

LOCAL AND PERSONAL NOTES

A Daily Chronicle of those who come and go, and events of local interest.

Here Visiting—

Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Wakefield came over from Klamath Falls yesterday visiting with the Hobbs family of C street. The Wakefields will remain here for several days.

Lumbermen Here—

Mr. and Mrs. R. F. Barnes, with Miss Phyllis Barnes of Brooklyn, N. Y., were registered at the Hotel Ashland last night. Mr. Barnes is the head of a big eastern lumber concern. The party will leave soon for Klamath Falls, where Mr. Barnes may purchase extensive lumber interests.

Rotarian Here—

Bashful Smith and wife of San Francisco, were in Ashland last night. Mr. Smith is an advance man for the California Rotarians, and was making arrangements for their stay here.

Attend Picnic—

Mrs. Loomis and Mrs. Caldwell of the Community Hospital were guests yesterday evening at the annual picnic of the Medford doctors and nurses. Dr. Jarvis was also a guest at the affair, which was held at the Medford Elks picnic grounds.

Wants Cars—

Everyone having a car which they wish to place at the disposal of the Lithians are asked to report to Carl Loveland in their machines about 10:30 or 11 a. m. Saturday. The machines will be used to welcome the Cherrians of Salem to our city, and a large number is wanted.

Ideal Patient—

Five year old, Leo Jones, who recently underwent an operation at the Community Hospital is an ideal patient, according to the nurses, who say that he is quieter and a better patient than many who are years his senior.

Undergoes Operation—

Heln Schrieder, who was taken to the Community Hospital in a bad condition recently underwent an operation yesterday, and is now in a much better condition.

Injures Finger—

J. Osborn, who works at the Tufts Lumber Company had the misfortune to badly injure his finger yesterday, running a steel splinter in it. The splinter was removed, and although painful, the injury will not be serious.

Is Improving—

James McDonough of Morton Street, who was badly burned in a locomotive mishap at Sisson Tuesday night is much improved, and will probably be well enough to leave the hospital in a week.

Visiting Aunt—

Mrs. Carl Freiss of St. Joseph, Mo., a niece of Mrs. Lana Channel, arrived in Ashland, and plans to make an extended visit here.

Back in Ashland—

Mrs. C. C. Weisenberger, one of the Shrine delegates to Washington D. C., after making an extended visit with relatives in Los Angeles and other points in Southern California on the return trip, arrived in Ashland yesterday morning.

Here Short Time—

Clark Butterfield, a local high school boy who is working for the S. P., near the summit of the Siskiyou was in Ashland last night visiting with friends and with his parents.

Visiting Brother—

Mrs. Jacob L. Link of Peru, Illinois, is visiting her brother, Max Ge Bauer this week. Mrs. Link lives at Peru, and motored through with her son Delwin and her daughter Adalyn. They report themselves quite favorably impressed with Ashland.

On Fishing Trip—

Bob Wagner is on a fishing trip in the Dead Indian country this week. He stated before leaving that he expected to snag lots of fish while on the trip.

Back From Trip—

Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Thomas and Barney Miller and family recently returned from a ten day camping trip to the Naturay Bridge. They report that the bridge is an ideal place for a vacation, and that they had a wonderful time every day of the trip.

Working At Talent—

Glen Wild, a local high school boy, is working for J. Fish at Talent. He formerly worked on a ranch south of Ashland, but yesterday changed locations.

Visits at Sisson—

Mrs. Pernie Johnson returned recently from a visit of a few days with her daughter, Mrs. Kenneth Mc Williams, whose work at the normal closes on Friday of this week.

Back From Lake—

Amos Nininger and family returned yesterday from a five day stay at Lake of the Woods. Mr. Nininger reports a fine time while on the trip.

Here From Klamath—

K. Loosley and Mr. McAuliff, arrived in Ashland today from Fort Klamath. They will remain here until after the pageant at the Jackson County Fair Grounds.

To Shoot Sunday—

Members of the 484th company are to hold the final competition for the rifle team that will represent Ashland at the Clackamas range during the state shoot in August, next Sunday.

Plans Trip—

F. B. Moore with his son Burton plan to leave some time this week for Eastern Oregon, where Mr. Moore owns extensive wheat interests.

Here On Business—

Mr. Fred Parsons, Portland representative of the Wiggins company was in Ashland today transacting business with Ashland accessory and automobile merchants.

Abe Mapes, who has been working at the Old Jones ranch was in Ashland today visiting with friends. He will return to the ranch this evening.

Daily News Letter

LONDON, July 26.—For goodness sake! Are Englishmen wearing corsets?

This question comes to mind after one reads the Tailor and Cutter, the English fashion magazine for men.

Tailor and Cutter makes frequent amusing comments on the clothes of English gentlemen, but it really interests when it seems to intimate that they have taken to corsets.

One of the boys—who writes for Tailor and Cutter—went to Ascot and viewed the fashion parade—He rushed back to his office and wrote the following:

"Taking a broad survey of both feminine and masculine dress, the most noticeable paradox was that man's showed form and corsetry, while the woman's was loose and non-committal. 'Mildy's frock had beauty of design, exquisite coloring and grace of line, but not a suspicion of shapeliness. Fashion moulds and flexes a man, but drapes a woman. He boldly displays his figure, but here is discreetly and mysteriously veiled. He is definite and positive, while she is without form and void of distinctness.

"To sum up, in 1923 it can be said that woman may be the glass of fashion, but man is the mould of form.

"While man's waist is creeping up, woman's is slipping down. Man's waist is being pushed up into his ribs, while woman's is descending to her hips."

Most Englishmen indignantly deny the implication that they are resorting to the corsets in order better to display their manly figures. A few bolder souls however, have written letters to the papers in defense of corsets for men. Perhaps it may become a prevailing British custom for men to corset themselves. Who knows?

The London theatrical season is half over, and there has been an amazing number of failures registered. This year probably will rank as the season in which there were the greatest number of quick failures in theatrical annals.

The record is held by "The Inevitable," which only lasted four nights. Among the more notable failures were "Angelo," which ran for 29 performances; "Merton of the Movies," which closed after 38 performances; "The Insect Comedy," which lasted only 41 performances; "If Winter Comes," which had 53 showings and "The Young Idea," which closed after 60 performances.

Most of these plays were hailed with delight by the critics, but the public failed to approve. It is estimated that nearly a million dollars has been lost on theatrical ventures in London this season.

London is beginning to wonder about American statesmen. There was a time when those who came here talked with the greatest freedom and told the world what was wrong with it, but this season statesmen tourists have been most reluctant to talk.

AW, WHAT'S THE USE

First came Senator Oscar Underwood, of Alabama, who announced that he was merely on a vacation and had nothing to say. Then along came Senator Hiram Johnson, whom the British have regarded as rather a fiery character, and the California Senator disappointed by refusing to talk. Secretary of the Treasury Mellon, a notably silent man, also failed to have a great deal to say. London wonders just what has happened, and is beginning to suspect that perhaps it is the beginning of wisdom on the part of American statesmen, to save their words for home consumption.

Andre Charlot, the English Florenz Ziegfeld, is just back from America and he has risen to the occasion by announcing that English girls can challenge the most beautiful girls of any county, not even excepting America.

Charlot is going to take an English revue show to the United States this fall, and his beauty chorus will probably be an English challenge to Ziegfeld. Americans in London are placing their bets on Ziegfeld, after close observation of the tea-time parades in Picadilly.

Mrs. A. A. McMasters of Marshfield spent the day here yesterday calling on friends.

C. F. Salber of Modesto, California, was an Ashland visitor yesterday.

Mr. and Mrs. E. T. Pierce of Modesto, were Ashland visitors yesterday.

C. P. Hessing of Bandon spent the day here yesterday transacting business.

L. A. Harris of Los Angeles was in Ashland yesterday visiting with friends.

C. L. Curtis, of Shelby, Montana was an Ashland visitor yesterday.

Frank Kenny of Portland spent yesterday here transacting business.

Bayshi Jack and L. Bates of Auckland, New Zealand, who are on their way to San Francisco, stopped in Ashland yesterday to see the city.

Columbia county valuation shows increase of $1,000,000.

Forest Grove surveying new sidewalk district in south part of town.

G. T. Bradshaw of Portland, arrived in Ashland last night, and will be here some time transacting business.

Charles Dow of Seattle spent the day here yesterday transacting business.

Hood River ships 8 cars cherries.

Oregon's commercial apple yield estimated at 5,045,000 boxes this year, which compares with 5-year average of 3,742,000.

Forest Grove surveying new sidewalk district in south part of town.

Classified ads bring results.

MILK BOTTLES
2 Qt. Bottles, 25c
2 Pt. Bottles, 15c
Mason Jars (Saturday Only)
Pints, per dozen, 80c
Quarts, per dozen, $1.00
VARIETY STORE
89 N. Main

Andre Charlot, the English Florenz Ziegfeld, is just back

DANCE

Benefit of Children's Play Ground

Open Air Dance Platform

LITHIA PARK Ashland

SATURDAY

July 28

Special Dances and Songs

VINING THE THEATER BEAUTIFUL

Final Showing Today

"You Can't Fool Your Wife"

—and—

LARRY SEAMON

—in—

"The Agent"

Friday and Saturday

Driven in panic before an unknown terror, yelling, trampling all before them, until with a calm cool, courage born of love, there arose a leader—a beautiful girl, who because she loved the man who was pinned between crashing walls hundreds of feet below the surface of the earth, dared to enter where brave men feared to tread.

Carl Laemmle presents

PRISCILLA

Dean

AND A GREAT CAST

a remarkable picturization of the best novels by

Frances Hodgson Burnett

Flame of Life

A Hobard Henley Production Universal Jewel

—also—

"PLUNDER"

ST. LOUIS, July 26.—To a woman flier goes the honor of being the first entry in the International Air Races of 1923, to be held at St. Louis Field, October 1, 2 and 3.

Officials of the St. Louis Air Board, under whose auspices the big aerial meet will be held, today announced receipt of the first of more than 250 entries, which are expected for the eight events. The distinction goes to Mrs. Bertha Dale Horchem, of Ransom, Kansas, who, in a trial here on July 5 last, reached an altitude of 16,300 feet—the highest altitude any woman has attained.

Mrs. Horchem is entered in the "On To St. Louis Race," for which the St. Louis Chamber of Commerce is offering a valuable trophy in addition to the cash award of $1,000.

In this race, which is open to civilian fliers only, planes will be flown from all points of the country to this city. In deciding the winner points will be awarded on the speed, the distance and the number of passengers carried, as well as the horse power of the engines.

Last year, in the similar "On to Detroit Race," more than 100 pilots from all sections of the country competed. The winner of the Detroit race was Walter H. Neach, of Wichita, Kansas, who took first place in a Laird "Swallow." It is a coincidence that Mrs. Horchem, also a Jay-walker, pilots the same type of airplane.

Mrs. Horchem holds an added distinction in being the second woman to receive a license from the National Aeronautic Association, successor to the Aero Club of America, as representative of the Federation Aeronautique-Internationale, by which all flying licenses are issued, and under whose regulation the events at the international meet here this fall will be governed.

Officials of the St. Louis Air Board also announced that entries from now on are expected to come in rapidly, as a complete distribution of entry blanks and race regulations has been made.

It is known that the Army and Navy particularly are grooming their fastest planes for the various races in which military entries will be received, and also that a number of new airplanes of radical design will compete.

VINING TUESDAY JULY 31 ONE DAY ONLY

THIRTY THIRD SEASON

The Famous GEORGIA MINSTRELS

40-PEOPLE-40

Band and Orchestra

WATCH FOR THE STREET PARADE

Reserved Seat Sale Opens Friday, 1 to 2:30 and 7 to 9

Our Big July Clearance Sale

still continues, with bigger and better bargains in all departments added every day.

AS A SPECIAL ATTRACTION —for—

FRIDAY and SATURDAY

We have added a line of show room samples of table cloths, both round and square, hemmed and hem-stitched, some with colored borders. Qualities cotton mercerised and all linen.

Also a large line of sample towels, in guest and regular sizes, cotton hucks and real linens, at a trifle above wholesale cost. This is a wonderful chance to replenish your linen supply and save money.

Come Early For Good Choice

E. R. ISAAC & CO. (The Quality Store)

When These Small Lots of SUMMER

Suits, Coats & Dresses

ARE GONE

we shall be ready to show our fall garments LOOK AT THE PRICES

$4.95 3 coats, sizes 16-18 7 wool skirts in Navy Blue or Plaids
$6.75 2 coats worth to $14.75 in size 14. One Brown Satin dress, size 16.
$9.75 6 Suits, Misses and Ladies. 3 coats, small sizes 3 Silk Dresses.

$16.75 9 silk dresses, sizes 18 to 46 and worth to $25. One size 38 Navy Blue Velour, $29.50 coat.
McGee's DRY GOODS ASHLAND, ORE.
$19.75 2 fine Twill Suits, Box style jackets, sizes 16 and 36. 5 splendid coats and capes values up to $45.