NOVEMBER 24

THE INFINITE PROTECTOR.—If I take the wings of the morning, and dwell in the uttermost parts of the sea; even there shall thy hand lead me, and thy right shall hold me.—Psalm 139:9,10.

WELCOME THE STRANGER

Despite the fact that the Tidings is possessed of a pride in being well acquainted with local conditions, an intensive campaign initiated for an increase in circulation has revealed the fact that there are more new people in Ashland this fall than during any other preceding year during the past decade.

This condition calls to mind an important duty of men and women who have resided in the city for any considerable length of time: that of extending to the stranger a hearty welcome and a sincere greeting.

THE COMMON THINGS IN EDUCATION

"No race," wrote Brooker T. Washington, "can prosper until it learns that there is as much dignity in tilling a field as in writing a poem;" and upon this principle the Tuskegee Institute was founded.

Thirty-eight years ago Brooker T. Washington bought an abandoned farm in Alabama for $500 and borrowed $150 with which to make the first payment.

To-day the livestock numbers many hundreds of horses, colts, cows, calves, oxen, hogs, and pigs, as well as a large number of sheep and goats.

Of the early policy of the school, Washington remarked, "We had to have something to eat, so we began with farming." He summed up his convictions regarding education in these words: "My experience has taught me that the surest way to success in education is to stick close to the common and familiar things—things that concern the greater part of the people the greater part of the time."

RED CROSS SEALS

There are numerous pleas in a general way and in each community in a particular way for worthy causes but there is none more worthy or quite so unobtrusive as the annual sale of Christmas Red Cross seals, and returns from which are used for the fight against tuberculosis.

Investment in these seals requires only such a sum as the individual requires to spend from one cent upwards. Even the poorest may have a real part in making up a fund that in other years has done so much in relieving sufferers and in fighting the physical foe of so many persons.

Plans should be made early for the distribution of the Christmas Seals and this distribution should be as widespread as possible. Not only will this plan increase the revenue to the organizations engaged in fighting the white plague, but it will enable more persons to receive the benefit that comes from participating in raising the money and for the educational value that accompanies them.

KIWANIS ACTION IS COMMENDABLE

The announcement that the Kiwanis club will make the members of the Ashland High School football team honored guests at their noon luncheon is commendable.

the team during the coming year, and will aid in building a winning team.

The idea of throwing moral support behind local organizations and local institutions is a good one. It will develop loyalty. Town loyalty is a requirement in Ashland. It is needed for the football team, for the commercial organizations, civic societies, industries and business firms.

THE FORUM

Articles of timely interest are welcomed under this head. Communications must bear the signature of the author.

How come? Mr. Speed Cop; you seem to think all that is required of you is to grab some one who is in a bit of a hurry and happens to run a little over 30 miles per hour.

Any one who drives knows that that is not what causes so many accidents. It is the bone-heads cutting corners, stopping on the pavements and turning without giving the proper or no signals at all.

Do your stuff speed cop and give us a little protection.

BIG SHOW COMING; ALL-STAR CAST; MUSIC

Peck's Bad Boy Will Be At Armory, Tuesday, November 27.

"Peck's Bad Boy" for over thirty years one of the funniest plays ever written will come to the local Armory for one night, Tuesday, Nov. 27th.

This is the big Road show that has an open date, via Portland, and will be staged under the auspices of 484 Co. A. C. A.

This is the new modern version of the famous story, and the grocery store with the bad boy is said by press and public to be one scream from first to last act. There are more laughs in this play than any three comedies ever written says Mr. Miller of Williams, Cal. A large cast of well known fun makers will appear here in the big show together with a special orchestra and musical numbers.

POSTMASTER FINED FOR SELLING LIQUOR

BEND, Nov. 24.—F. M. Cleaves, Justice of the peace and postmaster at Crescent, pleading guilty to a complaint which he himself had signed, was fined $500 today by Justice of the Peace Gilson of Bend for selling liquor. Cleaves admitted parting with a quart of whiskey, receiving five dollars for it from a state operative, but declared that he did it merely as an accommodation, that it was liquor purchased originally for his own use and that in selling it he asked exactly the same price as that which he himself had given.

INCOME TAX BOOKS BURNED, IT IS HINTED

PORTLAND, Nov. 23.—Has Cyril G. Brownell, president and treasurer of the State Income Tax Referendum league, destroyed the record books which officials of the Oregon state grange have been demanding the right to scrutinize? This question suddenly projected itself into the hearing before Presiding Judge Evans of the circuit court yesterday, on Brownell's motion to dismiss the writ of mandamus ordering him to show the books to the grangers.

"What would be your attitude if you were told that Mr. Brownell had destroyed these books?" asked Judge Evans of A. H. Tanner, attorney for the grange committee.

WILL ABANDON STREET CAR LINE AT ASTORIA

ASTORIA, Nov. 21.—The Pacific Power & Light company is planning the abandonment of its street car lines in this city, rather than bear the expense of $150,000 necessary to construct streets along its right of way.

Asked by the mayor if the company would reconsider its decision if the city agrees to bear the expense of filling and paving in the burned section, Mr. Galvani replied that if this is done he will recommend that the street car be continued.

METHOD AND SYSTEM TRUE BASIS OF PERSONAL THRIFT

BY S. W. STRAUS, President American Society for Thrift

I CAN'T understand why I am always behind in my personal financial affairs," a man who earns a handsome salary said to the writer some time ago.

S. W. STRAUS you will have the answer to your question.

The plan was tried. Every penny of expense was jotted down, and at the end of the month the man found that he had spent about $100 more than he had thought was his custom.

That explained the reason why he was always in a quandary about his personal affairs.

When he was brought face to face with conditions he began to change his habits, and his situation improved in like proportion.

There are, no doubt, many such persons as the one referred to who constantly are running behind and cannot understand why.

The very first step must be a daily record of expenditures. We daresay that the majority of those who begin this plan will soon be astonished at the amount of money they waste during the course of a month.

Figures do not lie. You can't spend your money and have it. If you want to spend constructively and save wisely you must eliminate the little wastes.

Above everything else you must know what you are doing. You cannot build yourself up on the shifting sands of ignorance or indifference.

It may seem like a waste of time and effort to keep a strict record of every penny you spend, but it is the best method of getting on the right track in the management of your personal affairs.

Personal thrift, like business efficiency, is a matter of method and system. It must be founded on complete knowledge of one's affairs.
