P. E. O. Luncheon—

The local Chapter of the P. E. O. Sisterhood were guests of Mrs. P. K. Hammond at the Rectory at a covered-dish luncheon Saturday.

There was a full attendance of the Sisterhood to enjoy the delicious repast. The Chapter colors were evidenced in touches of yellow and white, in the table decorations, and in the rooms.

At the close of the delightful luncheon, the regular business meeting was held and much of importance to the Chapter was transacted.

Acorn Circle Meets—

Acorn Circle No. 54 Neighbors of Woodcraft, held their regular meeting Friday evening of last week.

This Lodge meets the second and fourth Fridays of each month.

During the business session the election of officers was held resulting in Mrs. Phillipott, Past Guardian; Mrs. Laura L. Abbott, Guardian Neighbor; Mrs. Prescott, Advisor; Mrs. Ida A. Potter, Clerk; Mrs. C. Baughman, Banker; Mrs. Costello, Magician; Mrs. Callie B. L. Shelton, Attendant; Mrs. Mabel A. Roberts, Musician; Mrs. Eliza Hicks, Captain of the Guards; Mrs. L. Myer were elected Inner Sentinel and Mr. L. A. Roberts Outer Sentinel.

After the business session the Lodge enjoyed a social hour and the wonderful "Bring-what-you-please" banquet. Very satisfactory and delicious were the viands provided and the large attendance present did full justice to the elaborate supper.

Freshman Initiated—

The initiation of the freshmen of A. H. S. by the sophomores passed off in a very jolly fashion one evening last week. There were tests of courage and endurance and sportsmanship but all were passed successfully and the freshmen emerged eager for the fun that followed. Games were played basketball, peanut roll, and all sorts of frolicsome stunts that were enjoyed immensely by the two-hundred present.

There were Halloween decorations and Halloween refreshments of pumpkin pie and fresh cider to finish the evening in proper way, served a la cafeteria.

The party was chaperoned by the faculty of Senior High.

Married—

Miss Myrtle Moore and Mr. Harold Groover's marriage took place at Crescent City about two weeks ago. The young couple have not fully decided upon their future plans and are visiting at an uncle's, Mr. Frank Moore's at present, at his home at Brookings. Mrs. Groover is the daughter of Mr. H. L. Moore of Vista street and Mr. Groover's people also live in Ashland on Mountain avenue.

The happy couple's friends extend to them hearty congratulations and good wishes for their future happiness.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Jones Entertain—

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Jones of Talent entertained at a most elaborate dinner, the piece de resistance of which was turkey, with all the delights that accompany that royal bird.

The dinner was in compliment to Mrs. Perry Fuller, who leaves soon for her home in Jacksonville, Florida.

The guests enjoying the hospitality of Mr. and Mrs. Jones were Mr. and Mrs. Robert Shaw, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Lane and the guest of honor, Mrs. Perry Fuller.

Wedding Anniversary—

Mr. and Mrs. J. Peebler celebrated their tenth wedding anniversary Sunday with a most elaborate dinner at which the A. B. Collins family of Talent, and Mr. and Mrs. Swenson and family were guests.

There were fifteen present to enjoy the delightful dinner and the afternoon in the visit that is a part of these celebrations. At a late hour the guests said goodbyes reluctantly and offered their host and hostess heartfelt congratulations on this happy occasion.

High School Faculty Entertained

The entire High School faculty were guests at a progressive Halloween party with Mrs. Guy Good and Mrs. B. C. Forsythe as hostesses.

At Mrs. Good's home the games were played and stunts performed that were particularly appropriate on this occasion and that tested the skill of the performers. The rooms carried out the thought of the evening and were gay in Halloween coloring and decoration.

When the fun was at its height, the merry company were called upon to move on to the next setting for this delightful party, the Forsythe hospitable home, where the delightfully informal luncheon was served. Here too Halloween was evidenced in colorful decorations.

As a fitting finale for the jolly evening the guests pulled taffy of the good old fashioned sort and in the good old fashioned way.

E. L. Social—

About sixty young people gathered in the Methodist church parlors Saturday evening for a few hours of fun and frolic.

The rooms had been made a very appropriate setting, by shocks of corn, pumpkins, autumn leaves and decorations in yellow and black.

There were booths, with bright eyed gypsies to tell fortunes, there were all sorts of contests and games to test the sporting spirit of the participants, and lastly there were the finest doughnuts ever, with fresh cider as the characteristic refreshments for an affair of the kind.

The guests came in costumes that added a bright note of color to the animated scene.

Before goodnights were said, a circle was formed and hymns were sung and the E. L. benediction repeated as a fitting thought for each to carry away.

Miss Ethel Reid Entertains—

Miss Ethel Reid was hostess Friday evening at a Halloween party with the entire Junior High faculty as her guests.

All the guests came in costumes representing historical characters and very clever representations they were. Among them might be mentioned, Abraham Lincoln, Booker T. Washington, Queen Victoria, Cleopatra, Macbeth, and many other realistic replicas from fiction and from the pages of history.

It would be telling, to describe the stunts enacted, the games that were played, the fortunes told, the determining of the fate in store for each girl present, by absolutely reliable means, long established in Halloween annals.

At the close of this merry evening, the m.c.'s delicious refreshments were served the happy guests. At a late hour, reluctant good nights were spoken.

Halloween Party at Bellview—

Halloween was not forgotten at Bellview although the celebration occurred a little ahead of schedule time. Happy times seem to be a frequent occurrence at Bellview and the party given last week, at which the upper grades entertained the lower ones was no exception. The older brothers and sisters at home were also guests.

It was a masquerade affair and every one entered into the spirit of it and came in costume. Games were played, the desks being put aside to permit space. There was a perfectly thrilling view of the Spirit of Halloween which, on investigation, proved to be a familiar face.

There was an exciting search for nuts, with appropriate Halloween prizes awarded for most and least. Ida Shirley secured the most and Irene Shoemaker the least.

Everybody had their fortune told of course by the Gypsy fortune teller, (Mrs. Reeder in costume) with all the ghostly paraphernalia required to make it effective.

The refreshments were quite in keeping; the most delicious pumpkin and squash pies with generous supply of whipped cream, cider, apple sand candy.

The pupils of Mrs. McWilliams room had earned quite a sum of money and from this fund the party was given. They expect to use the rest in the purchase of needed play apples and candy.

At an early hour the goodnights were said and every one went home feeling that it had been a wonderfully jolly evening.

GOLD SHEAF

It is funny how some people will take the greatest care of babies' diet (milk, cereal, vegetables) and yet neglect to give them bread. No one doubts the great importance of bread in Baby's daily meals—for a baby derives at least 50 per cent of its energy from bread.
