OREGON WILL HAVE FINE GUERNSEY FARM

OREGON CITY, Nov. 30.—E. J. Mahy, direct from the Island of Guernsey and bringing with him a carload of thoroughbred Guernsey cattle, arrived in Clackamas county last week and intends to establish in the county one of the finest Guernsey cattle ranches in the state. He has leased the Frank Hutchins farm on the Clackamas river about eight miles from Oregon City.

Mr. Mahy was induced to come to Clackamas county by Mr. Westover, American representative of the Guernsey club, who told him of the advantages here.

Burns— Railroad will reach here by first of year.

CHAMBER PRESIDENT IS AFTER TURKEY LAURELS Fred C. Homes, president of the Ashland Chamber of Commerce and head of the executive committee for the Winter Fair, is an enthusiastic fancier of good turkeys and has intimated that he is going after the laurels in that department this year. Mr. Homes has some exceptionally fine turkeys and will offer strong competition, but it is understood that a number of other turkey growers of the valley are not going to permit him to have everything his own way.

BEND SUICIDE (?) IS LIVING IN CALIFORNIA BEND, Nov. 29.—W. B. Rogers, who disappeared several weeks ago while on a trip across the high desert and whose farewell notes led to the belief that he had ended his life, is now living in California, Sheriff Rogers discovered today. In his letter of good-bye, Rogers bequeathed his automobile to whoever might find it, and referred in melancholy strain to the later discovery of his "bleaching bones."
