In Yakima

Carl Rose is visiting in Yakima with Leale Rose. Mr. Rose visited the state fair in Salem and is visiting in the north before his return here.

Commencing Saturday night Ender's confectionary will serve hot tomatoes and waffles with butter scotch.

Has Eventful Trip

L. W. Fahl arrived in Ashland this morning from Rupert, Idaho and has purchased the Young farm in the Bellview district. Mr. Fahl's family have not come from Idaho but will arrive later in the month. Three big spills with a large truck loaded heavily, featured the arrival of Mr. Fish in Oregon, which he declares did not set a good example for Oregon's welcome to new residents. Mr. Fahl has lived in Ashland in previous years and has many friends whom he will endeavor to meet again.

Party to be Given

The Epworth League party will be given Friday, Oct. 5th, at the Methodist church at 7:30 P. M. Everybody welcome.

Paid Taxes Yesterday

Jap Morris and Fred Merritt were introduced to City Judge J. H. Dill, Wednesday noon, by Chief of Police McNabb, on a charge of being too heavy of foot with the gas when driving toward town from the senior high school. After a consultation with the judge, it was agreed all around that Morris and Merritt pay $15 taxes to the city for using excessive speed on the city's streets. They didn't have the money, but promised to leave it with the judge in a few days. Now the world goes on as before.

It costs nothing to get my insurance rates, Yeo of, course.

Card of Thanks

To those friends and neighbors, whose kindness and sympathy helped us in our time of sorrow, to the Elks for their lovely floral tribute, and to all who so kindly brought or sent beautiful flowers, we extend our grateful thanks.

Mrs. B. L. Minkler and family.

I have made a special study of automobile insurance: get my rates first. Yeo, of course.

In Southern Oregon

C. H. Lincoln, organizer of the Kiwanis, is visiting this week near Roseburg. He left Ashland Tuesday but is expected to return soon.

Oranges, lemons, grapefruit—Detrick sells for less.

To Return to Portland Soon

Irving Finley has returned to Ashland from Portland where he was called recently by a change in his wife's condition. After attending to business matters here, Mr. Finley will return to Portland. Mrs. Finley's condition was improved sufficiently to warrant his return for a short time.

Called to Portland

Rev. J. S. Chaney, pastor of the M. E. church was called to Portland on account of the death of his brother, the Rev. J. W. Chaney, a returned missionary from Chile, S. A., but who has taught Spanish and Bible in an inter-denominational training school in Portland for the past two years. Rev. Mr. Chaney died on Tuesday night. The date of the funeral is set for Friday. Complication resulting from a severe attack of flu was the cause of his death.

J. C. Kreibecker is another visitor from San Francisco.

Sales Reported

Eighty acres of land belonging to D. E. Patterson was sold yesterday by J. J. Deakin to L. A. Banks, one of the largest citrus growers in California, who recently purchased the Suncrest and other orchards north west of Ashland. Mr. Banks will throw the whole acreage recently purchased into one tract, it is reported. The purchase price was $26,000. The J. W. McCallister home at Ashland and Beach streets was sold yesterday by Mr. Deakin to Geo. W. Davis, a well known mining enthusiast. Three acres of ground, which is improved and holding a nine room house, were sold for $9,000. Tom Anderson, an old time resident of Jackson county and well known here in mining circles, purchased the Rathburn home at 117 Union street and will move there from the present residence on Mt. Avenue.

Visiting from Myrtle Point is H. A. Barklow.

Californians Visit

Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Irwin of Pacific Grove, Cal., are expected tonight to return from a short trip to Grants Pass to visit at the Charles Oglesby home on the Boulevard. Mr. and Mrs. Irwin arrived yesterday from the south, but motored to the northern city for a short time.

E. W. Helm was a recent arrival from Portland.

Remarkable Catch Reported

Billy Beagle, 13 year old son of Jock Beagle, is claimant for fishing honors, having caught a 36 pound chinook salmon at the High Banks on Rogue river Monday, when fishing in company with his father. It is reported that the young man was obliged to labor 30 minutes to land the salmon, which was viewed by many interested people on the street the first part of the week. According to those who saw the results of the chap's efforts, he has right to be proud.

Among out-of-town guests from Carlton, Ore. is G. K. McDaniel.

To Visit in Cal.

Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Adams left Wednesday morning for southern California points. They will visit en route, the first stop being made at Dunsuir to visit Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Conner, Mrs. Conner is Mrs. Adams' sister. The trip will be made in leisurely fashion, camping as inclination dictates and depending on weather conditions.

Prospecting in Grants Pass—Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Jordan left early in the week for Grants Pass where they are viewing business prospects. They may return to Ashland later.

When a loss comes along, my companies pay. Yeo, of course.

News

Triplets have arrived at the home of Charles Lamb at 233 C street. Mother and babies are doing nicely but the father is not as well as wished for. They arrived the first of the month from Washington and are delighted with Ashland.

HARDY BROS. STORE FEATURES ASHLAND'S CANNERY PRODUCTS

Local Business Firm Repairing and Improving Building To Display Home Canned Goods

Ashland canned goods, consisting of peaches, beans and tomatoes, are to be featured exclusively at the Hardy Bros. grocery store. An enormous out-put of the local cannery has been contracted for by the Hardy Bros. and delivery is yet to be made of the whole stock. Throughout the warehouse and reserves section of the grocery department, Ashland goods are being given a prominent place.

The interior of the grocery store has been partially renovated and calsonomized in white, making a fitting background for the well-arranged displays of merchandise. Fixtures and furniture are to be painted and decorated as soon as time permits the careful selection of details. Already there are workmen laboring at night to hasten the re-newing processes, and other men are employed to clean the debris left by them. A pyramid like border of Ashland canned goods is waiting to attract the eye of the housewife and consumer who will gradually learn the values as are already seen by the producer.

Storage space afforded for articles that must be kept dry is arranged above the rear of the room. There, in huge quantities, await the mush, canning jars, tobacco, spices and condiments that may be rushed in to use with a short notice. An office room has also been prepared since the changing of hands of the department. Fittings in keeping with office rooms will be installed soon to afford maximum comfort.

A large store room has been provided. Enormous quantities of food products, of all natures, are kept in the store to allow the greatest and quickest dispatch for the late Saturday night purchasers. It would be hard to estimate the total valuation of products. Flour and sugar, 1500 bushels of wheat for chicken food, endless cases of canned goods, potatoes, and other merchandise in large quantities.

J. H. Hardy, partner of the present concern, managed the Enders grocery department in 1915 when the cash basis was instituted. He declares that sales have kept up with a constant gain since the advent of the cash system. "But most of all," says Mr. Hardy, "stress the fact that we are strong for Ashland products and intend to back them to the greatest sales possible."

BACK AFTER 40 YEARS LAUDS ASHLAND BEAUTY

Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Drake, Lakeport, California, were visitors in Ashland today. Mr. Drake called at the Tidings office to express his praise of the beauties of the city of Ashland, streets, homes and park. Mr. Drake is known as "Dad Forest" scenario writer, and is quite a traveler. Nearly forty years ago, Mr. Drake was a visitor in Ashland, and remembers quite well talking with Mr. Applegate, an old Indian fighter of the early days. Mr. and Mrs. Drake were on their way to Portland to visit at daughter. The daughter and husband are planning to leave Portland, and Mr. Drake said he was going to recommend the beauties and apparent future of Ashland to them as a place of residence.

LAST SHAKE NOT SERIOUS

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 4—Advices to the Radio Corporation, from Tomioka, Japan, indicate no serious damage as the result of the last earthquake at Tokio. Details are lacking, but it is said the quake did not register heavily. Opinions are expressed that the recent slight tremors as being settling shocks of the earth's surface adjusting itself to the new position caused by the great tremor.

In School

Duke Bryant left early this week for San Francisco where he has registered in a school of pharmacy. He returned last week from Eugene where he accompanied other students, and is a member of Kappa Sigma fraternity.

WIFE PLEADS WITH HUSBY NOT TO SMOOT THIEVES; THEY FLEE

REDDING, Calif., Oct. 4.—Sneak thieves ran the automobile of James C. Holt out of the private garage in an attempt to steal it. Holt, aroused, grabbed his shotgun and rushed to the window. Mrs. Holt, aroused at the same time, ran after her husband, shouting at the top of her voice: "Don't shoot, Jim. Please don't shoot, Jim." The night prowlers, frightened by Mrs. Holt rather than by her husband's shotgun took to their heels in the darkness and escaped.

FORMER ASHLAND RESIDENT PASSES AT KLAMATH FALLS

H. L. Schoenfeld, Roseburg, for several years a resident and merchant in Ashland, passed away at the home of his daughter, Mrs. E. L. Shepherd, Klamath Falls, Wednesday, October 3. Mr. Schoenfeld had been failing in health for some time. A few weeks since he, with his wife, went to Klamath Falls, hoping a change might be beneficial.

Mr. Schoenfeld was well known in Ashland as a quiet, genial and upright business man, and will be remembered as the proprietor of the Paulson Sporting Goods store. He leaves a wife and daughter. Funeral services will be held at the residence of C. F. Shepherd, 658 Boulevard, Ashland, Saturday, Oct. 6, at 2 o'clock p. m. Interment will be in Mountain View cemetery. Funeral services will be in charge of the Ashland lodge, I. O. O. F., of which he has been a member for fifty years.

EXTRADITION DENIED FOR RETURN OF MAN TO KLAMATH FALLS

SACRAMENTO, Oct. 4—Governor Friend W. Richardson yesterday denied an extradition warrant for return of John Nicolson from Oakland to Klamath County, Ore., on a charge of kidnaping his own child. Nicolson and his wife were divorced in San Francisco several years ago and the child in question was awarded to the mother. Later the youngster was made a ward of the juvenile court of that city. It was alleged that Nicolson kidnaped the child from its mother in Klamath county, but on the showing that the youngster still is a ward of the San Francisco court the governor denied the extradition warrant.

CLERKS STRIKE, STORES CLOSE

Seven Hundred Butte, Mont., Clerks Don't Go Back to Work Because Wage Increase Has Been Refused

BUTTE, Mont., Oct. 4—T o the tune of the delicious and hunger appealing strains of the popular jazz song, so well known, the merchants here today are singing deservingly into their telephones to customers, "Yes, we have no clerks today."

Practically every business house in this city is closed indefinitely. All, except one theatre, are dark. Small stores are doing business with the proprietor, as the only clerk. This is the result of an action by the Silverbow County Employers Association releasing seven hundred clerks, because the union refused to order them back to work on the old scale of wages, following a walk out Monday by the drug clerks, after a demand for an increase had been refused.

No deliveries are being made. None of the larger stores is open, but a sufficient number of smaller establishments to supply food are open.

DIVORCES IN LEAD

RENO, Nev., Oct. 4—With three of the banner separation months of the year still to be recorded, Cupid has despaired of winning a single month from Old Man Divorcee in Reno. The little love god had been badly jolted in every round of the present year, losing September to his grim foe by forty-five marriages to sixty-three divorces.

Seventy-four new suits were filed during the month. Few of the recent divorce cases have been contested, and none of them tried lately have required a jury. October, November and December are usually banner divorce months.
