LABOR PRESSES FIRST ATTACK ON DAUGHERTY

IMPEACHMENT ACTION STARTS BEFORE HOUSE JUDICIARY COMMITTEE

COUNTER CHARGES ARE FLYING THROUGH AIR

Volstead Tells Ralston That Committee Will Conduct Hearings as It Sees Fit; Burns, Noted Detective, Is Also Target.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 12.—In a flurry of charges and counter charges the impeachment proceedings against Attorney General Daugherty are under way before the house judiciary committee.

Organized labor, represented by Jackson Ralston, pressed the initial attack. Representative Volstead, Minnesota republican, told Ralston the committee would conduct the hearings in its own way. He said: "You have not produced a scintilla of evidence in any of the charges. Why are you afraid to present evidence?"

"We are dealing with William J. Burns," Ralston answered. Ralston refused to name the men associated with the charges. Finally pressed, he said he is prepared only to present the charges against Burns.

Other charges were pressed by Samuel Untermyer plus other lawyers.

LESLIE J. HEER VERY ILL AT LOCAL HOSPITAL

Leslie J. Heer is a patient at the Community hospital and is suffering from a stoppage of a large blood vessel in one of his legs. It is feared he may not recover.

He was taken ill several days ago, but it was thought he was getting along nicely until about 6:30 o'clock Monday evening, when the trouble with the blood vessel made its appearance, and it was thought he would die before the night was over. Late reports from the hospital today are to the effect that he is alive, but in a very serious condition.

A report was circulated Monday evening to the effect that Mr. Heer had died, and it was generally talked on the streets during the morning, but investigation proved that the Monday evening report was erroneous.

484TH COMPANY IS HOST TO MEMBERS OF FOOTBALL TEAM

Members of the Ashland football team were guests of the 484th company at a big, old-time army feed after drill at the Army Monday night, which was very greatly enjoyed. A special demonstration of hand-to-hand fighting holds was staged for the benefit of the visitors by Sergeant Sargent and Privates Middle and Burns. Company drill, school of the soldier, squad, artillery drill, signaling and radio work was also on the program.

After the feed, Coach Hughes became excited and challenged Lieutenant Clyde Young to a shooting match, losing out by a close margin. Reports from the contest state that the coach almost missed the target several times, and that many of the boys believed him to be operating a machine gun from the way his shots were scattered.

Another recruit, obtained through the agreement between the 484th company and the Modern Woodmen, was received into the organization. This fraternal body is doing its best to promote interest in the local national guard unit.

PLANS BEING FORMULATED WHEREBY FINE TOURIST HOTEL MAY ARISE ON GROUNDS NEAR CHAUTAUQUA BUILDING

Articles of incorporation drawn and will be submitted to state in short time; life members of Chautauqua Association meet and elect officers and pass resolutions favoring proposed site of hotel.

First definite steps in acquiring a new tourist hotel for Ashland were taken last night at a combined meeting of those interested in the project and members of the Chautauqua association.

Under present plans the hotel will be erected adjoining the Chautauqua building, which will be preserved and will serve as an auditorium in connection with the hotel. Articles of incorporation have been drawn up by Attorney William M. Briggs, and will be submitted to the proper state authorities for filing in a short time.

In locating the hotel on the Chautauqua grounds, it is believed one of the finest hotel sites on the Pacific coast will be had, as the hotel will overlook the Plaza and the lower end of Lithia park. A driveway has been proposed to permit easy entrance to the hotel, while it has been suggested that a covered entrance be erected from the hotel to Main street, using the present entrance to Chautauqua park. All architectural plans will be worked out in detail once of the organization is well under way.

The principal office of the Community Hotel corporation, as the articles of incorporation state, will be in Ashland, though other offices can be maintained wherever desired in the United States. It will be incorporated for $300,000, to be divided into 3000 shares to sell at $100 per share.

Those who have signed the articles of incorporation to date, are Jesse Winburn, whom, it is stated, will be heavily financially interested in the project. Bert R. Greer, T. H. Simpson, Homer Billings, J. P. Dodge, F. G. Swendenburg, R. L. Burdick Jr., W. Judson Oldfield, Sylvester Patterson, Mrs. S. Patterson and G. S. Butler.

In connection with the hotel meeting, the Chautauqua association held its election last night, the following coming into office: W. Judson Oldfield, president; V. O. N. Smith, vice-president; Homer Billings, secretary, and G. G. Eubanks, treasurer. Trustees elected were G. S. Butler, O. Winter, C. H. Vaupel, Mrs. Ella Mills and Mrs. S. Patterson.

Life members of the association proposed and unanimously adopted a resolution to the effect that arrangements be made for the use of the Chautauqua grounds in part for the erection of a hotel. Following this, another resolution was adopted, appointing the president, vice-president, secretary and board of trustees, with Mayor C. B. Lamkin and E. D. Briggs, as an advisory committee. Upon arrangements made that are satisfactory to the committee, the board of trustees will have full power to act.

DEATH SUMMONS AGED MERCHANT IN QUAKER CITY

JOHN WANAMAKER, 85, SUC-CUMBS TO COLD AT HOME THIS MORNING

ALL PHILADELPHIA MOURNS HIS PASSING

Philanthropic and Religious Interest in City Endears Him to Residents; Was Postmaster General Under President Harrison.

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 12.—John Wanamaker, merchant prince, philanthropist and owner of the Wanamaker stores in New York, Philadelphia and Paris, died early this morning at his home after an illness lasting more than two months. He was 85 years old, which is believed to have rendered recovery impossible, as death followed a persistent and heavy cold which resulted in violent fits of coughing.

Wanamaker was educated in the public schools and received degrees from Howard university, Ursinus college and the University of Pennsylvania.

He started work early, and ran errands for a book store at 14. Then he became a retail clothing salesman. He established the clothing house of Wanamaker & Brown, later branching out into his own business, where he became a great power in the financial world.

He was an independent republican and was postmaster general under President Harrison. He declined the candidacy for mayor of Philadelphia. His philanthropic work and religious interests endeared him to the city. He is survived by a son, Rodman, Mrs. Barclay Warburton and Mrs. Norman MacLeod.

MISS ALICE REID WEDS ANDY MCGEE

The fact that Miss Alice Reid and Andy McGee were quietly married Saturday at Jacksonville by the Presbyterian minister of that place, became known to the young couple's many friends in this city Monday evening.

Mrs. McGee is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Reid, of Oak street, and has lived in the city for several years.

Mr. McGee is the son of Mrs. William R. Davis, of Allison street, and is well known by all the younger people of the city, having spent several years here and in Klamath Falls. He has been employed here as book-keeper for the Standard Oil company for the past few months.

Upon their return to Ashland, they went immediately to their new home which had been previously fitted up, at 98 Granite street. The boys' band turned out in force last evening and serenaded them, until the desired results were obtained, much to the joy of all the boys.

LEGION ELECTION PROMISES TO BE LIVE AFFAIR TONIGHT

With Donald Spencer, nominee for commander of Ashland post, American Legion, out on the streets, buttonholing all wearers of the Legion button to come out to the meeting this evening, called for the purpose of electing officers, to vote against him as post commander, and another faction of the Legion pulling for all members to come out and vote for him, the meeting tonight promises to be a warm affair. Spencer is the only candidate for office, and as he has been very active in local Legion matters, and a charter member of the post, a majority of the members believe him to be the only logical man for the honor.

Arrangements were made today for a good feed to be served following the election, and a large number of men are expected to attend the meeting, which will be the last one of the year. Officers will be installed at the first meeting after January 1.
