Captain Lowell H. Smith and Lieutenant John P. Richter broke four air records when they descended from their endurance flight over Rockwell Field, near San Diego, California. They were up 37 hours, 15 minutes and 14-45 seconds. They also broke the long-distance records, having covered a greater mileage than Brown and Alcock in their transatlantic flight or Kelly and McCready in their record breaking transcontinental non-stop trip.

During the flight the aviators took aboard gasoline, oil and other from a "feeder" plane. The other records were for speed over allotted distances.

THE PERIL OF EDISON-FORD'S MONEY SCHEME
Would Create More Paper Money Than Russia's Trillions but Add No Real Wealth.

SOME DANGEROUS FALLACIES
Would Remove Safe Restraint of Gold Basis and Open Way to Endless Issues of Paper Money.

How the United States would be swamped, under a greater volume of worthless paper money than has "ruined Germany and Russia, by the Edison-Ford commodity currency plan is pointed out in the present article, concluding the reviews, prepared by the American Bankers Association, of the recent exposure of the folly of the whole scheme by William T. Foster, Director of the Pollack Foundation for Economic Research. Mr. Foster says:

"The supply of 'money,' says Mr. Ford, is inadequate. There is more wealth than there is money to move it." He draws a vivid picture of "the golden dam to the stream of prosperity." From a hundred quarters comes the demand for the government to speed up the printing presses, in order to crush the money monopoly, reduce interest rates, and make it easier for everybody to get money.

"Inflating the currency, however, though it enables people to get more units of currency, does not enable them to obtain more purchasing power, and it does not reduce interest rates. In all her history Germany never had so much money or as high interest rates as in 1922. Money, unlike other forms of wealth, is not easier to obtain simply because the total supply is increased. On the contrary, increasing the supply of money ordinarily increases the demand for money, and interest rates depend not on supply, but on the relation between supply and demand.

A Dangerous Fallacy
We are assured, however, that the Ford-Edison plan provides money for the farmer at virtually no expense to the government or to anyone else. All the government has to do is to print the money. What could be simpler? Here we come to the most dangerous fallacy in the whole project. It is dangerous because of the universal desire to get something for nothing.

"Here is the gist of the matter: Money will by whatever is produced, not a particle more by any trick of alchemy, or legislation, or finance. The Russians, having multiplied their money 257,000 times, cannot buy as much with it as before. When we print more money there are no more goods for money to buy; not a single additional plow, or hat, or potato.

"Some of those who get the new-printed money can buy more goods than before; all other people can buy fewer goods than before, because their money has fallen off in purchasing power. Since there are no more plows, and hats, and potatoes, and so on, to distribute, if some people get more, others must get less.

"Inflation under the Edison plan is limited mainly because, on account of its indefensible discrimination, most groups of producers of goods and services are not allowed to participate. If all groups were included, as in fairness and in politics, they would have to be eventually, the possibilities of inflation would be vast.

The Deadly Spiral
The total income of the United States is now in excess of fifty billions of dollars. The total money in circulation, including bank deposits subject to check, is not far from twenty-five billions. It follows that the annual production, if used as a basis for new issues on the Edison plan, could at once greatly increase the volume of money in circulation. Every addition to the monetary supply would tend to raise prices. The higher prices because, the higher would be the loan value of a given volume of goods since the size of the loans is based on values and not on value. The greater, therefore, would be the volume of new money that could be issued on the basis of a given annual production. Prices would become still higher; and so on up an endless spiral.

"Even in Russia, where financial printing presses hold the world's record for volume, where new issues of two hundred trillions of rubles per month stagger the imagination, the people complain that there is not enough money to do business with. Without the arbitrary restraint of the gold basis, and with Muscle Shoals inflationists, and sundry other kinds of inflationists constantly pressing their claims upon Congress, it is not at all certain that the United States, once well on the road to financial chaos, would in the end be outrun by Russia."

Several thousand women will take part in a March of Allegiance, a spectacular street parade, in which all the delegates will join together with leading women from all the other women's organizations in Columbus Saturday afternoon, September 8. Distinguished speakers, addressing various sessions of the convention, are: Gov. Donahay, Miss Grace Abbott, Senator Fess, Representative Cooper, Mrs. Mabel Walker Wil-

Pictorial Review Dress No. 1555. Sizes, 14 to 20 years. Price 35 cents.

IT IS FUNNY
The way some minds work. Take for instance the mental attitude of the man who, hides a $30.00 watch under his pillow at night, yet he parks his car on a dark street for hours at a time with a $30.00 spare tire that has no protection.

The number of tires stolen is said to be appalling. The appalling thing is that so few are stolen when the opportunity is so great. Considerably more than half the cars that pass you daily are carrying spare tires and wheels that have no protection.

Every car owner should have at least two pad locks, one for his garage or tool box and one for his tire carrier. We have a full line of the Celebrated
