregon championship in the event that Medford wins on Thanksgiving day.

THOUGHTS FROM OTHER SOURCES
*****

Ashland, Nov. 22.—To the editor of The Journal—Out of a number of good editorials in The Sunday Journal of November 19, the best was headed, "With Life Dirt Cheap." The question asked in your first sentence, "Is it because the teachings of Christ have failed that life in Christian nations has become so cheap?" is a pertinent but futile one. The Eastern, or Asiatic, nations make no claim to be Christian. Western nations may make such a claim, but legal proof thereof is woefully lacking. The constitutional law of such countries sustains the divine or legal right of the exploiter to exploit—supports landlordism and profiteering. Gold, but not the Golden Rule, seems well entrenched in our constitutional law. Our courts are influenced much more by the former than by the latter. When a nation's courts are controlled by such iniquitous legal rights and customs, can they support the claim that they are Christian? The teaching of Jesus is against war and political economy. Political economy is defined as the housekeeping of a walled city or military camp. When the civil courts uphold exploitation, selfish utilization, under the protection of the policeman's club, is not civil law merely militarism refined? The churches uphold war and politics. Are the militant churches, those that uphold militancy, Christian? Life is cheap as dirt because political nations and the militant churches have rejected Christ and his teachings. Although we may not know it, we live in a topsy turvy land. What is, is wrong and false. We must put the "is" into the discard. Jesus is right and truth. When the nations and the churches accept him and his teachings, they will be Christian. Then, and only then, will life be the only thing worth while. In the parable of the man of great wealth who was thinking only of his ease and comfort, God said, "Thou fool, this night thy soul shall be required of thee; then whose shall those things be, which thou hast provided?" To Jesus, life became everything, and things had no value. D. M. BROWER. (The Oregon Journal)

Do You Feel Tired After Eating?
A tired, nervous feeling may be a sign of poisons in your system which prevent proper digestion. Food turns into more po'ison and gas, making you nervous and weak. Simple buck-thorn bark, glycerine, etc., as mixed in Adterika, expels poisons and gas from BOTH upper and lower bowel. Removes old matter you never thought was in your system, which poisoned stomach and made you tired and nervous. Adterika is EXCELLENT to guard against appendicitis. T. K. Bolton, Druggist.—3
