BETTER THAN SILVER AND GOLD:—Godliness with contentment is great gain. For we brought nothing into this world, and it is certain we can carry nothing out. And having food and raiment, let us therewith be content.—1 Timothy 6:6, 7, 8.

THE KAISER IS MISTAKEN

Until his recent announcement the world had believed that the word "honor" was not even in the vocabulary of Kaiser William. "My honor as a Monarch would not permit me to return to Germany. I can not return as a private citizen," the Kaiser is quoted as saying in a denial of the report that he contemplated returning to Germany. Honor did not prevent the reprobate from turning loose the dogs of war on an unsuspecting world. Honor did not assert itself in his control of German soldiers as they blasted, burned and raped their way through Belgium. Honor had no place in his code of ethics when he liberated deadly gases. Where was honor when he murdered defenseless women and children in air raids? Honor did not prevail when he directed the torpedo that sent the Lusitania to the bottom of the Atlantic with its hundreds of unarmed men and its frantic women and children.

Honor is impossible for the king of murderers and rapists. His poisoned being never contained the slightest atom of honor. There was no display of honor when he wrecked his nation and fled, like a coward, into Holland.

To hear the ex-Emporer blaspheme the word "honor" boils the blood of every man and woman who believes in representative government and who adheres to the principles of humanity. It again creates the desire in Americans to have him within their clutches that he might be executed as an example to future despots. Honor! Not for you Kaiser William. The crucifiers of Christ were without honor, so is the crucifier of humanity without honor.

THE EMMIGRANT CREEK UNIT

The voting of bonds in the Talent Irrigation District for the construction of the Emmigrant creek unit is another important announcement in the history of development in Jackson county. While there is much work to accomplish and many obstacles to overcome in the period of time that elapses between the voting of bonds and the completion of an irrigation project, the action recorded Thursday at Talent is important from the standpoint of development. It is a step forward in the vast development program that will eventually come to southern Oregon.

The completion of Emmigrant creek unit will saturate 4500 acres of land with the flood waters of that section of mountains drained by Emmigrant creek and will increase the productivity of that acreage five times that of the present. Its completion means added wealth to the land owners and to Jackson county. It means that the area will support five times as many families as at present.

The development of Emmigrant creek unit ought to be of particular interest to Ashland people, as its completion means that the Bell View district with 1600 acres of land will come into its own. With sufficient water that will become one of the richest districts, acre for acre, in the Northwest. Its location and soil, together with the admirable climatic conditions, aided by water, will be unsurpassed for the production of hay, grain and fruit. It will support many happy homes, and will add appreciably to the business volume of Ashland.

AN EXAMPLE TO ALL EUROPE

The fifth anniversary recently of the peaceful and inauspicious establishment at Prague of Czechoslovak Republic still found this new small nation the most useful of the positive accomplishments of the World war. What is more, the fifth anniversary of the birth of this new nation in Europe found the nation an actual isle of safety functioning perfectly. The Republic of the Czechoslovaks has become an influence for peace and economic stability and normality in troubled Continental Europe and unlike the majority of its near neighbors is enjoying comparative prosperity and national and international peace.

Let it not be supposed that this little haven of peace, prosperity and busy thrift just happened nor that it was a "result" solely of the war. The Czechoslovak national movement was launched a century ago. The World war only provided the opportunity for right to conquer dissipated might. Neither is it to be supposed that this European republic is the culmination of a century of patriotic propaganda and organization or of open revolt against the ruling power. Quite to the contrary, it is the fruits of a century of education, loyalty and world competition in commerce and industry. The "isle of safety" of the Czechoslovaks has already been of immeasurable service to the world and credit for the establishment of the "Isle" still rests with the Czechoslovaks before and after it is finally decided "who won the war."

If the truth were known the former Kaiser is perhaps thinking more about the safety of his own worthless hide than about his honor.
