versed, and he defeated the man Governor Preus, to whom he had previously lost the gubernatorial contest.

Senator Shipstead, of Minnesota is the first man ever elected to the Senate on a strict Farmer-Labor platform. With the exception of his colleagues, Senator Magnus Johnson, he is the sole representative of that party in the upper House.

Shipstead's has been a varied career; he has always dabbled and mixed into politics. It was no surprise to his friends then, when, riding on the crest of agrarian unrest in Minnesota, he trounced the conservative Republican incumbent, Senator Kellogg, now American Ambassador to Great Britain, in the last election. Outside of Minnesota, however, Shipstead's sweeping victory was a complete reversal of the "political dope." Few people throughout the country before had heard of the young Minneapolis dentist.

Graduate Dentist After graduation from the dental school of Northwestern University, Evanston, Illinois, in 1903, Shipstead moved to Sherwood, Minnesota, and later to Minneapolis, where he built up a large practice. Dentistry held no lasting charms, however, and soon he became interested deeply in farm and labor conditions. He finally came to be regarded as the champion of agriculturists and workers in the state. He was thoroughly a progressive in political belief and action. He thought that much of the hardships of rural life could and should be alleviated by legislative dictum. To that task he set himself with characteristic energy.

His efforts led him to become one of the leaders in the Farm-Labor movement.

Credit "Unrest." Opponents have attributed Shipstead's success at the polls to the general unrest that followed as the aftermath of war and to the desire of farmers for a change in administration which would prove beneficial to their appeals for assistance. Friends say it was due to the widespread progressive political belief that is sweeping the nation everywhere that more and more, without end, Shipsteads are coming to national legislative halls.

Shipstead is an ardent supporter of Senator La Follett and may be expected to go along all the way with the Wisconsin Senator in his "progressive legislative program."

Minnesota's senior Senator was born in Burbank, Minnesota, January 9, 1881, and attended public schools at New London and the State Normal at St. Cloud. In 1906 he married Miss Lulu Anderson, and he has one boy, 13 year old.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; can not injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink, which everyone should take now and then to help keep their kidneys clean, by flushing them with a mild, harmless salts which helps to remove the body's urinous waste and stimulates them to their normal activity. The function of the kidneys is to filter the blood. In 25 hours they strain from it 500 grains of acid and waste, so we can readily understand the vital importance of keeping the kidneys active.

Drink lots of good water—you can't drink too much; also get from any pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast each morning for a few days and your kidneys may then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for years to help clean and stimulate clogged kidneys; also to neutralize the acids in the system so they are no longer a source of irritation thus often relieving bladder weakness.
