AUTO CAMP IS PROFIT MAKER

Receipts from Camp for Year Are Nearly Double Those of 1922.

Coming Year Demands Additional Camp Ground and Equipment if Popularity Continues.

Attendance and receipts at the local auto camp ground for 1923 will exceed those of 1922 by nearly 100 per cent, according to figures compiled and presented to the Tidings by Superintendent Doran.

The total receipts from the auto camp this year will approximate $5000.00. The number of cars registered totals 7811, with total registrations reaching 9561 cars.

Following is a detailed report for the period beginning May 1 and ending October 31:

Receipts	May	Total Daily Registrations
$357.50	533	676
$674.25	993	1283
$1186.00	1636	2309
$1322.50	1978	2601
$836.75	1224	1725
$499.25	817	967
$4876.25	7181	9561

For the benefit of readers the cars listed under separate cars are the new daily registrations, and the number included in the total daily registrations represents both new cars and holdovers.

The foregoing totals do not include cars registered nor receipts for the month of May. The estimate of receipts for May places the figure at $150.00, and the number of cars at 200. Adding the receipts and cars registered in May to the totals for the five months give the following: Total receipts, $5026.25. Total cars, new registration, 7381. Thus it will be seen the total receipts reach the $5000 mark, and exceeds the receipts of 1922 by $2526.25. The total registrations exceed those of 1922 by 2581. Expenses for 1922 approximated $1500.

Returns Good Profit

The net profit returned by the auto camp for the year 1923 will approximate $3000.00, Mr. Doran stating that he was unable to give the exact amount of expenditures for the year, but estimates that they will likely not exceed $2000. The estimated expense includes, labor, fuel, repairs, new stoves, tables and benches.

Receipts from Gas Included in the total receipts are the fees charged campers and the amount received from the gas jets.

22,000,000 PEOPLE NOW LIVE IN ZONED CITIES

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 5.—More than 22,000,000 people, comprising 40% of the urban population of the United States, live in 183 zoned cities, towns and villages, according to a statement made public today by the Division of Building and Housing of the Department of Commerce.

During the first eight months of this year 54 municipalities, with more than 6,500,000 population, have adopted zoning ordinances. This indicates the greatest progress in zoning that has ever been made during a similar period. More than two thirds of the 183 zoned municipalities have been zoned since September, 1921.

REMAINS OF BONAR LAW REPOSE IN FAMOUS ABBEY

LONDON, Nov. 5.—With impressive and solemn services, the ashes of the late Bonar Law, one of Britain's most beloved statesmen, were buried in Westminster Abbey, near the grave of England's "unknown warrior". The route of the funeral procession was lined with people.

SENATOR GARLAND OF LINN PONDERS FEDERAL CONTEST

PORTLAND, Nov. 5.—State Senator Sam A. Garland of Linn county, after a visit of several days in Portland listening to the buzzing of the political hive, has returned to his home almost persuaded to cast his broad-brimmed black hat into the arena as a candidate for the Democratic nomination for the United States senatorship. And, if he does so, it will be with an "anti-Klan" plank as one of the main floor pieces of his platform. Senator Garland is one of the old-time Democratic line fighters of the state. He has never sought political preferment outside the state senate, but he has shouldered consistently into the battle in every campaign. He is a lawyer by profession and a "Jeffersonian" Democrat by political choice.

MURDERERS OF BREEN CONFESS

Slayers of Young Rancher of Dorris Captured Saturday Night in L. A.

Perpetrators of Breen Murder Have no Connection With Siskiyou Holdup.

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 5.—William Hard, aged 19, and Robert (French) Enro, 30, were the murderers of Fred Skeen, 20 year old farmer, at Dorris, Siskiyou county, Thursday night. The two men were caught at Belvidere, a suburb of Los Angeles, Saturday night. According to reports the cold blooded murderers were apprehended by officers while Hard and Enro were attempting to locate the home of the former's mother.

Make Confession

According to information given out this afternoon from the office of Dan O'Connell, chief special agent of the Southern Pacific, Hard and Enro made a complete confession to Los Angeles officials in connection with the slaying of Skeen. Particulars of the confession are not available.

Not Siskiyou Murderers.

Since the finding of Skeen's body Friday morning numerous reports have been printed and circulated relative to the perpetrators of the Skeen murder having connection with the holdup of the Southern Pacific passenger train, but according to information given out from the headquarters of the forces directing the search for those who were responsible for the last named tragedy, Hard and Enro have established that they had no connection with it.

Chase Continues.

The chase for the D'Autremont brothers, whom officials suspect in connection with the train holdup still continues. Various and conflicting reports continue to come from the South to the effect that they have been seen in New Mexico and in Texas. One report has been printed that men, believed to be the D'Autremonts, had been arrested in Texas, but the Tidings has been unable to secure a confirmation of the report from local headquarters.

INCOME TAX IS ONLY MEASURE

Only State Issue Involved in Special Election of Nov. 6 Is Tax Bill

Strenuous Efforts Have Been Made to Defeat Measure—Light Vote Is Predicted.

Tuesday, November 6, is the date of the special election in Oregon. A significant fact connected with the event is that only one measure will be found on the ballot, that being the income tax bill, which was passed by the legislature, but upon petition referred to the voters of the state. In a few districts local bonds issues are at issue, but from the standpoint of the state all tomorrow's voter will have to do will be to mark with an "X" his approval or disapproval of the tax bill. Those who favor the measure will vote "yes," while those opposed will vote "no."

The fight waged to defeat the measure has been somewhat bitter in some sections of the state and considerable money has been expended to accomplish its defeat. The source of the funds used to defeat the measure occasioned a merry fight between the state Grange and Cyril Brownell, representative of the league, which has for its purpose the defeat of the measure. The league refused to open its books for inspection and the Grange submitted the matter to the courts, which ruled in favor of the Grange. The court action was not taken until late last week and the election will very likely have been held before the desired information is obtained.

Interest Not General

Reports, although authentic, indicate that interest in the bill is not general throughout the state, and Portland papers predict a comparatively light vote. The bill is designated to effect a redistribution of taxes within the state and is modeled somewhat after the lines of the federal income law. Sponsors of the bill state in several respects and admit that it is not just the kind desired, but aver that it will be a step in the right direction and will solve the problem of relieving agricultural interests of the tax burden that exists at present. The measure is not political, being passed by a republican legislature, and party lines are split in the fight.
