MEDFORD LEASES AUTO CAMP TO MERRICK INN

In addition to transacting a mass of routine business, the most important action taken by the city council last night, in session from 7:30 until long after 11 was the decision to have the city no longer operate the city auto camp, but to lease it to the management of the Merrick Motor Inn, for two years, at $600 annually, with the privilege of the lesor having first crack at renewal at the end of that time; the city to retain general supervision over the leased camp.

It is understood that the Inn management among the big improvements which it will make on its own plant by early spring will make from $1200 to $1500 worth of improvements on the leased camp.—Mail Tribune.

CHESTER CONCESSION IS CANCELLED BY TURKEY

LONDON, Dec. 20.—The Turkish government has formally cancelled the Chester concession according to a dispatch received from Constantinople. The so-called Chester concession was granted by the Ottoman American Development Co., in which George W. Goethals, builder of the Panama canal, is said to be interested. The concession called for the construction of extensive railways.

P. T. ASSN. GETS CHILD WELFARE LITERATURE

The Parent Teacher's Association has been able to secure an interesting lot of literature on child welfare and have pamphlets pertaining to the work on display at the public library.

Character Training, Your Opportunity with Health, Production of Clean Milk, A Program for Health Teaching, together with several other magazines have come from the Department of the Interior Bureau of Education.

They are quaintly decorated with picturesque pictures and mottoes. A clear conception of ways that will be effective in carrying on a health program is given with even a casual glance at the resume literature that has been obtained.

There is no charge attached to looking at the collection.

Dr. Finley Heads National Child Welfare

New York—Dr. John H. Finley, noted educator and journalist, has just been elected President of the National Child Welfare Association of 70 Fifth Avenue, New York, of which Herbert Hoover is Vice-President and Amos L. Prescott, Treasurer. Dr. Finley is deeply interested in the welfare of "all the children of all the people."

Dr. John H. Finley who has just been elected president of the National Child Welfare Association

In his latest book, "The Debt Eternal," he tells of a memorable day when he had presided over a meeting of the great ones of the earth. "As I came to my home," he says, "I had in my academic robes, with a hood of brilliant color about my shoulders, three or four little boys playing near the door looked up in awe. At last one of them got his tongue and said, 'There goes John's father.' So at the end of all this day of glory, I was the father of my five year old boy. It is that great multitude whom he represents to me who are soon to possess this earth."

It is for the sake of this "great multitude" of children all over America that Dr. Finley is allying himself with the work of the National Child Welfare Association. Speaking of his recent election to the Presidency of the Association, Dr. Finley said, "My special interest in the work of the National Child Welfare Association lies in the fact that it has a big vision and has devised a practical method of making that vision real. Its vision is of the whole education of the whole child. In its educational material, health training is never divorced from character training, but the gaining of a healthy body is seen only as a first step in the making of an alert, trained mind and a sterling character. It contemplates the dictum of Montaigne, 'We have not to train up a soul, nor yet a body, but a man, and we cannot divide him.'"

Realizing Its Vision

The practical method by which the Association is realizing its vision of a healthier, more intelligent, finer generation is that of visual education, lectures, exhibits and community organization. From all over the country, indeed from all over the world, visitors and letters come to the National Child Welfare Association asking for advice on every possible phase of the child's physical

The Church of God and World Peace

by The Reverend S. Parkes Cadman, D. D.

It is well understood that what may have been a comparative benefit in one age can become the decided curse of another. So the plea that war has occasionally been the agent of a new freedom has to be considered in the light of what it now is, does, and leaves as its bitter aftermath.

The Church of God, without reference to her divisions, will have to face this problem or suffer a setback which one does not care to contemplate. Her mission in the earth is already assigned. Her credentials belong to another realm than that of the state. She should be possessed by a greater love than nationalism or even democracy can inspire. Her affections are commanded for Humanity as a whole. They have been defiled by what William Irwin, journalist, war correspondent and author in his latest book, "Christ or Mars?" forcibly terms "bad biological habits."

Race, creed, color, distance, are all too prevalent in the conceptions of those who profess and call themselves Christians. It would seem as if to tell how she is using the Association's posters to teach the children, and their parents, too,—to brush their teeth, and asking whether there are other posters that will back up her teaching regarding fresh air. "Sometimes it is a deeply concerned group of women who want advice on how to start a child welfare center in their middle west town. Sometimes it is a librarian who needs some pictures to brighten the walls and to stimulate better reading habits in her little library in Maine. Or perhaps the head of a Children's Home wants some posters that will make the indifferent public realize what the Home is doing and lend it their support. "The National Child Welfare Association is itself partly supported by private contributions, thus being enabled in every case to give its advice and aid freely and to provide its educational posters at cost, serving and co-operating not merely with the health agencies, but with every agency which, in any way, touches the physical, mental or moral life of the child."
