SACRAMENTO FAIR HAS GOOD SPEAKERS

SACRAMENTO, Aug. 29.—Senator Tasker L. Oddie and Key Pittman of Nevada, leaders of the silver-gold inquiry, and Congressman Charles F. Curry of California have been invited to be the speaker of the evening at the miners' banquet to be held by the Department of mines and Mining of the Sacramento Chamber of Commerce at the Travelers Hotel as the closing feature of the Mining Day, Monday, September 3rd, at the State Fair. W. J. Loring, vice-president of the American Mining Congress, will preside as toast-master. All mining men are invited to attend the banquet. During the afternoon there will be a first aid meet and air drill contests.

Installation of the mining machinery, to be shown in operation will commence August 27th in the Mining Exposition to be conducted at the Fair by the mining department in cooperation with the State Mining Bureau. The finest crystallized gold nugget along the Mother Lode are now being sought to be given away the last night of the exposition, September 9th. A search of Amador Calaveras and Tuolumne Counties is being made by Clarence E. Jarvis, chairman of the advisory committee of the Department, while Wesley Howard of the Executive Committee is searching the Grass Valley and Alleghany districts.

To the pony express rider first reaching the fair grounds on September 9th, the department will give a beautiful white quartz paper weight, streaked with high-grade gold. Artists have started work on the exterior of the mountain in the main exhibit pavilion, which is to house the display of minerals valued at $250,000.

While this decline in the death rate has been going on, the same tables show an almost corresponding increase in the production of coal for each fatality. The introduction of safety devices in mining coal, together with the perfection of mining methods, mainly account for the continual decline in the fatality rate and the rise in the rate of production.

The Department of Labor figures deaths in coal mining in connection with the "hours of exposure"—the time spent in the mines by the workers. In 1907 for each 1,000,000 hours of exposure the fatality rate was 2.06. This declined to a rate of 1.20 in 1921, the last year for which the records are complete,—a decline of 41 per cent. Meanwhile, the production of coal per death rose 71 per cent.

Examination of official figures of actuaries in many states recently exploded the theory that coal mining is a hazardous undertaking by comparison with other means of earning a livelihood. In the state of Indiana, for example there are more than 100 other occupations for which the reinsurance rates are higher and the industrial death rate likewise higher.

Running farm machinery (cleaning windows, house painting, and a host of other common daily pursuits are actually more dangerous undertakings than mining coal, figures show.

World war veterans of the northwest expect to sail to San Francisco for the annual American Legion convention in a prize ship, taken by the United States from Germany during the war. A request for the leasing of the U. S. transport Susquehanna, formerly the crack North German Lloyd liner, Der Rhine has been transmitted by U. S. Shipping Board officials at the request of the veterans.

The Rhine was seized in American waters when the United States declared war on Germany. It was converted for transport use and four six inch guns mounted for protection of the doughboy passengers. The ship came through several submarine attacks successfully, and her gun crew scored one or two hits on the attacking boats. Many first division men were transported to France on the Susquehanna, the vessel remaining in service for more than a year.

Legionnaires of Seattle and other cities of Washington propose to make the junket to San Francisco and return under the auspices of a local branch of the "Forty and Eight" the playground society of the legion. The trip will be made at a low cost, and it is expected that from 600 to 1000 will join in the voyage, on what was once the pride of the former Kaiser's merchant marine.

Talent Visitor Today—Mrs. Leonard Oorthuys of Talent visited in Ashland yesterday. Her trip is a combination of business and pleasure.

(National Crop Improvement Service) Man does not live by bread only. Deut. VIII, 3.

IN a land flowing with milk and honey, maple sirup and plum jam, where hot biscuits and waffles are the grub which makes the butterfly, we must heartily agree with Moses when he wrote that classic line.

Hot buttered toast and a cup of drip coffee, with real cream, has vitamins and calories, which with grapefruit and perhaps an egg and a rash of bacon—this is the great American breakfast, and the world is rapidly coming to our ideas.

"We can say wheat products are the best and cheapest food," says Dr. H. E. Barnard, who has done more perhaps than any other American citizen to teach accurate, scientific baking.

If everybody had enough to eat, it would be a very simple matter to restore our agricultural equilibrium if you and I, the farmer, the butcher, the baker, the candlestick-maker, should all bear this in mind—that one more slice of toast each day would bring back the price of wheat to normal.

Let us absorb the surplus by seeing that nobody goes hungry.

will officially open the Fifth Annual Convention of the American Legion of Oregon.

Carved from the hull of the famous old gunboat, U. S. S. Beaugard, herself a veteran of the Civil War, the gavel will mark intervals in a state gathering of men and women who fought in at later conflict.

The gavel was painstakingly carved from the wooden hull of the old gunboat which has rotted on the bottom of the Mississippi River for over 60 years, by a Civil War veteran, who had two sons in the American Army in the World War.

PROVOST TO INSTALL NEW YREKA PLUMBING

CRACK BAND TO BE AT SEASIDE MEET

SEASIDE, Ore., Aug. 29.—Though arrangements with Commanding General, Ninth Corps Area, San Francisco, California, the American Legion has secured the crack army band of the 7th U. S. Infantry to play during its three days sessions.

The Band is composed of sixty pieces and is rated with the famous Marine Band of Washington. Concerts during the three days sessions of the Legion will be given when it meets in Seaside, September 6, 7, and 8.

DODGE BROTHERS ANNOUNCE IMPORTANT IMPROVEMENTS

Dodge Brothers have not simply brought out a complete new line of motor cars. They have done something infinitely wiser and better than that.

They have brought new beauty, new riding ease and new mechanical perfection to the product on which their reputation as builders has been founded.

They have built a better and a more desirable line of motor cars—yet basically and fundamentally the identity of their product remains the same.

The same sturdy engine is under the hood; the same dependable chassis, improved in numberless details, underlies the body.

But the rear springs—now underslung—have been materially lengthened. The wheelbase, too, is longer, and the combined result is a notable improvement in riding qualities.

Bodies of all types have been designed to give improved appearance, and greater comfort. Lower, longer, with deeper seats and more leg room, the lines of these new cars are low-slung and graceful—the interiors are comfortable and roomy.

New head lamps and fenders, especially designed by Dodge Brothers to conform with the general lines of the car—a long straight hood and cowl effect—longer and wider running boards—unusually wide doors—combination stop signal and tail lamp—and instruments attractively grouped on raised panel—are a few of the numerous body innovations common to all types.

Combining these features with important mechanical improvements too numerous and technical to enumerate here, it is not extravagant to predict a reception for these cars unprecedented in automotive annals.
