ROAD HOGS AND SPEED FIENDS Life insurance and accident companies, transportation lines, civic associations and other organizations have been preaching, "safety first" for several years with a view to eliminating, or reducing to the lowest possible minimum, the number of deaths and injuries sustained annually in the nation.

Efforts are being exerted to curb the reckless class of drivers, but the daily accidents and fatalities prove that the traffic regulations and officers are not able to cope with the situation. The condition is no doubt due to a lack of traffic officers, and in some instances, of ineffectual enforcement.

If a proper regard for human life is maintained in this state a policy far more drastic than that in vogue at present will have to be adopted. We holler about the expenditure of public funds, but if a few thousand dollars is added for the enforcement of traffic laws in the state it will be money well spent.

THEN AND NOW In the time that has elapsed since the death of President Harding not the slightest fear has been expressed by any statesman or newspaper relative to business carrying on as usual.

It has been only a few years since people contemplated the death of a president with grave apprehension as regards the nation's prosperity. Predictions were general that business would be disrupted upon the death of any of the chief executives and it is true that at that time the passing of a president may have caused slight flurries in the nation's business.

Deep as is the regret expressed by all over the passing of President Harding, the business world experienced no feeling of insecurity following the announcement of his demise, and business goes on, secure in the belief that our ship of state is being guided by able hands.

ALL HUMAN BEINGS HATE FOREIGN RULE

Premier Poincare of France has insisted on nothing more strongly than that if the German government would denounce the policy of passive resistance in the Ruhr, the way would be opened for settlement.

But Roy Dickerson, an American newspaper correspondent, who has just completed a tour of inspection in that district, takes a different view. He finds that the petty tyrannies of the French military authorities; the wholesale expulsion of thousands of people; the infliction of drastic penalties even on schoolboys, has aroused such a resentment that nothing the German government can do or say will modify the attitude of the people.

He quotes Peter Grassman, president of the General Federation of German Trade Unions, as saying: "No government could order us to undertake passive resistance, and no government can force us to desist."

That seems to be a logical and extremely human condition of mind.

No matter what might be the wrongs or rights of the controversy, should a Japanese army, for instance, occupy a portion of the Pacific coast, every red-blooded American would resist to the limit. Only cravens would bend the knee.

And human nature, in its essential elements, is pretty much the same the world over. Men with the least spark of patriotism in their breasts will always hate, detest and harass the foreign invader.

German resistance in the Ruhr is not to the discredit of the people living there.

Rather to minds still not blinded by war propaganda, it is to their credit they have remained so steadfastly loyal to their country in the face of overwhelming and aggressive force.—Sacramento Bee.

A DAMNING CRITICISM

Mrs. Sabelle Nitti Crudelle of Chicago, one of the two women recently convicted of murder and, contrary to the usual American custom, sentenced to death, has her own explanation of the reason for her conviction and sentence. Speaking of another woman recently acquitted of husband murder, the offense, for which she is condemned to die, Mrs. Crudelle says: "Pretty face, shoot husband, no babe, go free. Me no good look, babe no padre, stay in jail."

Supposing everybody tried to get tax-exempt bonds, where would the money come from to run the government.

MORE GOOD ADVERTISING

The progressive citizens of Ashland welcome the announcement that standard road signs, directing tourists to Ashland and beautiful Lithia Park, have been erected on the highways both north and south.

The erection of the signs completes another plan of advertising adopted by the Chamber of Commerce. It is a plan that has been commended by many being imperative if Ashland is to maintain the lead as the tourist center of Southern Oregon.

Maj. Gen Leonard Wood is in control of Philippine interests. As between his judgment and that of any native politician, or all the native politicians the islands may be able to muster in a demonstration against the present administration there, people of the United States will have no trouble in making a choice. They will unhesitatingly decide that Gen. Wood knows what is needed in the Philippines in order that the real welfare of the islands and the islanders may be served.—St. Louis Times.

Daily News Letter

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 7.—Industrial workers in Los Angeles last year earned more than the net earnings of all the banks in the United States. Such is the information in a report by the United States Census Bureau.

There are 7,762 national banks in the country and they rolled up an aggregate net earnings sum of $240,336,000, while Los Angeles wage earners drew $276,912,168.

Products turned out by the metropolitan district of Los Angeles last year totaled $959,806,505, is declared to be far ahead of the value of all the gold in circulation in the United States.

A few years ago Los Angeles, the city of "climate and tourists" was looked upon as unsuitable for manufacturing enterprises, but last year it turned out manufactured goods that exceeded in value the $683,332,908 credited as the operating income of all the railroads in the country in 1921, the report continues.

More graphic than this the figures show that the value of goods made here was greater than the value placed by the Census Bureau on all the land in the combined States of Maine, New Hampshire, Vermont, Massachusetts, Rhode Island, Connecticut, Delaware, Wyoming and New Mexico, and would have purchased all the farm machinery used in those States, with New York, Pennsylvania and Ohio thrown in just to make good measure.

The figures were compiled after a thorough survey. The information came from thousands of industrial plants who replied to a carefully prepared questionnaire sent out by the Chamber of Commerce. The gathering of these facts required several months.

Another significant feature in the industrial advancement of Los Angeles is that the metropolitan district here alone scored a greater total of manufactured goods than did any of the 22 Eastern States usually looked upon as manufacturing territory.

In 18 States the amount of capital invested in manufacturing enterprises is less than the capital invested here. Still the amount of capital invested and the total of goods produced in a single year is greater in Los Angeles than any one of these 18 States.

For an example: On a capital of $685,184,997 plants here in one year turned out products amounting to $959,806,503. Compared with some States this is an enviable record, for, in some instances, such as South Carolina and a number of Eastern centers, the margin between capital and manufactured goods runs less than $6,000,000.

PORTLAND POLICE COMBAT "SHIEKS"

PORTLAND, Ore., Aug. 6.—War was begun today by the police department on the "shieks of the asphalt."

Following a conference Wednesday afternoon between heads of the various police departments on the wave of crime resulting from the shiek craze, orders were broadcast to the rank and file of patrolmen not to show consideration for male vamps but to march them to jail without ado.

Particularly are the police to be vigorous where these perturbed and roused young men are caught molesting or attempting to pick them up in automobiles. Charles Fiebert, 21, who gave his occupation as laborer, was in jail this morning, following his arrest last night for being out after hours. His lips were red with rouge and his face pasted with powder. He carried a powder puff in his pocket and failed to explain satisfactorily why he should be abroad in the small hours.

The asphalt streets aren't the burning desert and an automobile doesn't constitute a tent, the authorities decided. Neither, they said, does a lipstick make a man, nor insolence to respectable women pass for Sahara darning. "That bird Valentino ought to have his nose pulled," one captain said.

Mrs. Lena S. Litz of Portland, passed the day here yesterday calling on friends and relatives.

F. R. Herquist and family of Adin, California were Ashland visitors yesterday.

Ever stop to think of this? We are what we eat! It's a startling fact, yet a simple truth. This is the reason every one should know that his food is really nourishing—not merely filling. Grape-Nuts—made from wheat and barley—is one of the few cereal foods that includes the vital mineral salts so necessary for supplying proper nourishment for nerve and bone structure. In Grape-Nuts, too, is retained the important vitamin-B of the wheat. No food has greater influence in strengthening the body of a growing child than Grape-Nuts. And remember, children need the very best there is in the way of nourishment. Grape-Nuts is just as delicious as it is healthful, whether served right from the package as a breakfast cereal with milk or cream, with fresh or stewed fruit, or made into an appetizing recipe.
