What Constitutes Advertising
 In order to allay a misunderstanding among some as to what constitutes news and what advertising, we print this very simple rule, which is used by newspapers to differentiate between them: "ALL future events, where an admission charge is made or a collection is taken IS ADVERTISING." This applies to organizations and societies of every kind as well as to individuals.
 All reports of such activities after they have occurred is news.
 All coming social or organization meetings of societies where no money contribution is solicited, initiation charged, or collection taken IS NEWS.

AMERICAN EDUCATION WEEK
 Education influenced by American ideas and ideals will be emphasized this week as never before. The promise made to the United States bureau of education from many sources, in hundreds of letters, is that the week of December 3 to 9, American Education Week, is going to be considered in all phases, stressing local needs as well as the broadest aspects of education as the fundamental thing in American life.

The American Legion, national civic and business organizations are making preparations to carry out the program suggested for the week, which opened in many places with fitting remarks from pulpits. Many governors have issued proclamations calling upon the people to observe this week. State, county and school superintendents are organizing the civic, business and educational forces throughout the country, while the press and the pulpit are giving every assistance to a week of intensive consideration of special problems.

American Education Week will present the educational needs of America to the people who support the schools. Schoolmen meet every now and then to discuss the technical phases of their work, but unless the public is informed as to the educational needs of the country, little improvement in the schools may be expected. Some communities, which have very inferior schools, think their schools are good because they have never been told how inferior they are, and what kind of schools they should have.

American Education Week will afford an opportunity to schoolmen and all civic and business organizations interested in education to set forth the educational needs of America.

Taking into consideration the facilities offered in America for free education, the number of illiterates in the country is appalling. Those who can neither read nor write the English language are not confined

PEOPLE'S FORUM

Poultry for Pleasure
 To the Editor:

As the Winter Fair approaches my thoughts turn to the beautiful chickens we see only once a year. The White Leghorn has been exploited and commercialized at the expense of the "utility" and "heavy" breeds. We are proud of our poultry farms and commercial hatcheries, but should we not have more "chicken fanciers" in and around Ashland? There is so much said now about "poultry for profit" and "making war on the slacker hen," that the sentiment is getting away. I keep my chickens for their beautiful plumage and the sweet songs they sing for me, and I love them as my father used to love his pretty horses. If perchance one of them presents me with an egg for breakfast, I do the cackling myself, so proud am I of the gracious gift. If I can keep canaries, dogs and cats, why shouldn't I keep a rooster to crow the morning hour? Seriously speaking, I hope the Winter Fair will inspire many of our good citizens to get a start of the different breeds of chickens in their very best strains. I have experimented from year to year, and enjoyed it. May I tell you my chicken plans for 1923? I shall order 25 baby chicks from one of our local hatcheries (there are no better White Leghorns hatched anywhere than right here), and I shall order from fine breeders 25 each of half a dozen breeds, best strains obtainable, regardless of cost, and raise them all up together. They cannot mix the first season. It will be no end of pleasure to compare them and watch them develop, and next Winter Fair

Women Need Swamp-Root

Thousands of women have kidney and bladder trouble and never suspect it.
 Women's complaints often prove to be nothing else but kidney trouble, or the result of kidney or bladder disease.
 If the kidneys are not in a healthy condition, they may cause the other organs to become diseased.
 Pain in the back, headache, loss of ambition, nervousness, are often times symptoms of kidney trouble.
 Don't delay starting treatment.
 Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, a physician's prescription, obtained at any drug store, may be just the remedy needed to overcome such conditions.

Sentenced to 60 Days—
 George Green, a colored man who was arrested the latter part of last week and lodged in jail over Sunday, was taken before Justice Gowdy Monday, where he was tried on the charge of vagrancy and found guilty. He received a 60 day sentence to the county jail and was taken to the county seat in the afternoon. He was arrested by William Reynolds, S. P. policeman, who found him in the local railroad yards and told him to get out of town, but Green continued to stick around and finally drew a knife on the officer and threatened to kill him, whereupon the officer took him in charge and locked him up. District Attorney Rawles Moore was present to represent the state.

C. P. Divorce Would Bring Losses Upon Train Service Men

WASHINGTON, Dec. 5.—"Representatives of train and engine men who would sustain loss if Central Pacific lines were separated from the Southern Pacific, have completed presentation of what they termed the "human side" of the issue to the interstate commerce commission, in supporting the application of the Southern Pacific for retention of the Central Pacific until the commission consummates its railroad consolidation plan.
 Among the organized labor leaders who urged that the present unified system be continued so that workers' homes would not be disrupted and seniority lost, were Warren S. Stone, grand chief of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers; four general chairmen of organizations covering the Southern Pacific company's Pacific system—E. A. Larrieu, Order of Railway Conductors; J. A. Ford, Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Engineers; W. C. Watson, Order of Railway Telegraphers; L. L. Sanford, Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, and two national legislative representatives—H. E. Wills, Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, and William Clark, Order of Railway Conductors.
 "Many of these men have worked over 20 years on these divisions, and if this segregation takes place, they are without a job or home," said Warren S. Stone. "The homes that they have are disrupted. They must go elsewhere and look for work again and perhaps at a time in life when they are past the age limit and they cannot secure a position elsewhere."
 "On 52 per cent of the railroads in this country, the age limit is 45; if you are beyond that age you do not need to make out an application for employment. There is no employment for you. On the rest of the railroads the age limit is 40, except on two or three roads where the age limit is 38. So, seniority means everything to these men. They have been building up this position, so that they hope to live out a life with this company, and now by the stroke of a pen, the savings of a life time, and their homes are destroyed. Their positions are destroyed and there is nowhere else for them to go. It is all right to say, 'Go out and go to another road.' Fifty per cent of them are too old to go to any other roads, and if they did go to another road they would start on the extra board, buck the extra board and the extra list for years, and they would not live long enough to get up to a preferred run on some other system, even if they were young enough in age to secure employment."

Chicken Bone Causes Worry—
 Mrs. Horace Mitchell appealed to a local physician Saturday for aid, after she had tried various home remedies in an effort to dislodge a chicken bone which she accidentally attempted to swallow, the bone having become caught in her throat. The physician worked for some time endeavoring to remove the troublesome bone, but to no avail, and arrangements were made to make another effort Monday afternoon with additional help, but as is oftentimes the case with the toothache, the trouble disappeared a few hours before the time set by the physician, the bone being dislodged while Mrs. Mitchell was partaking of the noonday meal Monday. It is not thought that any further trouble will be experienced from this source by the lady.
