SWEDISH INVENTOR HAS NEW OIL LIGHT

Claims Whiter and Much Cheaper Light than Electric or Gas. Edison enabled us to enjoy the benefits of electric light, Count Welch's mantle made it possible to have the incandescent gas light, but it remained for a Swedish engineer, named Johnson, now living in Portland, to devise a lamp that would burn ordinary, everyday kerosene oil and produce a light said by the many scientists who have seen it to be whiter than electric. The lamp is as simple to operate as the old style oil lamp, burns without odor, smoke or noise, and is proving a sensation where oil light is used. Mr. Johnson offers to send a lamp on ten days' free trial and will even give one to the first user in each locality who will help introduce it. A letter addressed to V. M. Johnson, 31 N. Fifth St., Portland, Ore., will bring full particulars about this wonderful new lamp. He has an interesting agency offer, too. —adv.
