RECENT DIVORCES ADD INTEREST TO PICTURE "BRASS" HERE TUESDAY

Quite a little interest is shown by the gossip and talk about Marie Prevost and Monte Blue, announcement of whose divorces was made Sunday, in the picture "Brass" which is to be shown at the Vining Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday of this week. Marie and Monte were not married to each other. Far be it. The gossip is they may be. And the funny part about it is "Brass" is the story of a marriage ring of brass instead of pure gold. Marie's husband, H. C. Gerke, accused Marie of deserting him. They were married in 1918, but none knew it, even Marie's mother, and was known only when Gerke filed suit for divorce a few months ago.

Blue, Gerard Monte Blue, was divorced by his wife for desertion in the same court. Mrs. Blue said she and Monte had been happy until he left his job as a shipping clerk in Chicago to become a movie actor. Other actors in "Brass" are Irene Rich, Harry Myers, Helen Ferguson, Frank Keenan, Miss DuPont and Pat O'Malley.

As he started down the steps to aid, the woman drew a revolver and shot LaCelle in the abdomen. She insists the killing was accidental, only wanting to scare them a little.
