PLANS FOR ENTERTAINMENT OF CHERRIANS COMPLETED

Special Meeting Held Last Night For Initiation Of Two New Members and To Complete Preparations Of Program.

PEP SONGS TO BE BANQUET FEATURE

Introduction Of Queen To Be One Of Main Events During Meeting. Speech Of Welcome To Be Given By Dr. Crandall.

The program for the banquet which the Lithians are preparing to give the Salem Cherrians here Saturday noon has been announced by High Grand Fizz V. D. Miller and is composed of eight parts, which includes speeches by both Lithians and Cherrians and songs and stunts by both the booster organizations.

4 Pep Songs Feature

The program will be carried out during and following the banquet which the Lithians have arranged to give the Salem Boosters in Lithia park at noon. The program as arranged is to be started off by several Pep Song selections which the Lithians have been practicing for some time at all their meetings and these songs will be led by the official Lithian Meadowlark H. G. Enders, Jr.

Queen To Be Present

The introduction of Queen Beth, the Lithian Queen to the Cherrians is to be the next number on the program and will be under the direction of the High Grand Fizz. This will be followed by the speech of Greeting to the Cherrians which will be made by Dr. Crandall. The Lithian Quartet is then to be called upon to exhibit their musical skill in a few numbers after which the King Bing or President of the Salem Cherrians is to be called upon for a few remarks. Mr. William Hamilton is the King Bing of the visitors and will conduct this part of the program.

Cherrians Put on Stunts

The Cherrians will then stage a few pep stunts for the benefit of the Lithians, and since the visitors have a name as being one of the most peppy groups in the state, they will no doubt put this over in fine style. After the conclusion of the Cherrian stunts the visitors will be presented with official souvenirs of Ashland by the Lithians, these souvenirs probably taking the form of Lithia water or some local product.

Will Look Over Park

The conclusion of the program will be also in the hands of H. G. Enders, Jr., who will lead the Lithians in some more of their Pep songs and after this there will be a short dance staged for the benefit of the visitors and Lithians. Following the dance the Cherrians will be escorted over the scenic drive and other highways of Ashland by the Lithians after which they plan to leave immediately for Medford, where they will dine Saturday evening.

Special Meeting Held

A special meeting of the Lithians was held last evening for the two-fold purpose of initiating two new members, Andy McGee and Jim Bowers, and of making further preparations for the entertainment of the visiting Cherrians. The meeting started at the Hotel Ashland at 6:30 with a dinner, which was followed by the initiation ceremony which was put over at the dance pavilion in Lithia Park.

Two Are Initiated

Several pep song rallies were held during the evening and while the men were being initiated, these being led by Henry Enders, Jr., for the purpose of getting the members in practice for the Cherrian entertainment. A request was made by High Grand Fizz Miller that all Lithians that were able to should accompany the Normal School teachers to Buckhorn Lodge this evening as the entire personnel of the club was invited.

WORLD FAMOUS PAINTING TO BE GUARDED BY GLASS

ROME, July 26.—Raphael's world-famous painting of "The Transfiguration," hanging in the Vatican galleries, has been found to be suffering from exposure to the air, and in future will be protected by glass.

ASHLAND LITHIA PARK PRAISED BY TRAVELER

A boost for the Ashland Lithia Park and other scenic beauties of the vicinity, and coming from a source that makes it authentic, was reported by Mr. S. Penniston yesterday, who met an old friend on the streets a few days ago who had been visiting in Ashland for several days. Golden L. Downing was the name of the friend, and he is an Oakland financier, who has traveled extensively both in Europe and the United States, but says Ashland scenery eclipses anything that he has ever seen. The part that Mr. Downing liked especially about the park was the fact of its naturalness and that it was in a town of this size, thus assuring that it would not be destroyed and marred as it would in a larger place.

PRESBYTERIAN SYNOD OFFICERS SELECTED

EUGENE, July 26.—Officers were elected this afternoon for the Presbyterian synod of Oregon. Rev. W. C. Ross of the First Presbyterian church of La Grande was elected moderator, the presiding officer of the synod; Rev. J. Y. Stewart of Whitson, permanent clerk, and J. L. Webster of Bend temporary clerk. An attendance of 125 ministers and their wives from the Presbyterian churches throughout the state is estimated at the annual session, which opened today on the campus, according to Bruce J. Giffen, university student pastor and acting host for the synod session.

At 3:30 Dean Colin V. Dymont of the college of literature, science and the arts, delivered the opening address of the synod, in the absence of President P. J. Campbell. The evening sermon at 8 o'clock was delivered by Rev. M. K. W. Heicher of Corvallis.

Special assemblies at 11 o'clock in Villard hall are to be given Friday and Saturday for the benefit of the synod members as well as the summer students. This morning Dr. E. S. Conklin will start a series on "Two Attempts at Character Analysis," having for his subject today "A Genetic Attempt" and tomorrow "A Psycho-Analytic Attempt," dealing largely with the Freudian theory.

Oregon Senators May Speak Here

Will Come On President's Special To Stay For Remainder Of Day

A telegram received here by the Chamber of Commerce this morning brought the information that Senators McNary and Staufield of Oregon will arrive in Ashland on Saturday at 2:30 on the president's special train, and will stay here over the rest of the day and also for the evening.

Attempts are being made at present by Senator George Dunn and others on the committee to get the Chautauqua building here for a big special meeting here that evening for the purpose of having the two senators address the people of southern Oregon, but at present it is doubtful if such a meeting will be held. In a telegram received here today, it was announced that the president's special train will arrive here about 2:30 o'clock in the afternoon and will be here for fifteen minutes, during which time the president will make a talk from the rear platform of his train.

SEVERAL POUNDS OF ROCK TAKEN FROM BLAST VICTIM

KLAMATH FALLS, July 26.—Hospital authorities say crushed rock weighing several pounds was removed by physicians from the body of Bert J. Day, who recently was seriously injured in a dynamite explosion on the Klamath Falls-Ashland highway, which resulted in the death of Glenn Nyhart, with whom he was working.

Although suffering from many lacerations about the body, Day has retained consciousness ever since he was brought to the hospital. His condition is still grave and it will be several days before his recovery is certain. Bits of crushed rock lodged in his flesh from his face downward.

Motorcycle Is Badly Smashed

A new motorcycle which he had just bought was wrecked last night when George Trott smashed into a Buick car which Miss Caribell Morehouse was driving.

TroTT had just bought the machine second hand, and with James Smith was trying it out. The motorcycle came down Palm avenue, and Trott failed to see Miss Morehouse, who had stopped at the foot of the street, in time to turn off, and so smashed into the side of her machine.

The Buick was not damaged nor was the driver injured, but the motorcycle did not fare so well, as the front end of it was badly smashed, and the riders were shaken up, but not badly injured.

PRESIDENT'S WELCOME HEARTY IN DOMINION

VANCOUVER, B. C., July 26.—The president made history here today when he came to Canada as the first American president to set foot on Canadian soil with an inspiring message of American friendship and peace which has existed for over 100 years on no firmer foundation than a scrap of paper.

The enduring record of Canadian-American peace, maintained without fortifications affords an object lesson to the entire world, the president declared before a distinguished audience. The lesson should be taken to heart by European countries which continually criticize and envy the North American prosperity, and yet who consistently refuse to take medicine which would cure their ills and provide them with a similar peace and prosperity.

The president was given welcome here such as the dominion records only to royalty. He lunched as a guest of the Civic Government, played golf, and was a guest at a state dinner. He leaves for Seattle at 9:30 p. m.

NEW YORK, July 26.—Have you ever really wanted anything but the prize of a long time and then suddenly found yourself in possession of the very thing which you coveted? If you've experienced this then you realize the feeling of Johnny Dundee, popular Little Italian, who tonight realizes a long-cherished ambition when he hops into the ring with Eugene Criqui, iron-jawed Frenchman, and gets a crack at the featherweight crown which now graces the dome of the Poilu veteran.

For this very reason Johnny is in the best condition of his career. But in this he hasn't a thing on the only man in the boxing game who sports a sheep bone for a jaw. Eugene's training period at Manhasset has been spent to advantage, and when he gave up active training the other day he announced through an interpreter that he was ready, never felt better and was confident of knocking Dundee loose from one ambition.

When the little Italian challenger crawls between the ropes tonight it will be with satisfaction that comes with a ten-year wait. He actually has waited that long to "do his stuff" against the featherweight title holder. This was largely, if not entirely, due to Johnny Kilbane's ring inactivity. Kilbane put the title which he so long held before bouts and the lure of lucre. He lost cash and the crown last June 2, when he was knocked for a shelf of featherweight debris by the aggressive challenger. The present title holder does not put the championship belt above cash. He's after all the francs he can gather, and for this reason is willing to take on all comers. Dundee was his favorite, and it didn't take long for him to get a bout. Both fighters are held high in the esteem of boxing fans. Betting is about even, inclining slightly in some quarters to favor Criqui. This is but natural, for he proved himself a worthy champion in the Kilbane fracas.

Let it be understood, however, that the Scotch Wop has a chance—and a good one—against the Frenchman and his sheepbone, his heritage of the World War, in which his jaw was shot away. This gift of modern medical science has not left Criqui invulnerable, however. He still possesses the proverbial "button," and all Dundee must do to grab the featherweight title is to connect with this very "button."

His backers say he can do it. He couldn't do it again Kilbane back in 1913, when the title bout ended in a 20-round draw. Criqui proved his supremacy over Kilbane. It remains to be seen what success Dundee will have against the Frenchman.

NEW YORK, July 26.—Tris Speaker, veteran manager of the Cleveland Indians, said a batfagful when, in an interview, he declared: "The Athletics are a strong club, but the team that wins the American League pennant will have to beat the New York Yanks to do it."

From the present outlook, with Huggins' horde riding on the wings of a lead such as few teams ever have employed—and with the team crippled, at that—the other seven aggregations comprising the American circuit won't have a chance to be at the top when the season ends. When Speaker made his statement he refrained from commenting on his team's chances. While admitting the class of the Yanks and the strength of the Mackens, he didn't berate his own nine when he said: "I think my team is as good as any way you want to. Now his club stands second, but is far behind the Yanks. The Athletics are third. A comparison now proves Tris an optimist, but not a flatterer."

THIEF MAKES JAIL BREAK AT ALBANY

ALBANY, July 26.—By reopening the hole in the wall used by Rutie Johnson used to escape three weeks ago Carl Silva, held here on the charge of attempted automobile theft, escaped last night and is still at large. The hole had been bricked up after Johnson's escape and the unsuccessful attempt made by George Parker, sentenced to hang for the murder of Sheriff Dunlap.

Silva pried a bar on the iron ceiling of the corridor loose with the broken bar, dug out the bricks and cement. Tourist traffic up the Sacramento River Canyon is the heaviest yet seen. Two thousand cars passed in one day.

WELL KNOWN WRITER HERE VISITING WITH RELATIVES

Mrs. Mary Greer Conklin, of Boston, Massachusetts, is the guest of her brother Mr. Bert Greer at his home on Granite street. Mrs. Conklin is a Radcliffe woman and one of the many writers turned out by that famous women's annex of Harvard college. She is the author of a popular book of essays which has sold all over the English-speaking world. Shortly Mrs. Conklin will go with her sister, Miss Eleanor Greer, to Miss Greer's shack on her homestead near Hill where they will rough it and invite their souls in the beauties of nature.

DEMONSTRATIONS NOT ALLOWED IN GERMANY

BERLIN, July 26.—"Verboten" was the stern warning issued by the mainstays here today to the monarchists and communists to prevent any demonstration in connection with the Ninth Mobilization Anniversary for the great war.

Both sides had announced demonstrations against further war. The government put "Verboten" sign upon all open air mass meetings and parades.

The communist newspaper, Rote Fahne, in defiance of the government's orders, urged all radical socialists to come to Berlin to observe "Fascist Day." The paper was not as violent as usual, but in a veiled manner, urged the people to go to Potsdam on Sunday and "smoke out all remnants of monarchism and militarism from its stronghold."

It is feared that if violence occurs, a slaughter unprecedented in proportions will follow. It is reported that Reds have taken an oath to kill all old army chiefs, and German Fascistic opposed to Communists and Socialists.

FOOTBALL COACH AT IOWA IN HARD LUCK

IOWA CITY, Ia., July 26.—With the mainstays of his 1922 championship eleven lost by graduation Coach Howard H. Jones, mentor of the University of Iowa football team, faces a huge task this fall in building up the Hawkeyes to the strength they possessed and the prestige they commanded last year. Only the framework remains of the wonder team which humbled the Yale Bulldog coached by Tad Jones, brother of Howard.

Six of the regulars, who made up their full time in Big Ten athletics, Captain Gordon Locke, All-American quarterback, who alternated his brilliant generalship with smashing line plunges and end runs, will be the heaviest loss to Jones. And there will be no one to take his place, for Locke filled the All-American quarterback shoes worn in 1921 by Aubrey Devine.

Locke intends to attend the law school here this winter. Devine has relinquished his freshman team coaching job to take charge of the backfield men at the University of Denver.

KLAMATH FALLS IN FIRE DAMAGE SUIT

KLAMATH FALLS, July 26.—Klamath Falls now faces a damage suit for $105,000 as an outgrowth of the Houston Hotel fire in 1920, in which A. Bilderback alleges his wife and daughter were burned to death.

The suit will come as a result of the action of Federal Judge Wolverton of Portland in overruling the plea in abatement and the motion to strike out certain paragraphs in the complaint filed by Bilderback, in which the city of Klamath Falls is defendant. The decision brings the matter to an issue and the next step in this now locally famous case is the trial.

Judge Wolverton's decision was a blow to this city, as it swept aside the last recourse that the attorneys for the city had depended upon to have the case

ROTARIANS INTER-STATE MEETING IS BIG SUCCESS

Escaped Convicts Evade Searchers

Special Search Is Being Made As Two Of Men Are Dangerous

PORTLAND, July 26.—Hubert Berry, Lionel Hobson and Richard Moore, the three convicts who escaped yesterday from the Oregon State Penitentiary slipped through the Police net here early today and are still at large.

The three men were sighted in a warehouse near here by several citizens who summoned police of Portland and a group of the special detectives who were scouring the country searching for the missing men, but the Police were slow and arrived only after the men had become suspicious and fled.

The convicts succeeded in securing some new clothing in the warehouse and changed their prison garb for civilian clothes. The discarded prison suits were found in the warehouse, indicating that the men are now wearing civilian clothes.

The police are combing the city for the convicts as both Hobson and Berry are considered dangerous to be at large.

ASHLAND BOYS MAKE INTERESTING TOUR

Two Ashland boys, Roy McCampbell and Cyrus Ballit returned home on July 22, after a trip which started on May 14, and extended across the United States.

On May 14, the boys left Ashland, and traveled east over the famous Lincoln highway, visiting Denver, and stopping at camp grounds and resorts along the way. They stopped in New York City for some time and also visited Washington, D. C., for a while.

The return trip was made by the old National Trail, which runs through the southern states. At Baltimore, Maryland the boys stopped for several days visiting.

A distance of 9273 miles was covered on the trip, and a total of $65.10 was spent for repairs to the machine.

Laughing Upheld In Circuit Court

CHICAGO, July 26.—The constitutional rights of an individual to laugh when someone crosses an officer of the law with a brick received a glorious victory in Dolton, a small town near here, today.

Charles Bethke of Dolton was fined $10 for laughing when some boisterous spirit beamed the Dolton constable with a sample of Irish confetti. The man who wielded the brick escaped and when the constable returned from the chase, weary of limb and sore of spirit, he found Bethke leaning against the town pump in paroxysms of laughter.

This ruffled the constable still more, and so Bethke was lodged in the village bastille, and a ten-dollar fine was salped on him. Bethke appealed the case and Judge David of the circuit court reversed the decision of the Dolton justice.

Thrown out of court. Bilderback originally brought the suit in the local circuit court. A demurrer filed by the city was sustained and Bilderback's attorneys dismissed the case here and filed there, but Judge Wolverton sustained the contention of Bilderback's attorneys and overruled it.

The Houston Hotel fire, the most disastrous in the history of Klamath Falls, occurred on the early morning of Labor Day, when the city was crowded with people, who came to attend the celebration. A number of lives were lost in the fire, the exact number never having been definitely established so exactly was the flimsy structure consumed that people sleeping in the city had difficulty in making their escape.

Californians Are Met At State Line By Pilot Car Of Oregon Group And Escorted Back To Ashland

WELCOME EXTENDED BY MAYOR LOOMIS

Banquet In Lithia Park Is Attended By Over 150 Visitors. Will Go To Crater Lake Tomorrow Morning.

With banners flying and horns blowing, fourteen cars, filled with representatives of the Rotarians of California, led by the Portland Pilot Car, with Bob Stewart, president of the Portland Rotarians at the wheel, arrived in Ashland shortly before noon today.

Meet at State Line. The California cars were met at the Oregon-California state line by the pilot car, and were led by it to Ashland, where they were joined by ten Portland machines, several Medford cars, two carsloads of Klamath Falls Rotarians, and a carload from both Eugene and Roseburg.

Purpose of Trip. The purpose of the meeting in Ashland was to stimulate friendship between the sister state of Oregon and California, and to provide a "get together" for the Rotarians of the two states. The California Caravan was led by Charlie Waters of the San Francisco Rotarians, and consists of 53 Rotarians and their ladies. The cars came from all the principal cities of California, and represent practically every Rotarian club in the state.

Banquet in Park. The principal feature of the greeting in Ashland consisted of a banquet which the visiting Rotarians provided for themselves in the lower end of Lithia park. The table was set for over a hundred people, with H. L. Walters of the Medford club acting in the capacity of chairman. After the banquet, Chairman Walters first called on Charlie Walters, the chairman of the San Francisco Interstate Committee for a speech, and was answered with a tribute to Oregon and to Ashland's Park.

Friendship Urged. "We are glad to be in Oregon," declared Mr. Walters, "and to do our part in cultivating a spirit of co-operation between the two states. A spirit of animosity will do nothing but harm to both states."

In response to Mr. Walters, Bob Stewart, president of the Portland club made a fitting reply and also expressed a wish that more co-operation be encouraged between Oregon and California.

A roll call of the California Rotarians next took place, to which all who started on the trip answered, with the exception of the car load that had been delayed by car trouble.

Mayor Welcomes Visitors. Mayor Loomis was the next speaker called on, and welcomed the visitors to Ashland, and asked them to consider the city as theirs during their short stay. William Briggs, representing the Ashland Chamber of Commerce, also made a short speech of welcome.

Praises Ashland. Harry McKinney of San Francisco, was the chief speaker of the occasion. He complimented Ashland upon its beauty, and particularly for its park, which he declared surpassed any natural park he had ever seen. The need of co-operation was also dwelt upon.

Oregon received a compliment upon her good roads which extended from one end of the state to the other. Having just traveled the northern part of California roads, Mr. McKinney declared he could certainly appreciate Oregon's cement highway.

Address Are Given. Two other addresses were delivered, one by Wilson Wiley of the Klamath Falls Rotarians and one by W. H. Gore, representing the Medford club. Both talks dwelt on much the same subjects as had the ones previously.

About two o'clock the caravan left for Medford, where they will spend the night, going on to Crater Lake in the morning.

Albany-Harrisburg highway nears completion. Elgin has heavy apple crop.
