CELEBRATION IS BEING PLANNED FOR ASTORIANS

YOUNGSTERS WILL NOT BE FORTOTTEN BY SANTA CLAUS SAYS PORTLAND

COMITTEE APPOINTED TO RECONSTRUCT CITY

Ask Naval Patrol in Harbor; Temporary Business Zone Being Laid Out; Astoria Budget Is Getting Ready to Erect New Building.

ASTORIA, Dec. 11.—The faith of little children here in Santa Claus is to be unshaken. Portland business men are planning a great Christmas celebration amidst the ruins of the charred city. Christmas carols will ring out.

Rehabilitation and relief work are progressing nicely under the coalition government of ten citizens.

A temporary business zone will be located as soon as possible, and merchants who suffered losses will be given the preference.

The committee of ten has asked the United States government for two navy destroyers for duty in the harbor.

The bluejackets will be used for patrol work in the stricken area and to check any looting that may break out when the ruins have cooled sufficiently to admit the curious to survey the scenes.

The Astoria "Budget" announces it will erect a new building immediately, since the insurance company has made an immediate adjustment. The paper was completely wiped out by the fire.

NAVAL RECRUITING OFFICER IN ASHLAND DECEMBER 18-19

Lieutenant R. E. Kerr, of the United States navy recruiting service, Portland, will be in Ashland Monday and Tuesday, December 18 and 19, on a tour of southern Oregon. He is a native Oregonian and was with the coast and geodetic survey in this section of the state when appointed to the United States naval academy in 1907. He attended the University of Oregon in 1910, but quit in his second year to enter the navy. He will open a recruiting station in the city hall for the purpose of examining all applicants and to furnish information to those who desire.

According to Lieutenant Kerr, the navy is in need of young men who desire to advance themselves and at the same time acquire a skilled trade that will be of value to them in civil life. An opportunity will be given them to finish their education under the supervision of the educational department of the navy, under Prof. Alderman, at one time superintendent of schools for the state of Oregon.

ELKS TO FURNISH ROOM AT COMMUNITY HOSPITAL

At the regular meeting of the Elk lodge Saturday night, it was decided to furnish a room at the Community hospital, and a committee was appointed to buy the necessary equipment which will amount to approximately $250.

It was also decided to give $50 towards the new ambulance which citizens are endeavoring to buy for the use of the public.

The Elks can always be relied upon to be on hand when anything in the interest of the community is at stake.

PORTLAND, Dec. 11.—"Taxpayers are reminded that Friday, December 15, is the last day for paying the fourth and final installment of their 1921 income tax," said Clyde G. "Unless the balance of his tax is paid by that time, the taxpayer will be liable to the payment of both penalty and interest charges because of his delinquency." These unpaid taxes, if mailed, must be posted in time to reach the office of Collector Huntley not later than midnight next Friday. Memory of J. H. Payne Is Honored

This is the monument unveiled at Spring Place, Ga., a few days ago to John Howard Payne, author of "Home, Sweet Home." Members of the Old Guard of Atlanta, a historic organization composed of some of the best-known business men of the city, are shown back of the monument. Spring Place was selected as the site of the monument because it was there that Payne was arrested and held in prison for a while because of his sympathy with the Cherokee Indians at the time that 14,000 of them were forcibly removed from their homes in Georgia.

COW TESTING SHOWS LARGE COW POPULATION

Testing of the dairy cows of Ashland has shown a larger cow population than most towns its size. Eighty-three cows were tested this forenoon. A re-test or reading will be taken Thursday at the same places that tests were taken today.

Tomorrow testing will start at Mr. Notterage's place at 8 o'clock, and at Mr. Wait's at the south end of Ashland at 11. The Bellevue district will be visited in the afternoon.

Cow owners whose cows have not yet been tested should endeavor to get the animals to one of these locations.

swear to the warrant. Sheriff Houser explained that without money to pay stool pigeons or assistance from the public, it was difficult to get accurate information.

NEWSPAPER OWNED BY J. P. SAYLES HAS INTEREST TO MANY

An unusual newspaper has been turned in to the Tidings office by J. P. Sayles, who brought it back from the Philippines with him. The name of the publication is "Freedom—the Giant of the Orient," and was published in Manila, Island of Luzon, Tuesday, July 4, 1899.

The cover is highly colored, with the American flag in the upper left hand corner, and the British flag in the upper right. Between the two, under clasped hands, is a picture of Dewey, under which are the words "Our George." A village scene is depicted across the lower half of the paper.

Advertisements cover the entire back page, and include such as the "Grand Bazaar La Puerta Del Sol, articles from 2 cent upwards"; H. Price & Co., Wine & Spirit Merchants, sole agents for California Wines and Rainier Beer; while Juan Soler declares his shop contains a very fine assortment of laces and ribbons and that English is spoken. Special articles written by various soldiers are on the two inside pages, two of which are titled "How I Killed an Insurgent." Another, the story of a nervous man on guard, relates how an innocent pig was mistaken for a native, and slain. A long feature story is told by an infantryman about being captured and condemned to die by Tagalogs.

The newspaper contains four pages in all, and is printed with five columns, all of the work being hand-set type, with numerous errors in spelling, due to this fact.

Mr. Sayles greatly cherishes the old-time newspaper.

It pays to read the classified page.

MOONSHINERS FIGHT

MOUNT STERLING, Ky., Dec. 11.—Desperate moonshiners, armed with high powered rifles, are holding at bay prohibition forces twice their number in mountain fastnesses near here. The battle has been raging for three days. Two government agents have been killed—Robert Duff shot, and stripped of his clothing and badge, and Dave Treadway mortally wounded. The prohibition forces are armed with machine guns. All of the moonshiners are expert riflemen, and it is believed they never will be taken alive.

EXPECT BATTLE IN SENATE OVER SHIP MEASURE

BOTH SIDES ARE MAKING PREPARATIONS FOR COMING STRUGGLE

MANY SENATORS READY TO JOIN DEMOCRATS

Borah, La Follette and Capper Are Among Those Willing to Attack Subsidy; Fruit Reported Rotting in Warehouse, No Ships at Hand.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 11.—Both sides "dug in" today for a battle over the ship subsidy bill, which is expected to develop into one of the greatest struggles ever waged.

Senator Jones, Washington, republican, chairman of the senate commerce committee, planned throughout the first skirmish lines in suggesting the bill be made "unfinished business."

Senator Borah, of Idaho, LaFollette, of Wisconsin, Norris, of Nebraska, and Capper, of Kansas, are among those ready to join the democrats in attacking the proposed subsidy.

Senator Jones says if the bill fails the American naval defense and commerce would suffer seriously. He said recently that British interests had offered to construct vessels adaptable to handling the California grape crop, and that "in storehouses in Washington there are thousands of carloads of apples spoiling because of lack of shipping facilities." Robinson, of Arkansas, blocked the efforts of Jones to force an immediate consideration of the bill.

CLEMENCEAU'S LAST SPEECH IN U. S. TO BE BROADCAST

NEW YORK, Dec. 11.—The farewell speech of Georges Clemenceau in the United States will be broadcast by radio to an audience of more than one million persons Tuesday night. The air will be cleared for the French statesman's final good will message in this country from 8:30 until 10 o'clock.

The "Tiger's" speech will be delivered at the annual dinner of the American Committee for Devastated France to be held in the Hotel Pennsylvania here. His talk, given before 2000 persons expected to attend the dinner, will be picked up by microphones in the banquet hall and relayed by Western Union wires to station WJZ in Newark. The words of Clemenceau will be broadcast from the Newark station. That station, which is operated by the Westinghouse company, covers the United States east of the Mississippi and, under favorable conditions, San Francisco and London.

SHORT CIRCUIT CAUSES TROUBLE ON STREET LIGHTS

A short circuit on the street lighting system at the corner of the Plaza and North Main street, caused some of the people who had occasion to be on the streets about 3 o'clock Sunday morning to look in amazement at the unusual brightness. Some of those who arrived in the city during the time that the lights were so bright say that the headlight on an automobile was easy to face in comparison with every street light in the city at that time.

The trouble was caused by a high voltage wire coming into contact with the street circuit, but, fortunately, very few globes were burned out as is generally the case when anything of this kind happens. Workmen were busy today repairing the wires and getting everything in shape again.

Legion Plans Feed—

Ashland post, American Legion, will have its annual election of officers tomorrow evening at the Armory, followed by a big feed. It is particularly desired by the officers that every member of the post who has nothing else on his mind, try and make an effort to attend the final meeting of the year. Incidentally, word is sent out reminding all legionnaires that the dues for 1923 are due, and to bring three bucks to the meetings. The feed will well be worth the price of the dues.

If it is for Ashland, we are for it.
