ON THE JOB

The appalling news of Astoria's recent fire loss is still fresh in the minds of the people of the Northwest. This is probably the largest conflagration in the history of Oregon, and yet Astoria is only a moderate sized city.

With a predominance of shingle roofs, not infrequent high winds and a water supply from a single source, the conflagration hazard exists in Ashland just as it has been shown to have existed in Astoria. Our fire department is well-equipped to fight a single fire—but how could they handle the situation when the one fire was starting new fires every minute?

Insurance is on the job at Astoria to pay its losses in full. BUT THE FELLOW WHO WAS NOT INSURED DOES NOT GET A CENT.

The only safe way to protect your property against loss by fire is to carry adequate insurance in strong, well-managed companies. A few dollars today may save you several thousand tonight. Call us today.
