600 HEAD LOCAL MINSTRELS

when not engaged in taking a "close-up" of the many feminine performers, formed the basis for many of his jokes. After a rather extended inspection of the dancers and singers, Seth informed his audience that the costumes reminded him of a barbed wire fence, in that they offered protection, yet offered no obstruction to the view.

Miss Blanche McLean danced in her usual pleasing manner. Mrs. Alice McGee led the Rose Bud chorus with a charm that won her many new friends. The chorus was an excellent attraction and the young ladies acquitted themselves with credit.

A Hawaiian act was a pleasing feature of the cabaret program. Mrs. Alice McGee, Miss Velma Clapp, Floyd and Chas. Rush and Chas. Robinson composed the Hawaiian quartet, which rendered a number of pleasing selections, featuring the steel guitar and usual instruments of the Hawaiians. As a fitting climax to the act, Miss Clapp danced the Hula in a manner that brought forth a storm of applause.

The Trained Horse.

Barney Google, represented by "Chick" Farlow, and who made a Jiggs-like escape from one of the tables, leaving his wife and children, reappeared on the stage with a trained "horse," that for horsemanship and ragging ability was a world beater. Barney handled his "horse" in a manner that would put to shame the leading ringmaster of Ringling Bros. The performance of Barney and the horse constituted one of the best hits of the evening. Domino Provoost and Newton Harrison played the horse, and the two deserve a lot of credit for their part of the act.

A male quartet, composed of Loveland, Briggs, Miller and Pheptelace, rendered a selection as a part of the cabaret program.

An orchestra, composed of Ashland's best musicians, occupied a place in the scene and provided excellent music for the performers.

The program closed with a song by the chorus, bringing to an end one of the best evenings of entertainment ever enjoyed in the city. The Vining was packed for the show, many of the spectators coming from Medford and other neighboring points.

Much credit for the splendid performance rightfully belongs to Carl Loveland, who directed the show. The character of the performance reflects great credit on Mr. Loveland, as well as those who participated.

The show was an excellent financial success and the Lithians, who sponsored the event, are gratified with the liberal attendance.

The women of Ashland are invited to observe, and sample products from Alpine Milk demonstration being conducted today and Wednesday at the Plaza Market. 79

OREGON TEACHERS TO MEET DEC. 27-8-9

President of University of Ohio Secured as Lecturer for Annual Session.

BEND, Dec. 4.—Dr. E. B. Bryan, President of the University of Ohio, one of the leading educators of the United States and well known as a brilliant platform orator, has been secured as lecturer for the annual session of the Oregon State Teacher's Association by the President of the Association, Superintendent G. W. Ager, of Bend.

The convention will be held in Portland at the Lincoln High School on December 27, 28, 29. For the general sessions efforts are being made to secure another speaker of equal rank with Doctor Bryan. The annual session will open at nine o'clock, Tuesday, December 27, with a meeting of the Representative Council.

The general session of the Association convenes at nine o'clock Friday morning, December 28. The opening address will be given by Dr. Bryan. From reports already received by officers of the Association, it is estimated that there will be more than two thousand teachers from all sections of Oregon in attendance at this session. Department meetings will be held Friday afternoon and Saturday morning, and the convention will close with a general assembly Saturday afternoon for which there has been provided an excellent program of special music and an address by one of the Eastern speakers.

The Teachers' Association is composed of twenty different departments. Programs of unusual merit have been prepared for these various divisions, the meetings of which will be held on Friday afternoon and Saturday morning. The chairmen of the sections are as follows:

- Agriculture, Forest Ryeratt, Lebanon; Art, Miss Esther Wuest, Portland; City Superintendents, Supt. A. M. Cannon, Hood River; Classroom Teachers, Miss Elsie M. Neave, Grants Pass; Commerce, R. D. Taylor, Portland; Higher Education, Dean Colin V. Dymont, University of Oregon, Eugene; History, P. E. Christenson, City High School, Eugene; Home Economics, Katherine Kookken, Girls' Polytechnic, Portland; Industrial Arts, Washington High, Portland; Librarians, Superintendent Twyla Ferguson, Klamath Falls; Modern Languages, P. A. Getz, Roosevelt High, Portland; Music, Miss Louise Woodruff, Marsfield; Oregon State Council of English Teachers, Miss Ida V. Turney, University of Oregon, Eugene; Oregon State Council of Geography Teachers, Miss Jessie McGregor, Portland Public Schools; Physical Training, Dean J. F. Bovard, University of Oregon, Eugene; Psychology and Education, Superintendent M. S. Hamm, Roseburg; School Principals, Principal Austin Landreth, Pendleton; Vocational Education, A. R. Nichols, Oregon Agricultural College, Corvallis; Rural Schools, J. Alton Thompson, Bend; Science and Mathematics, L. E. Griffin, Reed College.

Have your clothes cleaned and repaired before the Holiday rush. Paulserud's. 78-1f

DUDLEY IS SPEAKER AT LUNCHEON

In his earlier remarks Mr. Dudley pointed out the apparent ease with which many residents of Oregon live and prosper, and called attention to the necessity, or duty, of each giving back to his community at least part of that which he receives from it.

Discusses Fruit Mr. Dudley exhibited a rather optimistic outlook for the fruit industry of the state. He told of having paid 25 cents for two Bose pears while on a recent trip East. He referred to the stagnation in the apple market and explained it by saying that the states of the Middle West are in direct competition with Oregon and Washington apples this year, due to a bumper crop, but gave it as his opinion that Oregon climate, together with quality production, will finally bring the local product into its own.

H. O. Frobach, secretary of the Medford Chamber of Commerce, and A. S. Rosenbaum, district freight and passenger agent, were among the visitors present and both spoke briefly. The former told of the present endeavor of his organization in selling Medford to Medford people, and said that the next step would be to sell Jackson county to Jackson county people, in which they would ask the cooperation of Ashland.
