Lovely Birthday Party—
Little Eunice Wing was tiny hostess to eleven of her friends at a happy afternoon Thursday, when she celebrated her seventh birthday, from four till six.

Delightful plans had been made for their entertainment and from the sounds of merriment and pleasure heard, these plans were very successful.

The decorations were very beautiful dainty carnations and delicate greenery gave color to the scene. Pretty pink and green baskets with their toothsome dainties, and the lovely birthday cake in pink with the green of the rosebuds and pink candles of just the right number made the tables a most attractive sight; and the wee lassies certainly enjoyed the ice cream, cake and chocolate supplemented by the novel favors that afforded so much fun.

Mrs. J. Z. Wing the hostess, was assisted by Miss Catherine Parsons in entertaining the young guests that helped to make Eunice's birthday such a happy day.

The guest list included Frances Eastburn, Jean Neil, Charlotte Mitchell, Aileen Clawson, Lovette De Armand, Ardis De Armand, Clarice Cronson Marietta Whitney Virginia Brown, Yvonne Shepherd, and Virginia Candall.

Entertained at Dinner—
Mrs. Josephine Poley and daughters the Misses Evangeline and Minnie Poley entertained as dinner guests Wednesday evening the Messdames F. H. Conner, of Elko Nevada, H. W. Andrews and Messrs. Aaron Andrews and Alan Andrews.

Splendid Meeting—
The joint meeting of the Baptist Society and Ladies Aid held Wednesday at the Baptist church parlors was a particularly interesting one.

Mrs. Channell, as the efficient president of the Missionary Society was in charge of the business session and program.

The subject for the general discussion was "Faith" and was in the form of a symposium; those making the addresses were Mrs. Alice Gilmore, Ms. H. O. Anderson and Mrs. C. A. Brown.

The usual routine of business was taken care of at the business session, and during the afternoon several boxes were packed for the Foreign Missionary field by the "White Cross."

It was voted that every member present, pay one dollar for the missionary work. The Ladies Aid finished the quilt donated by Mrs. McClanahan and Mrs. Butts, and in view of the fact that there is so much work to be done, the Ladies Aid decided to have a number of called meetings.

Those present certainly felt that much had been accomplished at this joint session.

Married—
A marriage of interest to the many friends of that young couple was solemnized Wednesday, December the twelfth, when Mr. T. J. Anderson, and Miss Hazel Carl were united in marriage.

Miss Carl is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Carl, who have their home in the Applegate country, on a fine dairy ranch near Ruch.

Mr. Anderson is the son of Mr. and Mrs. T. M. Anderson, whose home is at 117 Union and Fairview streets.

The happy couple left immediately for their new home at Stockton California, where the groom has a position as millwright in the Sperry Flour Mills in that city.

Their many friends extend hearty congratulations and good wishes for a future of happiness and prosperity.

Delightful Luncheon—
Mrs. S. S. Mitchell was gracious hostess at a charming two course luncheon on Thursday afternoon, in honor of Mrs. George White, who leaves very soon for Los Angeles to be with her daughter Mary Claire, who is studying music there.

The guests invited to meet Mrs. White, the complimented guest, were Mrs. B. B. Balls, Mrs. C. H.

Vaupel, Mrs. W. D. Gill, and Mrs. Fred Neil.

The afternoon was spent in the pleasant visit of old friends. All were regretful at Mrs. White's going and trust that next summer will see her happily established in Ashland again.

Wednesday Club Meeting—
The Wednesday Club, the social organization of the Presbyterian church held its regular meeting on Wednesday, December the 12th, in the church parlors.

The nearness of Christmas prevented many from being present that had planned to be there, but those who faced the disagreeable weather were amply repaid for the extra effort.

Not alone in the beautiful things that grew under busy fingers with Mrs. Ellis' skilled direction, but in the delightful social time that was a part of this meeting.

Everyone present reported a delightful time and much work accomplished.

The hostesses for the afternoon were Mrs. McCracken, Mrs. C. B. Lamkin and Mrs. Plumer who served dainty refreshments at the close of the social hour.

Christmas Dinner in San Francisco—
Mrs. C. J. Boyle, a sister of Mrs. H. H. Gillette, will have as guests for Christmas dinner, Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Gillette and Miss Marjorie Gillette, who leave for San Francisco Christmas Eve.

Miss Louise Gillette is in the city and at the home of Mrs. Boyle, so this will be a regular family reunion.

The Gillette's will spend their holidays in this delightful fashion, visiting and sightseeing.

Teacup Club Meet—
The Teacup Club, the social organization of the Methodist Church held its meeting in the church parlors Thursday, instead of at the home of Mrs. Thompson, one Terrace street as previously stated.

The rooms had been made very beautiful and Christmas-y with the wealth of greenery and laurel and every one seemed in the Christmas spirit.

A short business session was held, in which the time of meeting was definitely changed from Tuesday, the day that had been their "day" for so many years, to the fourth Thursday of each month.

The reason for the change was, that there were so many meetings on that particular day, in which many of the ladies were interested that the change seemed expedient.

A game by way of entertainment proved very amusing, and Christmas needlework occupied busy fingers, during the social hour.

In spite of the nearness of holiday time, there were a goodly number out to enjoy the pleasant afternoon.

At the close of the social hour the hostesses served delightful refreshments.

Mrs. Yeo, Mrs. Anguin, and Mrs. Brower assisted Mrs. Thompson in serving at this happy affair.

Card Club Meets—
The Elk Ladies Card Club had their usual meeting Thursday of this week, in their club room.

Considering that this is the holiday season, there was rather a large number present to enjoy the afternoon.

Five tables of bridge were played, with Mrs. Edmund Dewes securing high honors.

The hostesses, Mrs. Sylvan Provost, and Mrs. B. F. Storm served dainty refreshments at the close of the pleasant afternoon.

This is the last meeting of this club till the second Thursday in January, when the meetings are resumed.

Presbyterian Choir Entertained—
Mrs. J. S. Parsons and Mrs. J. H. Fuller were gracious hostesses at a delightful dinner party given at six-thirty Thursday evening in the Junior Room at the Presbyterian church, at which the guest list included the members of the choir, with the wives or husbands as the case might be.

Covers were laid for fifteen at this pleasant function; the table most attractive with its dainty place cards and delicate flower like favors.

The guests lingered long at the board, enjoying the delicacies provided and the pleasant companionship of old friends.

Birthday Celebration—
Mrs. Mary Hale was the guest of honor at a call meeting of the
