VALUABLE AID GIVEN RUSSIA BY AMERICA

"How's the patient this morning, Doc?" "Better, thank you. I've given her 30,000 pounds of quinine and 700,000 pounds of cod liver oil, and it begins to look as if she would pull through."

Heroic treatment? Yes, but it was a very sick patient—the Russian bear. Henry Beeuwkes, M. D., of the United States Army, was the same doctor who prescribed for General Pershing of the A. E. F., and Russia was the harder patient of the two.

It is almost two years now that Dr. Beeuwkes has been sitting at her bedside, ministering to her wants and studying her many diseases. As chief of the Medical Division of the American Relief Administration, Dr. Beeuwkes has piled on Russia's bed 470,000 blankets, 570,000 sheets, 155,000 pillow and mattress covers, most of them plainly marked United States Army or American Red Cross. He has used 890,000 towels and 99,000 pairs of slippers for Russia while her recovery was in doubt, and 85,000 times he has completely outfitted one of her newborn sons or daughters from safety pin to socks.

He has bathed her with two and a half million pounds of soap. He has fumigated her with 800,000 pounds of sulphur, he has banded her with 8,000,000 gauze bandages, and dosed her with 377 different kinds of medicine. His was no homeopathic treatment; it took forty tons of chloroform and ether, 57 tons of castor oil, fifteen tons of aspirin and thirty-one tons of boric acid. When her worst ailment was recurrent typhus his prescription called for 700,000 ampules of neo-salvarsan. When she was dying with cholera and smallpox he inoculated and vaccinated her some 15,000,000 times.

It has been an expensive case. The medicines and medical supplies, the vaccines and serums, the surgical instruments and the bandages, the bedding and hospital clothing, the hot water bottles, the hypodermic needles and all that the rest have run up to $7,600,000 and that bill was paid by the United States Government, which turned over $4,000,000 worth of surplus Army medical supplies for Russian relief, and by the American Red Cross, which contributed $3,600,000. But since Dr. Beeuwkes took the case the Russian Commissar of Health says that there has been a decrease of 83 per cent in the number of typhus cases reported throughout Russia and of 75 per cent in the recurrent typhus cases reported throughout Russia and of 75 per cent in recurrent typhus, while cholera cases have shown an even greater falling off.

But with all the medical attention she has had, Russia might not have been well on the way toward complete convalescence if her diet had not been carefully looked after. The American Relief Administration has fed her some 900,000 tons of nourishing American food while Dr. Beeuwkes was prescribing for her. Now that she is stronger the Doctor is planning to discontinue his visits. Colonel Haskell, the director of the Russian unit of the American Relief Administration, has also decided that the emergency has passed and has advised the Chairman of the A. R. A., Herbert Hoover, that he will end the feeding at harvest time.

IRRIGATION WATER MAY BE RENTED FROM TALENT

in splendid shape. The most important question of the meeting, that of water, came up next. Rebates to several users was discussed and postponed. City Engineer Walker discussed the proposition of renting irrigation water from the Talent Irrigation company. This proposition seems feasible, and might prove cheaper than using Ashland creek water. The possibility of using water from Neil creek was also discussed. Mr. Walker was instructed to make a complete report of the different projects at a later time, and to recommend the one which proved most practical.

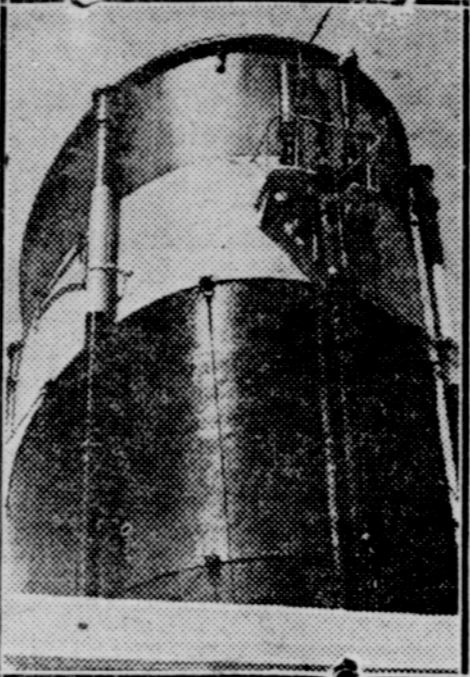

It was deemed advisable to put the Creamery, Laundry and Ice Plant on a water meter, so that an accurate check can be kept of the water they use and rates made accordingly. An ordinance, providing for a bond issue to cover the amount of $494.05 for a sidewalk on Sixth street, was presented by City Attorney Briggs, and passed unanimously at the second reading, after which the council adjourned until next Tuesday.

LEVIATHAN CARRIES TWO LARGEST STEAM WHISTLES

Two of the largest steam whistles in the world are on the Leviathan and sound a warning note that can be heard for miles. They are attached to the upper part of one of her three stacks and are 7 feet high weighing 250 pounds apiece. The whistles are made of brass which is a permanent metal, resisting rust, and unaffected even by the action of sea water.

IRRIGATION COMPANY SUES ANDERSON MAN

REDDING, Calif., July 11.—The Anderson-Cottonwood Irrigation District has brought suit in the superior court against C. W. Stewart of Anderson. The district asks for a temporary injunction against Stewart, that the temporary injunction be made perpetual and that he be taxed with the costs of the suit.

The action is the result of a combat between employees of the district and Stewart, in May last, when by "force of arms," he stopped the district from repairing a lateral across his forty-acre fruit orchard. The complaint recites that while the place was owned by Murray, a lateral was dug across the forty acres to deliver water to the tract itself, and also to the little farms of Thomas Kitto and L. W. Nelson, the latter being known as the Reliance farm. This lateral was laid out and dug with the approval of Murray and his local agent, Fred S. Field. Even after Stewart purchased the place, the complaint alleges Stewart himself approved the repair work done on the lateral, speaking of it as "nice work," and a "good ditch."

In May of this year, the complaint alleges, Stewart plowed down one bank of the ditch or lateral, so it was impossible to deliver water to the Kitto tract and to the Reliance farm. The district sent men to the lateral to make repairs, though the lateral still served the Stewart land.

It is alleged Stewart came on the ground and warned the workers if they attempted to do any labor on the lateral on his place they had better send for the sheriff and the coroner. The complaint alleges that Stewart hit one of the laborers on the head with a shovel and in a second stroke with the shovel missed his man and broke the handle, the shovel striking with great force on the ground. Then Stewart drew a revolver and threatened to shoot the laborers if they did any more work on the lateral, it is claimed. The employees of the district retired from the field and nothing else has been done in behalf of the district except to file the suit.

The Senator stated here that the Republicans will have a fight on their hands to win the next National Campaign. He added that it was too early to predict if the Republicans will win, and stated that he did not believe the liquor question will be of much importance "if both parties declare for law enforcement nominate candidates not identified with the wets." The Senator also stated that he believed President Harding will be nominated again with little opposition when the time comes. The distinguished visitor is to address a big gathering tonight at the Auditorium after which an "All-Idaho" banquet is scheduled, as this is Idaho day at the convention. Sophia Boellert, National vice-president for Idaho, has charge of the arrangements for the day.

CITY AS MANUFACTURING CENTER IS SEEN

city in Oregon."

Make Retorts Here "Another thing that will add to Ashland's growth is the fact that one of the three manufacturing plants which build the Hartman retorts will be located here." Mr. Hartman declared: "I have looked over the Ashland foundry, and it is one of the best equipped shops I have ever seen. Patterns from which the retorts are to be made are being shipped from Buffalo, N. Y., now, and as soon as they arrive, construction will be commenced on the first one."

There are but three manufacturing plants in the United States, one at Buffalo, one at Oakland, and the one to be located here. Mr. Hartman says that the foundry is completely equipped to build the retorts, and that the only additions will be in storage space in order to handle the huge volume.

Hartman's Connection

Asked if he had a financial interest in the local company, Mr. Hartman declared that the entire resources of the fifteen million dollar Hartman company was back of it. He said that his concern was strictly a manufacturing one, making all the retorts for the world, and was the mother company of the shale development companies. The retorts are not sold outright to the producers, but operated on a royalty basis, the mother company getting a certain percentage of the income from the finished product.

Natural Resources

All day yesterday, Mr. Hartman, who has many interests besides that of producing retorts, was in consultation at the Lithia Spring, and after investigating, declares that Ashland is the ideal location for a health resort which will rival those of Europe and the eastern states.

"Your natural resources are wonderful, and the location ideal for a health resort," he stated. "Today I sent a telegram to two prominent eastern doctors, asking that they come immediately and look over the situation. I believe that they will agree to erect a million dollar sanitarium near here, and exploit your climate and mineral waters."

"Another thing you will need here is another large modern hotel. With the influx of people that will come within the next two years, one will be necessary, and if local capital won't build one, outside capital will."

Other Interests Mr. Hartman is said to be a noted inventor-capitalist. Pointing to the Pioneer Hall, he informed the Tidings representative, that he had invented the machine which cas the stones. He also claims a hydraulic suction dredge, machines for handling shale, others for refining oil and other inventions to his credit.

Mr. Hartman, who has been making his headquarters at the Hotel Ashland for the past several days, left last night for Los Angeles to look after business interests there.

BABSON says

"There is very little sense in spending the best part of one's life in working hard to get a few dollars if those dollars do not earn for you after you get them. If your income is $5,000 or under, it is probable that all your savings for some time should be used as an investment fund."
