DOMINION:—God hath not given us the spirit of fear: but of power, and of love, and of a sound mind.—2 Timothy 1:7.

THANKSGIVING DAY FOOTBALL GAME

The fact that a thousand or more of the enthusiastic and public spirited men and women of Medford accompanied the football team of the city to Ashland for the game Thanksgiving day was complimentary to their team, not only, but an honor to Ashland as well. It is true that the visit of the large delegation was arranged primarily for the purpose of backing the Medford football eleven and to convince the public of the reality of the Medford spirit, yet the Tidings is inclined to believe that another reason behind the unusual occurrence was a desire on the part of Medford people to patronize the Ashland game and to exhibit a spirit of good fellowship and to promote friendship between the two towns.

Whether or not this conjecture is correct matters not, for Ashland feels honored by the visit and there is no doubt but that it did much to promote the proper feeling between the two towns. A year ago relations between the two were strained because of football. Thursday gave no indication of that. The Thanksgiving day contest was a credit to the football teams of the high schools of Medford and Ashland; the attendance of people from both towns was creditable, and the good sportsmanship exhibited by the fellows of the rival teams was exceptionally complimentary.

BIGGEST BUSINESS NEVER HAD A BALANCE SHEET

In 1925 for the first time in history of this nation, the government will issue a balance sheet of assets and liabilities.

It is truly amazing that such huge "concern" as the United States with its enormous operations in almost every field of human endeavor could have gone on for 135 years without knowing "where it stands." Any other corporation, municipal or individual, would have been either on the rocks or in the courts. We have, as a business concern, appropriated funds, contracted debts, issued bonds and employed a couple of hundred thousand of workmen and women regardless of our income or capacity to pay, and then levied an assessment on the stockholders to make good any deficiency. It is a fact that no one can tell today what the "net worth" of the United States is, nor is there any way of showing its gross liabilities. The Treasury Department issues a daily statement which gives a clear enough picture of the cash situation. It shows cash assets and liabilities and gives a classified statement of receipts from various sources and the nature of expenditures. It falls far short of presenting a picture of the Government's financial condition, for it does not take into account assets other than cash, not the unpaid obligations of the Government. A recent unofficial examination into these matters indicated a total of liabilities amounting to $5,000,000,000, compared with $1,000,000,000 quick assets.

A uniform accounting system is being installed by John R. McCarl, the Comptroller General, and within two years he hopes to put the business of the Government on a business basis.

PEACE AND READY CASH

The time limit for the entrants in the Bok peace plan contest has expired and scattered over the land are many thousands of earnest minded individuals softly speculating on what a lot of difference $50,000 would make in their personal peace.

On latest reports groaning carriers of peace plans staggered into the official New York headquarters with the last-minute consent from the post office and that the total received comprises sufficient proposals for every soldier in the world to employ a different one.

The first purpose of the award, doubtless, has been achieved. It focused the constructive attention of thousands of persons in many lands on the grand purpose of establishing a permanent peace. There have been men in every age who desired peace and strove to insure it; but never have they been encouraged to desire peace and $100,000 cash in one and the same legitimate aspiration.

There is this to be said, that peace will come when the people generally make up their mind to have it. It will not come until they do. If the stir over the Bok prize proves a seed-time for public opinion then the harvest will come irrespective of what precise plan serves as the instrument.

Out of so much brain-searching something considerable should develop; always providing that the army of defeated contestants do not mobilize.

For a maximum of talk and a minimum of accomplishments "aid the farmer" advocates have them all cheated.

South Carolina has a horse that laughs: If this nag ever got a look at the crowd of bettors on a race track, it probably would go into hysterics.

The Illinois philosopher who counsels man to "admire woman without trying to understand her," appears to intimate it to be impossible to do both.

France has decided to retain the guillotine, for which it is claimed that no physician need be in attendance to determine whether the condemned is dead.

Possibly the New York biologist who said the beautiful American girl is becoming extinct had just returned from one of these Atlantic City beautiful girl contests.

The governor of Texas, who is a democrat, has sent a hat to the Governor of Pennsylvania, who has done something with his republican hat.

Picture magnates say they are going to make the film industry more stable. They may go so far as to cut out the horseplay.

Would you believe it that years ago no family was so poor that it did not have a turkey wing in the house to use as a brush in sweeping up crumbs, litter, etc?

In Chicago a man who killed another was acquitted because nobody could prove that the dead man had ever been alive. The law ought to film some of its comedies.

RAILROAD TYPIST WINS HIGHEST SPEED HONORS

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 30.—High speed honors in typing have just been won by Miss Agnes Pottage, employed in the accounting department of the Southern Pacific Company at San Francisco. One day recently she set the record of 206 letters from 41 dictating machine cylinders. For a period of a month her daily average was 158 letters of about 90 words each.

The record of Miss Pottage is declared by experts to be all the more remarkable when it is considered that the letters contained technical words, tabulations and figures peculiar to railway accounting correspondence.

BANK MESSENGERS ARE ROBBED AT SEATTLE

SEATTLE, Nov. 28.—Search for the quartet of bandits, who last evening held up and robbed two Bank of California messengers and escaped with registered mail valued at $20,000, continued today without avail. A corps of detectives working on the case, consider it one of the most daring holdups of its kind ever staged in the city.

BEGIN INVESTIGATION OF TEA POT DOME RESERVE

WASHINGTON, Nov. 30.—Senatorial investigation into leasing the Tea Pot Dome Oil Reserve to Harry Sinclair, started delving finances and private affairs of Albert Fall, former secretary of the interior, who made the lease to the Sinclair interests. Carl McGee, a newspaper editor from Albuquerque, told the committee that Fall was unable to pay taxes on his ranch from 1911 to 1922. Two months after the Tea Pot Dome lease was let to Sinclair, McGee testified that taxes were paid and extensive improvements were made on the ranch. Senator Walsh of Montana, substantiated McGee's claim.

RELIEVED BOY'S COUGH

Mrs. L. Van Belle, Pendroy, Mont., writes, "I like your Cough Medicine very well. My little boy 6 years old, had a very bad cough and after using FOLEY'S HONEY AND TAR COMPOUND he secured relief."
