WASTE IN TRIVIAL ITEMS COSTS RAILROADS YEARLY LOSS OF $230,000,000

By S. W. STRAUSS, President, American Society for Thrift

"THE large wastes are readily discovered, but it is the small ones that in the aggregate amount to much more than a few large ones and cause the most concern."

Thus an executive of the important American railway system recently epitomized the urgent need of thrift practice among railroad employees. He estimated that the waste in little things on the railroad with which he was connected amounted to $7,000,000 annually. This did not include any outstanding instances of efficiency.

Some of the annual items of needless waste pointed out by him were as follows: coal, $1,000,000; supplies, $300,000; stationery, $50,000; crossties, $100,000; locomotive repairs, $500,000.

Analysis of his statement reveals that about 7 per cent of his company's operating expenses last year represented waste due to lack of thrift by employees. Inasmuch as the system with which he is connected represents about 3 per cent of the gross railway mileage of the United States, and as conditions on the road referred to were probably a fair average of conditions on all lines, it is safe to set down the sum of $230,000,000 a year as the direct result of lack of thrift by employees.

One of the great economic problems of the present day pertains to transportation. In the item of needless expense referred to herewith, the cure can only come through the education of the employees. No efficiency system can safeguard against such waste. The business men of America should learn that a very small percentage of the amount of money wasted by thriftless employees would, if spent in correct thrift education, bring amazingly beneficial results.

NATRON CUTOFF TO BE SCENIC ROUTE

PORTLAND, Aug. 22.—Nothing remains in the pathway of construction of the Natron Cutoff now but the obtaining of permission to build across Indian lands, and this probably will be a mere formality. This was the statement of W. C. Sproule, president of the Southern Pacific company, who arrived here yesterday. Sproule said Chief Engineer William Boschke is preparing plans and specifications and bids probably will be advertised for next week.

Sproule said: "There will be no material change in the route as originally planned. It will be a wonderfully beautiful line, and will prove I believe, a great attraction to tourists as a variation from our other scenic line, that runs down from Eugene by way of Roseburg and Medford.

"Incidentally, it will bring a railway within twenty miles of Crater Lake, and will make that scenic territory far more readily accessible than it has been hitherto."

Portland Chamber of Commerce is planning to run an excursion to Eugene and Klamath Falls the second week in October in celebration of the beginning of construction of the cut-off.

MARYSVILLE POLICE OFFICER WILL MARRY

MARYSVILLE, Calif., Aug. 22.—Mrs. P. Stuart, of Berkeley, yesterday announced the engagement of her daughter, Margaret, to Arvel E. Allread, local police officer. Miss Stuart is a former Auburn girl. The marriage will take place early in September.

The couple met last winter when Miss Stuart came here as an assistant to the promoters of the new hotel. Allread has been a member of the police force for nineteen months.

SEARCH IS MADE FOR MISSING MAN

PORTLAND, Ore., Aug. 23.—Martin G. Denton, former tire dealer of Portland, mysteriously disappeared July 10 and police have been quietly conducting a search for him for some time, it became known today. Mrs. Denton appealed to police to make no official record of his disappearance and asked that the newspapers be not informed. Immediately before he left home, Denton is said to have sold his interest in the tire firm of Denton-De Temple company. Police say the firm's books were in good order and there has been no hint of embezzlement of funds.
