Japanese Ambassador Will Personally Thank Society For Aid To Stricken Nation

WASHINGTON, Sept. 25.—Flushed with success in their drive for Japanese relief, one thousand American Red Cross workers from every corner of the Union convened here today in the organization's annual convention.

President Calvin Coolidge welcomed the mercy workers to Washington, made the first address and presided over the opening session. While acting officially as president of the American Red Cross, Mr. Coolidge incidentally made his first formal appearance since the Harding State funeral.

A three-day programme of addresses and advanced instruction in relief work awaited the delegates. President Coolidge's attendance featured the opening session this morning, but the delegates later in the day plunged into the study of problems facing relief workers throughout the country.

A wide range of subjects were to be discussed by nationally-known speakers during the four-day convence.

Diversity of Subjects

These ranged from war to public health service; from home hygiene to life saving. The election of officers at this morning's session and the launching of the annual Red Cross roll call at the close of Thursday session also held the spotlight of interest.

At this morning's session the invocation was delivered by Rt. Rev. William F. McDowell, Bishop of Washington. He was followed by President Coolidge, who gave the delegates an official welcome from the national chapter.

Addresses by Admiral Edward W. Eberle, Chief of Naval Operations, U. S. N. and Chairman John Barton Payne followed. The session was closed with the appointment of committees and the election of officers.

The afternoon session was devoted to a study of war service, with William Fortune, of Indianapolis, presiding. Addresses were delivered by Brigadier-General Frank T. Hines, Director of the U. S. Veterans' Bureau; Colonel Joe Sparks, Chairman of the National Rehabilitation Committee of the American Legion; Dr. W. F. Lorenz, Director of the Wisconsin Psychiatric Institute, Madison, Wis., and Robert E. Bondy, Director of War Service, American Red Cross.

Southern Pacific Issues New Booklet

Opportunities to be found in Western Oregon have been given the most thorough presentation made in more than six years as the result of publication today of 20,000 copies of a booklet entitled "Oregon For The Settler" by the Southern Pacific Lines.

The booklet contains 64 pages, attractively illustrated and represents six months of careful work. Although the booklet deals with Oregon as a unit it gives primary attention to Western Oregon and discusses in narrative form the various industries of this section.

That the publication might be thoroughly reliable, information was obtained from the Oregon Agricultural College, State Bureaus and leaders of the various lines of industry. It is endorsed by W. J. Kerr, President of the Agricultural College as being pertinent, conservative and representative of actual conditions.

The population, climate, characteristics and educational advantages of Western Oregon are given careful attention and a detailed discussion is given of agriculture, horticulture, dairying, livestock raising and other pursuits of this section.

The discovery was made by Charles Lemay, brother of the deceased. It is believed heart failure was the cause of his death.

Lemay was aged 65 and although he had been in poor health he left for his claim to do some work two weeks ago. He had not been seen since, but it was frequently his custom to make long stays at his claim and his brother and other relatives gave his continued absence but little concern until Saturday night when Charles Lemay awakened from his sleep by a vivid dream of seeing his brother dead.

Finds Body Near Cabin

Charles Lemay went to the cabin Sunday morning and found the body about twenty feet from the cabin.

LOCAL CLUB WINS STATE CONTEST

Win From Field Of 18 In Boys And Girls Club Work

Victorious Club Is Composed Of Frances Gallitan, Barnard And Richard Joy

A telegram was received yesterday evening from L. A. Moss, in charge of the Boys and Girls' club work in Jackson County, at Salem stating that the team representing Jackson county had won first honors in the contest at the State Fair.

The judging contest was a feature of the program yesterday afternoon and Mr. Moss telegraphed the result as soon as it was announced. The team representing Jackson County, is composed of three Ashland young people, Frances Joy, of Valley View district, and Barnard and Richard Joy, of Bell View district. The club which won state honors yesterday at Salem was the one that won from a field of five at the recent Jackson County Fair, and which earned for them the privilege of representing the county at the State Fair. Although the three members were recognized as the best in the county their most consistent supporters had hardly anticipated first place in the state contest.

However, the victory earned by the local club is not without a great deal of honor, due to their having met more experienced clubs from other parts of the state.

18 Clubs Entered

Reports from Salem indicate that 18 clubs from as many counties in the state, entered the contest, and the victory secured by the Jackson county club is all the more pleasing to Jackson county people. The parents of three winners, and Ashland people as a whole, take no little pride in the deserved victory.

Will Extend Club Work

The work of the Boys and Girls' Clubs has been progressing at a satisfactory rate in Jackson County, and has been receiving excellent support from the county court, not only, but from bankers and business men of the county in general.

The scope of the club work will be greatly extended during the coming year and those in close touch with the movement express the opinion that the boys and girls of Jackson county will be heard from in the future, and that they will bring additional honors to the county.

Moonshine Bottle Has Deadly Poison

KLAMATH FALLS, Sept. 25.—Don Metzger and Lee Summers, arrested last week when discovered in a grove of trees about four miles west of here transferring what the officers, Sheriff L. L. Low, and Game Warden M. J. Barnes, claimed was alcoholic liquor from kegs to small bottles entered pleas of not guilty of violation of the prohibition act and demanded jury trials. Their cases will come up Wednesday.

Sheriff Low and Game Warden Barnes had started on a deer hunt when they saw a car parked in the brush near the road, which at this place is little traveled and leads through a very rough section over what is known as "Whiskey Ridge".

A search among the timber near the car brought the two officers suddenly upon the two men and with them were two women. They were busy filling bottles and the men, seeing the officers approaching, attempted to make a get-away into the timber. Metzger was immediately taken, and he and the two women were brought to town. Summers was located later.

About fifteen gallons of the moonshine was taken and many small bottles, filled and empty, were brought in. One of the interesting features on the collection is the fact that no attempt had been made to wear old medicine bottles, some having at one time held poison. One bottle had in it two tablespoonsful of lysol. In the outfit was a siphon and other filling apparatus.

Residence Destroyed By Midnight Fire

The roomy, two-story house at the corner of Chestnut and Wimer Sts., recently sold from I. L. N. Shriner to John Conlon of Medford was ruined last night at midnight by fire. Patrolman Wertz, who was on duty and happened to be near the depot at that hour of the night, saw the fire and reported immediately to the fire department. The cause for the blaze is unknown.

Flames had enveloped the house when the fire department arrived and in spite of well directed efforts to save the place, a total loss was reported by F. C. Stevens, who has the insurance written covering the house to the extent of $1600.

Soon after the house was transferred from Mr. Shriner to Mr. Conlon a deaf and dumb family had occupied the place for a short time, but had vacated the house two days prior to the time it was destroyed.

No other surroundings were harmed. The fire department is congratulating itself that the fire did not happen last week, during the shortage of water. According to Fire Chief Baughman, the force of the water was as great as could be handled last night.

WEED BANK BANDIT IS HELD UNDER BONDS

WEED, Cal., Sept. 25.—Monck Pickner, 22, whom officers say has confessed that he was the bandit who held up the First National Bank here Friday and fled with $1,080, was ordered held for trial under bonds of $15,000 at his preliminary hearing. Pickner's desire for comfort Saturday morning led to his capture. He ordered his breakfast sent to the room in the Weed Hotel, which he had occupied for several days. James Daley, hotel clerk, became suspicious. He notified the authorities and two officers carried Pickner's tray to the room.

Immediately after his arrest, Pickner was identified by Charles Drury, bank teller, as the man who held him powerless at the point of a gun while he scooped all the currency in sight into his pocket. The stolen money, with the exception of $15, was found crammed under the wash bowl in the room.

WILL MAINTAIN WINTER TRAFFIC

Announcement Made That Green Springs Road To Be Kept Open

New Highway Will Be Completed By November 30—Rain Is Improving Roadbed

For the first time in the history of Klamath county, the Green Springs mountain road to Ashland, will be open to traffic all winter, according to G. I. Stebbins, resident engineer in charge of maintenance, says the Klamath Falls Herald. Contracts call for the completion of all the road by November 30 with the single exception of the contract given to W. D. Miller, local contractor, who must have the base rock on by November 30 but who is given till July 31, 1924 to lay on the last layer.

Between Keno and Klamath Falls work has been rushed along as fast as efficiency would allow and the base rock is being laid at the rate of a quarter of a mile daily. The rock crusher is working two 8-hour shifts.

All contractors working on the road must have the entire base of their stretch of road bed laid before the top layer is put on. The base rock of the macadam road makes the road comfortably passable.

Stebbins was enthusiastic about the effect of the rain on the grading and road bed. It will serve to pack down the road he said, and to put the road in better condition for the last layer of which consists of four inches of fine rock. Also the fact that traffic will be running over the new road soon will help to pack the road down.

All through the winter patrol stations will be maintained on the road with tractors and snowplows to clear the road of snow during winter.

"ZERO HOUR" IS NEAR IN OKLAHOMA CITY

OKLAHOMA CITY, Sept. 25.—With "zero hour" but 24 hours away Oklahoma legislators were in a tumult of excitement here. In the slang phrase of the street, the legislators are "rarin' to go". Apparently they feel that the much talked of "march on the Capitol" can't be begun too soon to suit them. The lawmakers of the State of Oklahoma remained undaunted in their determined purpose to assemble tomorrow noon to begin impeachment proceedings against Governor Walton despite his edict to the Military: "Shoot to kill, if necessary, but don't let them meet."

Not even in the days of the savage Red Man and the "old Wild West" has Oklahoma experienced such a thrill.

McGee is Defiant

Representative McGee, who issued the call for the Assembly, said: "We will meet or go to jail. If arrested we will demand release on writ of habeas corpus," he added.

Men Ordered Armed

All men between the ages of 21 and 45 have been ordered to provide themselves with arms to protect Oklahoma, when directed by Governor in Military proclamation.
