TENNIS PICTURES CAUSING TROUBLE

LONDON, Aug. 16 .- Newspaper photographers are in danger of being barred from all lawn tennis tournaments, in Britain. If the English Lawn Tennis Association has its way, no press photographer will be able to take his camera to any meeting.

In an official letter addressed to the secretaries of tournaments the Association states "undesirable photos of fady players have been appearing in the newspapers. They strongly deprecate publication of pictures of this character as tending to bring the game into disrepute and causing annoyance to players," and asks that press photographers be prevented from taking pictures.

This Association-which has nothing to do with the great All-England Club which is responsble for Wimbledon-has been the joke of the lawn tennis world for years. It is mainly a selfappointed body of old gentlemen who either know nothing of the game or imagine that it is still played under conditions exisiting in 1880. The representative teams that it picks are a laughing stock and its efforts at legislation ludicrous. Its latest piece of wisdom lies in the refusal to send the two most popular English girl players-Miss Austen and Miss Colyer-to the United States for the reason that "they are too young and might get their heads turned." English women players are laughing at the latest piece of meddlesomeness of the fussy and anti-quated Lawn Tennis Association. Not one among the active players has ever had to complain of the publication of an offensive Hotel Ashland Bldg. 294-tf picture. On the contrary most of them treasure what are often wonderful triumphs of the camera's art. Only one lady has championed the cause of the Association. She happens to be Mrs. Beamish, the famous player, but her opposition is based on grounds entirely different to those taken by the Association. She says: "I should ban press photographers from the grounds. Nobody wants them. Just as one is going to hit the ball 'snap' goes the camera and the player is put off the stroke." This surely is the quaintest objection that could be thought of, Fancy hearing the click of a camera in the midst of an excited,

Don't wait for someone to urge you. Today -right now we ask you to sample this unusual cigarette. Learn why it is causing so much comment. Note its distinctive flavor, its surprising and agreeable difference from any cigarette you have ever smoked before. We call this new cigarette Blue Boar, because it is developed from America's favorite fine tobacco, Blue Boar Pipe Mixture.

The secret of this new-type cigarette is in a newly discovered method of blending. Blue Boar tobacco is triply blended—a new discovery in cigarette-making. It is a costlier, slower process - but worth it, as you'll agree. The result of this simple discovery makes all the difference in the world-an entirely new taste.
