On the Register—
C. L. Jamison of Klamath Falls was a guest at the Hotel Ashland last night. W. J. Sweet of Bandon and Chas. Harris of Greenview are among out-of-town guests. L. H. Howland and Mrs. M. De la Mare of Vancouver are among recent arrivals. Mrs. A. W. Stevens is among business visitors from Klamath Falls. W. A. Cleveland of Gold Hill was a guest at the Hotel Columbia last night.

Are you hard to fit? Have your suit tailored to measure at Paulserud's. It costs no more.

From Dunsuir—
Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Coggins, O. K. Wilkinson and C. F. Martinek of Dunsuir were visitors in Ashland yesterday. J. B. Duncan and W. J. McEnerney, also of Dunsuir were business visitors yesterday.

I have made a special study of automobile insurance; get my rates first. Yeo, of course. 21-tf

Visiting Relatives—
J. C. Nell of Granger, Washington has been visiting the past few days at the home of his sister, Mrs. J. J. Murphy at 486 Boulevard. As has been stated, the serious condition of Mrs. Murphy shows no change and Mr. Nell has been here with her. Mrs. Arthur Dennison of Grants Pass has also been a house guest at the Murphy home and will return to her home today. Mrs. Dennison visits here often.

We deliver the goods. Service is our motto. Detricks—phone 62. 53-tf

Christian Endeavor Convention—
The Union convention of the Crater Lake Christian Endeavor Union will be held in Bethany Presbyterian church, at Grants Pass, Saturday and Sunday, Nov. 24-25. Rev. Gordon Hart, will act as chairman of the convention. Paul C. Brown, Pacific coast field secretary from Los Angeles, will be present. This convention includes Klamath, Lake, Jackson and Josephine counties.

Try our fresh kippered salmon "Detricks." 53-tf

Now Bread Machine Added—
Falling in line with their other achievements in the baking line, the Bon Ton Bakery is installing machinery necessary for the making of salt-rising bread. Lovers of this old-fashioned product will find a hearty and delicious creation on the market next week, when it is expected that the Bon Ton will have the machinery ready for operation.

THIEF IS SHOT BY PORTLAND POLICEMAN
PORTLAND, Nov. 21.—Darrel Perry, 21, was probably fatally wounded by patrolman Blanchard this morning. Perry, speeding into Portland in an automobile, refused to halt. A squad of police gave chase. Perry stopped his car, jumped out and ran. Blanchard opened fire, a bullet striking Perry in the back. Perry admitted stealing a car and robbing a Deer Island store, along the lower Columbia River Highway.

DR. COOK GUILTY
PORT WORTH, Nov. 21.—Dr. Frederick Cook was found guilty on twelve counts by the Federal jury, after 20 hours of deliberation, in connection with fraudulent oil promotions.

FORGER 70, GETS 18 MONTHS IN JAIL
HOOD RIVER, Nov. 20.—Fred W. Wilson, circuit judge, here from The Dalles, today sentenced George Casity, aged 70 years to 18 months in the penitentiary for forged checks. Casity, who was indicted last week, originally entered a plea of not guilty.

Henry Stiehler, indicted for forgery with a brother, J. C. Stiehler, who was sent to the penitentiary last week, was sentenced to eight months by Judge Wilson. Sheriff Johnson will take the prisoners to Salem tomorrow.

Who Belongs to the Typewriter—
Chief McNabb has a first class Oliver typewriter left to the protection of a second hand store man, who wished to sell the machine, but was in too much haste to stay at the store and make a quick deal. Chief McNabb has not been able to locate the bounder who was in Ashland this morning who has eventually disappeared to the etherial world. Roy Parr is also on the search for an illegal fish peddler. Like the first vagrant, the fish monger has left the city with no word of his whereabouts. Both officers report a good time this morning hunting quick sale enthusiasts.

We use artificial light in all portrait work—If more convenient make appointment for a sitting in the evening. Darling Studio. 69-tf

Don't Like the Fog—
Mr. and Mrs. G. O. Van Natta returned last night from a two weeks' trip. They visited as far north as St. Helens, Oregon and returned to Portland to visit friends and relatives. Eugene and Myrtle Creek were also visited. One disagreeable feature of the journey was the excess amount of fog that comes down like rain near Portland and thruout Multnomah county. "Ashland needs more sign boards advertising their park and city," says Mr. Van Natta, who was disappointed to find that Ashland is not advertised enough. Other towns in southern Oregon are known all over the coast, but Mr. Van Natta observed that Ashland is lacking in publicity.

TWO SUSPECTS HELD FOR TRAIN ROBBERY
SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 21.—Doubt was expressed by agents of the Southern Pacific working on the Siskiyou train robbery that the two youths held for examination at Eureka are Ray and Roy D'Autremont, brothers wanted in connection with the case. Authorities said the D'Autremont pictures resemble the two suspects, yet not enough to make identification certain.

The above report was received by the Tidings at 1:30. At that hour the office of Chief O'Connell had no information relative to the two men held at Eureka.

WILL FORWARD ALLIED NOTE IMMEDIATELY
PARIS, Nov. 21.—The Interallied Military Council of Ambassadors have decided to send communication to Berlin immediately, notifying the German government that allied military control will be established over Germany. The Allies will exact penalties if Germany does not obey, it is indicated. The communication warns that Allied control must function without delay, and it is understood that Germany is warned not to let the Ex-Kaiser return. The tension between England and France has been lessened by the compromise reached.

excellent peace time effort of the American Legion and predicted excellent results would follow.

Tuttle Principal Speaker
Prof. H. S. Tuttle, of Pacific Grove University, was introduced as the principal speaker of the evening, his subject being, "Education." He handled the subject in a masterful manner, demonstrating the effect of education upon civilization, portraying vividly that civilization will advance only as education advances. In a concise manner he told of how each generation has its own civilization, the degree of which is dependent on the present generation's capabilities for absorption of the achievements of each preceding generation. "Environment and inspiration are two effective forces influencing the boys and girls of today," said the speaker. "You can not teach the young but you can place before them avenues of learning and an inspiration to secure knowledge." The speaker decried efforts to impose on the young generations the same code of ethics and the same set rules as followed by those of mature years, and he indicated that through interest and inspiration they would solve their own problems.

Praises Ashland Schools
During the course of his highly interesting address, Prof. Tuttle took occasion to refer to Ashland's school system, which he characterized as excellent and said: "You people of Ashland are getting more for your dollar in your schools than most other schools of the Pacific Coast."

Gruelle Is Guest
John Gruelle, author of "Raggedy Ann" and associate books, and Mrs. Gruelle were honored guests at the dinner. Responding to an introduction and a warm reception, Mr. Gruelle replied briefly and appropriately, and expressed the desire to become better acquainted with Ashland and Ashland people.

Many of the teachers of the local school were also in attendance.

PORTLAND TIRE MAKERS ANNOUNCE GUARANTEE PLAN
Corporation Permits Dealers to Give Replacements if C. T. C.'s Are Outdistanced.

Taking the tire world by surprise, the Columbia Tire Corporation has announced that C-T-C tire dealers will be permitted to guarantee C-T-C tires to outwear any other make of tires a customer wants to match against them, size for size, in a competitive mileage test.

The announcement states that for two months, from November 15th to January 15th, authorized C-T-C dealers are to offer to place a C-T-C on any wheel opposite any make tire, and that if the C-T-C doesn't outwear and outdistance the competitive tire, a new C-T-C tire is to be presented to the user free. The only restriction is that the user drive the two makes of tires continuously under the same conditions. In its announcement to dealers of this guaranty the Columbia Tire Corporation points out that C-T-C tires have proved their ability to withstand this test, and that the move should go a long way to prove to their customers the merits of a hand-built tire against those which are machine built in vast quantities.

Since their advent upon the market last February C-T-C tires have won their way into shops of almost 500 dealers in the Northwest, and are now on their way into California territories. It is said by Mr. Alfred A. Aya, general sales manager that the fleets of many large Northwest corporations now travel wholly on C-T-C tires and that individual purchasers are increasing in all territories.

C-T-C tires are manufactured by few that more than ninety per cent of the raw materials for making tires originated on the Pacific, and therefore can be easily and economically laid down at the doors of the Pacific Coast tire manufacturers. The men responsible for the building and equipping of the Columbia Tire Corporation's plant, and the making of C-T-C tires grew up in the industry, having been connected for many years with some of the best known tire manufacturers in America. C-T-C tires are handled in Ashland by Leedon's Tire Store in the Beaver block.
