WINTER FAIR TO BE OFFICIALLY OPENED TONIGHT

MERCHANT BOOTHS AT ARMORY WITH LIVE STOCK AT THE NATATORIUM

PROF. VINING TO GIVE ADDRESS OF WELCOME

Development Program of Oregon Is Topic; Rabbits from all Sections of Northwest Here; Poultry Exhibit Largest Yet.

Ashland's Third Annual Winter Fair and Eighth Exhibition of the Southern Oregon Pet Stock and Poultry association opened today, though the first part of the exhibition will be formally turned over to the public with the opening address by Prof. Irving E. Vining, who will talk on the "Development Program for Oregon."

The Armory will be the chief center, for here is where the program will be given and the merchants have their booths. Fruit, vegetables and the live stock will be exhibited at the Natatorium.

Booths extend around the side of the Armory, with space in the center occupied by chairs. Upon entering the building, at the right the following merchants have erected attractive and ingenious booths: Jordan Electric company, Medford Grocery company, McNair Bros., E. R. Isaac & Co., Vining Theatre, The Enders Co., H. P. Holmes, 484th Company Oregon National Guard, Detrick Groceries, McGee's, Rose Bros, the Golden Rule, and Harrison Bros., Ford dealers.

The left and northwest corner is occupied by a large school and domestic display, while school and art exhibits extend along the northern side of the building.

The horticulture, agriculture, rabbit and poultry exhibits are housed in the Natatorium, the first two being in that portion of the building used as a skating rink and dancing floor, and the poultry and rabbits in the swimming tanks and about the balcony in the same part of the building.

The fruit and vegetable exhibits are coming in slowly, but a large number of growers have promised to bring displays, and it is thought that all available space will be taken up before closing time this evening.

Speaking of rabbits, one would think that every person in southern Oregon had rabbits on display from the number that have been entered in every species. Black, gray, brown, white, and in fact every kind of rabbit raised is to be found in the rabbit hutches. One swimming tank served to house all the rabbits and poultry last year, but the tank will be hardly large enough to accommodate the poultry this year, and a row of rabbit hutches have been constructed around the balcony of the swimming room, and half the space around the balcony has already been taken.

Despite the fact that this is advertised as a southern Oregon pet stock and poultry show, a large number of exhibitors from all sections of the state are showing up with both poultry and pets. One fancy chicken that hails from New Jersey is believed to have traveled the greatest distance to be present at the fair.

OPEN SAFETY PIN IN CHILD'S TUMMY

Mrs. Carl Magerle brought her two months' old baby girl to Ashland the last of the week and took her to a local specialist for examination. The child had developed a cough which could not be accounted for by the mother, and the specialist was unable to find the trouble with ordinary instruments.

An x-ray was called into use and after a thorough examination an open safety pin was discovered in the child's stomach near the opening of that organ into the intestines. It is thought that the pin was swallowed about two weeks ago, and it is feared that it is caught in the stomach in such a manner that an operation will be necessary.

It was decided to wait several days before taking any action and should a further x-ray examination show that the pin is in the same spot, an operation will then be made.

JAIL DELIVERY IS MANAGED BY CLARA PHILLIPS

"HAMMER MURDERER" SLIDES DOWN WATER PIPE TO THE STREET BELOW

WOMAN CHARACTERIZED AS BEING 'HARD BOILED'

Hard Boiled Attitude Assumed Since Conviction; Husband, Sisters and Friends Being Taken into Custody By Police Instituting Great Search.

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 5.—Aided by persons outside who propped a ladder against the walls of the building, she could descend to the street, Mrs. Clara Phillips, under an indefinite sentence of from ten years to life for the "hammer murder" of Mrs. Alberta Meadows, escaped from the jail early this morning. Three steel bars an inch thick, were sawed in two. The bars were pulled from their places leaving an opening two feet square.

With extraordinary strength, Mrs. Phillips apparently climbed to the top of the jail and then dropped from the jail roof to an adjoining building, a descent of 20 feet, by sliding down a water pipe. From the roof of the building next door, it is thought she descended to an alleyway on the ladder.

She was barefooted when she escaped and scantily clad in a dark suit. Mrs. Phillips has been hard boiled since her conviction.

A great search is under way. Armour Phillips, her husband, two sisters and a chorus girl chum will be taken into custody. Mrs. Madalynne Obenchain, released from jail yesterday, will also be questioned.

DEVELOPMENT PROGRAM TO BE DISCUSSED BY VINING

Three vital problems confronting the state at present, and for which a drive for $300,000 is being launched by Portland today in the development program of the Oregon state chamber of commerce, will be discussed by Prof. Irving E. Vining at the Winter Fair this evening. The movement is financed by Portland money and will be carried on during a two year period. These problems are co-operative marketing, land settlement and publicity.

Prof. Vining will point out conditions throughout the state and will show the necessity for co-operative marketing. He will also tell how it has been established in other states. The subject is of vital interest to farmers, merchants and taxpayers alike.

The chambers of commerce of Corvallis, Albany, Salem, Astoria and O. A. C., were recently visited by Prof. Vining, who spoke on topics having a direct bearing upon the subject the state chamber of commerce is working on.

WORLD WAR ON NARCOTIC EVIL IS BEING URGED

LOS ANGELES WOMAN TAKES INITIATIVE AGAINST DRUG INDUSTRY

PRESIDENT OF CHINA IS ALSO FIGHTING SCOURGE

International Anti-Opium Society Is Formed in Orient; Agreement Between U. S. and Other Nations for Control of Distribution Asked.

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 5.—Initial steps toward an international war on the illicit drug industry, particularly opium, have been taken by Mrs. Angela C. Kaufman, known locally as the "angel of the county jail," who has sent a letter to President Harding asking that he use his best offices for an international agreement for the control of drug distribution.

Mrs. Kaufman took this step as a result of the efforts now being made by President Huf-Thih Chang, of China, to stamp out the opium evil in his native country. To this end, the Chinese president is said to have appointed a large committee, including military and civil authorities and a member of the International Anti-Opium society. This committee has as its aides members of all educational, missionary and anti-vice societies in China.

In her letter to President Harding, Mrs. Kaufman asked that an international agreement be entered into between the United States, England, Japan and China for the control of the distribution of habit-forming drugs. She also asks that a commission be appointed to investigate the drug traffic in the United States at the present time.

F-T ASSOCIATION ATTACKS ALL "RACY" PUBLICATIONS

PORTLAND, Dec. 4.—The Portland Parent-Teacher council is planning a vigorous campaign for the removal from local news stands of racy magazines.

While prominent members of the council refuse to discuss their plan of campaign, it is known that immediate action will be discussed at the council meeting Thursday. District Attorney Stanley Myers, when told of the proposed movement, said he would assist in the task of ridding the city of indecent magazines, but suggested that, although there is a law that defines indecent publications, and provides a penalty for their sale, that perhaps more good could be accomplished through co-operation with news dealers.

Big Snow in the Mountains—

The Union Oil company truck made the trip today up the Green Springs road to take gasoline to the construction crew at Hyatt dam and returned to the city shortly after noon with about four inches of snow on the top of the tank. The driver stated that it was almost impossible to see the road when he came down the mountain and said that a few hours would make the road absolutely impassable for machines.

The woman who "squawked" was Julia Harnett, 25, alleged sweetheart of William Cramer, one of the four principals in the slaying.

Bogoslawski accuses Lawrence Hefferman of firing the shots which killed Lanus. He said Lanus shot William Cramer, another of the gang, when Hefferman and Cramer ordered Lanus to put his hands up.

IRISH TROUBLE NOW BELIEVED NEARLY ENDED

FREE STATE COMES INTO REALITY WHEN KING GIVES ASSENT

DUBLIN DECLARED CITY OF RUINED BUILDINGS

Streets Unsafe by Day as Well as by Night; Country's Trade Thought Improving and Trade Revival Is Predicted by Cosgrave.

DUBLIN, Dec. 5.—Ireland at last is believed nearing the end of her troubles. The Free State comes into official reality today with King George giving royal assent to the Irish constitution. President William Cosgrave, of the Dail Eireann, met Timothy Healy, new English governor general of the Free State.

"The world has been upside down since 1914, and we in Ireland have experienced troublesome times," he said, "but I firmly believe we are nearing the end of our troubles. The future is full of hope."

Cosgrave predicted a trade revival, pointing out that Irish exports already show an improvement.

Nowadays, the Irish capital's streets and principal buildings are a heap of ruins. The streets are unsafe day as well as night; at any moment anywhere there may be an attack upon the Free State troops by De Valera's followers. It is a curious fact that from such a method of warfare it is not the troops or their attackers who suffer most, but the peaceful citizens.

Day after day, one hears the mournful tunes of the bands playing the funeral march for some brave Irishman who has been killed not by the hands of the British or the Black and Tans, but by his own fellow countrymen. Robberies at the revolver's point occur almost daily in every street. At night the snap of the sniper's rifle and the rattle of the machine gun keep good Irishmen from their hard-earned rest. Such is Dublin today—a city fast drifting to anarchy.

MEDFORD HIGH SCHOOL CLAIMS STATE CHAMPIONSHIP

The Medford high school football team lays claim to the high school championship of the state and of the coast, basing its claim on the following facts:

1. It has decisively defeated every high school opponent this year.
2. It has scored a total of 345 points against other high school teams, while its opponents have scored but 10.
3. Its goal has not been legally crossed this year by a high school team.
4. The excellent showing made against the O. A. C. schools.

The total number of points scored against all contenders was 370, while the number of points scored against Medford was 30. This includes the O. A. C. rock game, which ended 20 to 14 in favor of the rocks.

To back up these claims Medford challenges any team in the state or on the coast, barring none, to a post season game, if the state board of control consents, at Medford, Saturday, December 9. Medford expressly extends this invitation to Corvallis, which has scored heavily against its opponents and which has held the latter to an equally low score.
