MARRY IN OWN 'CLASS' IS ADVICE

"Don't Fear Poverty," Says Preacher, Telling How to Select Mate.

LAUDS HUMBLE START Pick Partner on Same Level and Eschew Other Fields, He Urges Both Sexes.

WATERTOWN, N. Y., Nov. 22.—"Marry in your own class if you would insure married happiness,"

That is the advice offered today by the Rev. Dr. George F. Shepherd, pastor of the Asbury Methodist Episcopal Church of this city and one of the best known divines of that denomination in New York State.

America can eradicate the divorce evil by observing three things, the clergyman declares. "My first suggestion is, do not fear poverty," he says. "Too many of our young people think it is necessary for them to start in where their parents left off. It is not necessary when you start in on your married life to have four or five well-furnished rooms, with Turkish rugs on the floor. It would be better for a good many of them to start in with a rag on the floor, an old cook stove and a few stools, and build up their own home through hard work.

Wed Own "Kind." "My second suggestion is, marry your own kind. Do not marry outside of your own class, creed or color. I know there are examples of where it has worked out all right, but if you follow the majority of cases through to the end you will find that in the long run it is better to marry your own kind.

"Marry on about the same level where you are. Girls, do not think that the boys that you will find in some other church, or in some other city, are any better than those with whom you are now associated. Boys, do not think that the girls to be found elsewhere are any sweeter, or any purer than those to be found in your own class.

Single Standards. "Third, give what you expect. If you expect of your wife purity do not bring to her a heart that has been stained. A woman demands above all else undivided love. They often say that the way to a man's heart is through his stomach. 'Feed the brute' is a common expression.

"But you cannot cure the ache in a woman's heart by that method. You cannot bring home a box of candy at the close of the day, or keep flowers on the stand and let that suffice. You cannot make your wife happy by buying her trinkets. She wants them, but what she wants above all is undivided affection."

Gerson Rubenstein—"It's all luck—chance. I've had bobbed women in separation suits, but not in divorce, except as co-respondents. What of it? Age makes the difference and individual circumstances."

Is it luck? Is there no general rule? Does bobbing lead to the arena of the matrimonial court—or to the hearthstone? Or doesn't it make any difference? Which of the answers are right—or are they all right?

Tuesday, November 27—French club; Mrs. F. D. Wagner, hostess. Friday, November 30—Entertainment for Farm Home, Presbyterian church.

Tuesday, December 4—Covered Dish Luncheon, Civic club, 12:30. Civic Club—The program of the Civic Club on Tuesday of this week provided one of the very interesting meetings of the year. Interesting because of the vital importance of the subject considered, and in the manner of its presentation.

Miss Devereaux is an easy speaker and her heart is in her work. Her subject was one that appeals, and one of which many do not have first hand knowledge. In Miss Devereaux's discussion she gave the requirements of the county nurse, how the work was financed, the scope of her work, and the field.

Her work takes her to every district in the county aside from making special calls. Her aim is to prevent disease and ill health rather than to cure it, for in the territory that she covers it is practically impossible to be on hand often in an acute illness.

Miss Devereaux gave a detailed statement of the districts visited, of the clinics held, and something of the needs, which are many.

Very little did she say of the trials or discouragements but rather of the love and enthusiasm she felt in her chosen field of endeavor.

To Make a Christmas for the Homeless—An entertainment is planned for next week that has for its object, the happiness and welfare of the little orphans at the W. C. T. Farm Home. The thought is to make a Christmas for the tots who will have none, unless kindly hearts provide one.

The entertainment will be given in the Presbyterian Church and will consist of readings, varied in character and the choirs of both the Methodist and Presbyterian churches will assist. At the home there are forty or fifty little folk, now, five of them from Ashland, and it is stated there are 300 that should be there were room provided. The buildings that are there are well equipped, but more are needed, and will be added as finances are provided.

Married—The marriage of Mrs. Jennie Gray and Mr. Fred Pinkerton occurred Wednesday, November the twenty-first at the Presbyterian parsonage in Medford, the Rev. Mr. Lawrence officiating. They will make their home in the Freeburg apartments until spring. Mr. and Mrs. Pinkerton have many friends who extend congratulations and good wishes.

Embroidery Club Meets—The Embroidery Club of the L. A. to B. of R. T. met at Mrs. L. C. Dunn's pleasant home on Wednesday afternoon of this week. The time passed very delightfully with busy fingers engaged in dainty needle work.

Nearly all the membership were present at this meeting, at the close of which the hostess, assisted by Mrs. Mark Smith, served a most charming two course luncheon.

Her enthusiasm in the opportunity for constructive service was contagious and those who listened, felt an added interest and concern in this work, that is so necessary and vital a thing in our county. There was a good attendance and at the close of the interesting address tea was served by the hostesses, Mrs. F. S. Engle and Mrs. A. Marske.

"Who Do?" Meet—The home of Mrs. I. A. Dow was the scene of the last meeting of "Who Do" class of the M. E. S.

At the business meeting among the many things considered was the appointment of the decorating committees for the church services. The president of this wide awake class is Mrs. Haberly and the secretary treasurer is Mrs. E. Dougherty.

Among the things discussed also were plans for their Christmas party, December 18, at the church to which the husbands are to be invited.

While the pleasant visit of the afternoon was in progress fingers were busy in tying comforts.

There were perhaps thirty present for the pleasant meeting with a number of little visitors.

At the close the hostess, assisted by Mrs. Manley Brower served lovely refreshments.

P. T. A. Meets—The Hawthorne circle of the P. T. A. met in the Hawthorne Library on Tuesday of this week.

There was a rather important business session preceding the program.

The opening number of the program was a piano solo pleasingly rendered by Mrs. Aikins.

Rev. P. K. Hammond gave the address of the afternoon. It was particularly well received, and was a very thoughtful, forceful effort in line with the thought Educational Week.

A number of Miss Mannel's pupils gave a very clever little playlet that closed the program.

There was a good attendance and keen interest shown in the meeting.

Delightful Dinner—Mr. and Mrs. M. W. Wheeler were gracious host and hostess at a pleasant dinner party Friday at which Mr. Oleson was the complimented guest.

Mr. and Mrs. Wheeler had invited a number of friends to meet Mr. Oleson, who is a returned missionary from China, and who is giving a series of addresses at the Baptist church this week.

A Delightful Surprise—One of the happiest surprises, one in which the "surprisers" were a little surprised occurred Thursday of this week.

The occasion was the birthday anniversary of Mrs. G. F. Billings and the class of which she is an honored member, the "Bethany" Sunday school class of the M. E. church, planned and carried out this delightful surprise.

At ten o'clock on Thursday the members of the class met at the church, where cars awaited them to convey them to the pleasant home of Mr. and Mrs. G. F. Billings. On their arrival they were surprised to find the house locked.

While they waited the last auto arrived, bringing with them the guest of honor, whom they had overtaken coming from a call.

Although completely surprised, Mrs. Billings was perfectly delighted that the class had planned the happy affair.

The ladies had come laden with boxes, packages and covered dishes that only the initiated could guess the contents; so, while the major part of the class were making merry in the parlor, a committee, previously appointed, took possession of the kitchen and dining room and it was not many minutes before the others were summoned to partake of a delightful luncheon, whose delicious viands had been prepared, many of them before coming, the luncheon being in the nature of a covered dish affair.

Mrs. Van Fossen, invoked the Divine blessing, and with hearts atune, the guests united in a verse of "Blest be the Tie that Binds."

Mrs. Billings was the recipient of a beautiful bouquet of the large, creamy chrysanthemums as an expression of loving esteem from the class, and among the many other individual gifts, was a lovely bouquet of white chrysanthemums from Mrs. Butler Walker.

Those who shared this joyous day with the guest of honor, Mrs. G. F. Billings, were the Mesdames A. Johnson, B. H. Hatch, T. J. Swanning, O. A. Stearns, Irene Eagon, H. H. Leavett, W. M. Barber, O. G. Howard, M. E. Ferguson, A. E. Mallicoate, W. F. Ball, Malinda James, M. E. Larimer, O. H. Spaulding, Ada E. Clark, Jennie Hammond, E. A. Allen, C. S. Maresan, C. F. Wertz, Lee Jammerthal, T. J. McCoy, John B. Hair, W. H. Worthington, Jennie Gilbert, Adaline Clary, Mary Johnson, Alice Johnson and Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Billings.

After a happy visit with the hostess in her delightful home, the guests departed with hearty congratulations for this milestone and a hope that they be permitted to offer loving good wishes on many another.

The Ladies Aid Meets—

Mrs. Hedkinson was hostess on Wednesday of this week to the Ladies Aid society of the M. E. church. Her home was beautifully decorated for the occasion. The rooms were bright with autumn leaves and great bowls of chrysanthemums, and baskets of fruits, indicating that Thanksgiving time was drawing near.

The earlier part of the afternoon was spent in the formal business meeting, at which Mrs. Tilton presided, during which the plans for the year's work were completed.

With the exception of a short program, the meeting was a purely social one and the time was spent most enjoyably.

There was a full attendance, there being at least fifty present for the pleasant afternoon.

The hostess served delicious refreshments of cake and coffee, assisted by a committee of Mrs. M. W. Wheeler, chairman, and the Mesdames Van Natta, Vestal, McGee, Marske, Leavett, McCracken and Lennox from Valley View.

These meetings are most delightful ones and are planned for each month.

Card Club Meets—

The Elk Ladies Card club met at their club rooms on Thursday of this week, with a full attendance.

The afternoon was spent delightfully in bridge, of which there were seven tables played.

Mrs. George Rose was accorded first honors on this occasion.

Delightful refreshments were served at the close of the pleasant afternoon, by the gracious hostesses, Mrs. D. Perozzi and Mrs. F. G. Swendenburg.

There were two guests from Medford.

District Convention C. E.—

There is a meeting of the C. E. Union of this district at Grants Pass in session today. A number from Ashland are in attendance. A good program is planned and the social feature is always provided for at these gatherings. The sessions are held at the different towns in which there is a city union. Last year the meeting was in Ashland.

Siam Topic for Sunday Evening—

The C. E.'s are planning a most interesting meeting for Sunday night's consecrations service.

The topic is "Siam", and it is a missionary meeting, with an offering to be taken for the work.

The leader is Miss Mabel Trott and every member is urged to be present and be prepared to answer to roll call with a Bible verse. A favorite verse or one appropriate to the subject under consideration.

The C. E. extends an invitation to all members, former members, alumni, and everyone interested, to come to this service.

Missionary Meeting—

The meeting of the Missionary Society of the Presbyterian church at Mrs. Van San's on Wednesday of this week was a most interesting one. The business session in charge of the president, Mrs. Lamkin, had much of interest to the members.

The subject under consideration during the program was Siam and wonderful facts concerning the work there, were brought out. The quarterly gifts added a goodly sum to the treasury.

The next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Mathis on N. Main street, and an excellent program is planned. The date is rather near Christmas, but it is hoped that everyone will bear the meeting in mind and plan to attend.

BERNARR MACFADDEN

In the fighting of disease, fresh, pure, vitalized, sunlight air is one of the greatest and most potent influences for good. There is no disease for which fresh air and sunlight are not the best kind of medicines. Nothing has delighted us more in recent years than the tremendous and growing interest manifested in the cure of consumption by open-air methods. Twenty-five years ago when Physical Culture Magazine was first issued, we were as emphatic then in our statements of the benefits to be derived from the open-air treatment as we are today, and we find considerable satisfaction in congratulating ourselves upon the great help that we have been to this laudable movement. The influence of what we have said on this subject during these years has been widespread and has undoubtedly influenced thousands of people—physicians, magazine and newspaper editors, and laymen generally—to look upon this movement with greater favor than they would otherwise have done.

Great and influential medical associations have joined this movement, and a few years ago, even the New York Medical Society, one of the most conservative and reserved of bodies, came out with the most generous endorsement and advocacy of the open-air treatment in case of consumption, freely confessing that drugging methods were practically of no benefit.

I can assure my readers and the medical profession that the assertions of this distinguished medical body apply not only to consumption, but practically to every disease known to man.

The pure oxygen of the air is of greater importance to all people who are sick than to those who are well and strong. Not long ago we picked up a medical journal and read where a physician gave his experience in the treatment of whooping cough in compressed air. He had a cabinet, into which the sufferer was placed and so arranged that the impure air was carried away to the outside, and the only air he was allowed to breathe was the compressed air forced into the cabinet. This compressed air contained a largely increased amount of oxygen, and as the patient remained in the cabinet from two to four hours each day, he found the disease quickly subsided and the normal health recovered.

I cannot too strongly emphasize my assurance that in every disease the more one gets into the open air the better it will be.
