OBSERVATIONS

(By Lithianus)
During the celebration and since I have observed:
That the people of Ashland and vicinity accorded excellent patronage to the program and coronation ceremonies on the evening of July 3.

That the special order prohibiting the shooting of fire crackers and the operation of other noise devices during the programs was not enforced.

That Queen Beth reigns in a manner becoming her position.
That the float of the Baptist Sunday school deserves a lot of credit.

That the decorated store front of E. R. Isaac & Co., was rightfully awarded first prize.

That the Grants Pass gave men and women received a good welcome during the parade.

That a great deal more applause was due the bands and other organizations that participated in the celebration.

That every district of Jackson county was well represented during the big two-day event.

That gazing up at the fire works is hard on the neck.
That the entries of the Vining added greatly to the parade.

That since the election of a queen there will be more aspirants for the office of president of the Lithians.

That the excellent decorations of the 20th Century Grocery justified one of the boys taking a snap-shot of it.

That Milt Miller sustained his reputation as the silver tongued orator.

That Judge Dill was learned to respect the strategy of a band of small boys armed with firecrackers.

That two men, apparently brothers, each over six feet, wearing long beards, and hair that extended below their shoulders, attended the celebration.

That everybody had a real good time.

That holding hands goes hand in hand with a celebration.

That a prominent member of the Tidings force successfully evaded the thousand or more automobiles for two days, only to be run down with a bicycle the morning after.

That Fred Wagner made an excellent presentation of the speaker of the day.

That the flag did not precede the parade.

That G. H. McGee was a good patron of the Lithian pavilion.

That the float entered by the ladies of Bellview district was a thing of beauty.

That the Presbyterian Sunday school was well represented in the parade.

That the Hartman Syndicate is a wide-awake organization, adding a lot to the parade.

That Wood's tire shop was novelly represented in the parade.

That good band music adds a lot to a celebration.

MEDFORD MAN LOSES BAIL RATHER THAN FACE JUDGE
Charles Bowman of Medford, forfeited fifty dollars for non-appearance in Judge Gowdy's court yesterday when he failed to appear in answer to a summons charging him with drunkenness.

Bowman had been celebrating Independence Day in a rather free manner on the streets of Medford, according to the complaint, and was put under arrest by a Medford officer. He put up a fifty dollar deposit for appearance, but at two o'clock yesterday had failed to appear.

If Bowman is caught now, he will have to face the judge in addition to losing his fifty dollars.
