Calendar of the Week—Thursday, Jan. 10—Covered Dish Dinner, six p. m. Civic Club. Friday, Jan. 11—Aid Society, Presbyterian church. Saturday, Jan. 12—College Club, Mrs. R. W. Stearns, Medford, hostess.

Impromptu Sleighting Party—One of the happiest of happy afternoons were spent by a group of young people, the latter part of the week when Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Joy planned a most delightful gathering for them.

It was arranged almost on the spur of the moment, but the surprise to some, and thrilling to all, experiences crowded into the day made it one of the happiest of the vacation time.

A sleighting party, with horses and sleigh bells (brought from back home), a coasting party on one of the finest hills for thrills in Belview neighborhood, Shaw Hill, (and thrills were not lacking); sleds tipped over, horses a little unmanageable, altogether it was one grand and glorious time.

About five the merry party adjourned to the pleasant Joy home where a delicious dinner awaited them, followed by music and dancing.

Those who made up the merry party were Messrs. John Galey, Henry Homes, Eugene Detrick, Albie Beck, and Barnard Joy and the Misses Isabel Silver, Edith Dodge, Irma Boss, Thelma Peruzzi, Marfan Leach and Katherine Parsons.

A Family Reunion—One of the happiest of family reunions took place during the holiday season at the hospitable home of Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Briggs Mr. and Mrs. James McNair and little daughter, Marjorie, Mr. and Mrs. Angie and children and Mr. and Mrs. Wm. M. Briggs made up the happy group that held the Christmas carnival of joyousness at the parental home.

The delightful dinner was at six o'clock, but the center of attraction was the wonderful Christmas tree, laden with its burden of beauty, and whose mysterious packages were distributed by a very real "Santa". The happiness of the occasion may only be realized by participants in these family festivals.

New Year's Day was another red letter day in the annals of the family. Not only was the day celebrated as New Year's Day but it also had the particular significance of being the wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Briggs, Mr. and Mrs. McNair, and Mr. and Mrs. Angie, making it doubly precious, as a family gathering.

The happy gatherings had a very happy close, Thursday evening when the pleasant home of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. M. Briggs was the scene of a most delightful dinner party, at which all the members of the family were guests.

Mr. and Mrs. James McNair leave for the north today but expect to return in about a week. Mr. and Mrs. Angie have returned to their home.

Bridge Club Entertained—Mrs. E. V. Carter and Mrs. Sanford were hostesses to the members of the Bridge Club at the home of the former, on the Boulevard, on New Year's Eve. This is one of the older clubs of the city and its members have very delightful evenings.

While awaiting the incoming New Year, the hours passed quickly in the interesting game, of which four tables were played. Those who enjoyed, with their hostesses, the delightful evening were the Messrs. and Mesdames F. D. Wagner, A. E. Kinney, Emil Pell, T. H. Simpson, J. M. Wagner Herman Mattern and Mrs. Sanford's guest, Mrs. Burnett of New York City.

The New Year was surely happily welcomed by the guests in this hospitable home.

A Neighborhood Evening—One of the pleasantest of the happy holiday happenings occurred Friday evening, when Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Kinney entertained a number of friends and neighbors at a gathering at which cards furnished the amusement for the pleasant hours.

Those who enjoyed this delightful hospitality were Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Vining, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Wertz of Portland, the F. D. Wagner family, Mrs. Grainger and Mr. and Mrs. Emil Pell.

Covered Dish Dinner Planned—The Civic Club is planning another delightful gathering on Thursday evening of this week. This will be a Covered Dish Dinner for the members of the Civic Club and their husbands. The hours is set for six o'clock and will be followed by a short program, after which plans are made for an evening of social enjoyment, in pleasant informal fashion.

It is hoped that all members will arrange their other engagements that Thursday evening will be left free for this dinner and the enjoyable evening that follows. Trinity Guild Have Watch Party

One of the very enjoyable Watch Parties given to welcome the New Year was that held by the Trinity Guild at the Parish House.

The majority of the members were present and the evening was spent most delightfully. Delicious refreshments rounded out the happy evening.

Watch Parties—A number of the churches held watch meetings all well attended and very interesting.

Programs in many cases had been planned and the New Year was welcomed in happy way. Many other gatherings no doubt were held that the editor failed to secure for these columns but "by and large" the holiday season in Ashland was filled with a round of gayety and social functions more than usual.

Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Wallace Entertained—Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Wallace had as guests for Christmas dinner and the holidays, a number of out of town visitors.

Those who enjoyed their hospitality were Mr. and Mrs. Robert J. Wood of Seattle, Mr. and Mrs. Steve M. Webber of Portland, and Mrs. James Kendall and baby of Grants Pass.

Mrs. Kendall was formerly Miss Margaret Scott and attended High school here. Mrs. Webber is a sister of Mrs. Wallace.

A Happy Surprise—A very happy surprise occurred last Saturday when the members of Mrs. Hunt's class of the M. E. Sunday school surprised one of their number, Miss Flora Green, at her home on Second street.

The afternoon was most happily spent in games and in the visit so delightful to young girls. Dainty refreshments were served the guests at the close of the merry afternoon.

The members of the class with their teacher who enjoyed the pleasant time were Mrs. Hunt, the Misses Flora Green, Margaret Campbell, Elizabeth Lennox, Clara Huck, Ruth Fifield, Marjorie Fifield, Bernice Yeo, Caroline Tilton, Lucile Perozzi, Frances and Ruth Green.

New Year's Dinner—Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Cole entertained a number of guests on New Year's Day at a delightful turkey dinner.

The guest list included Dr. and Mrs. Shaw of Medford, Mr. Clay Cole of Roseville, California, and Mrs. George Carter of Talent. Ten out-of-town guests have returned to their homes.

Upper Valley Community Club Meets—The Upper Valley Community Club will meet the 16th, of January for an all day meeting at the home of Mrs. Mary Homes-Tucker on Avery street. If any change is made in place of meeting it will be announced in Saturday's issue.

The important thing to come before the club is the election of officers for the coming year. It is requested that all plan to be present at this meeting, that can possibly arrange for it.

The general topic is "Rag Rugs" and the chairman of the program committee is Mrs. Carl Goetche. Bear in mind the date Wednesday, January the 16th.

W. R. C. Meeting—The W. R. C. held their regular meeting on Saturday afternoon in the I. O. O. F. Hall, at which occurred the installation of the new officers, and also the initiation of fourteen new members.

A delightful feature of the day was the "Potluck Dinner" which the Corps enjoyed most thoroughly, and at which every good thing that makes a feast was there.

There is a contest on, that has a very interesting sequel that will develop a little later.

The new officers installed follow: President, Mrs. Julia Colon; senior vice, Mrs. Alice Turner; junior vice, Mrs. Sophia Ganniere; chaplain, Mrs. Melissa Ball; conductor, Mrs. Anna Moss; Assistant conductor, Mrs. Bonnie Moss; guard, Mrs. Jennie Hammond; asst. guard, Elizabeth Robertson; sec. Mrs. Nellie Peters; treas., Mrs. Lulu Howard, press correspondent, Mrs. Anna Robison, patriotic instructor, Mrs. Jennie Clapp; first color bearer, Mrs. Fern Randles, second color bearer, Mrs. Alma Stennett; third color bearer, Mrs. Ethel Cook; fourth color bearer, Mrs. Norstrom; musician, Mrs. Reid.

New Year's Gathering—Another New Year's gathering of relatives was the one at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wilmer Foley on Gresham street.

Members of the Foley families assembled for the family visit and the delightful dinner at which covers were laid for twelve. Those present at this pleasant reunion were Mrs. I. W. Thomas, Medford; Mr. and Mrs. Hartley and children of Phoenix; Mrs. Josephine Foley and the Misses Eva and Minnie Foley and Mrs. Lou Reeder.

Announcements at Study Club—Two announcements of interest to a great many were made at the Study Club, that met at the Mrs. Fred Engle's Monday afternoon.

Mrs. J. M. Wagner announced a little granddaughter, born on Christmas to Mr. and Mrs. Carroll Wagner, and Mrs. G. G. Eubanks announced the marriage of their son, Archie, in San Francisco the 23rd of December.

New Skyline for Capital of the Nation

Great Monument to Religious Ideals and Aspirations Of People of Nation fostered by distinguished Churchmen, Statesmen and Business Men.

WASHINGTON, the Capital of the Nation, is to have a new skyline! Today the Capitol Dome, the Post Office tower, the Washington monument, and scores of gigantic office buildings in between, mark the present one.

Five years hence, when the National Cathedral is finished, its magnificent Central Tower, will rise higher above the Potomac than the famous Washington monument.

It is fitting that against the skyline of the national capital, the most conspicuous tower should be that of a great cathedral. Up to this time Washington has been the only capital city in the world without a national expression of the spiritual life and aspirations of its people. In his plans for the capital George Washington included a church "to be erected for national purposes." With the completion of this Cathedral Washington's dream will become a reality.

LOOK TOWARD COMPLETION. The decision to complete the National Cathedral has just been taken by several of the most distinguished statesmen and business men of the nation who have joined with the National Cathedral Foundation in a nation wide appeal to the America people for $10,000,000. Toward the fulfillment of the great cathedral ideal, more than eight thousand men and women, of all classes and conditions, in every section of the country, have already participated. While the undertaking is being sponsored by the Protestant Episcopal church, the cathedral idea has made a powerful appeal to the American public generally.

A nation wide movement to complete the construction of the National Cathedral was formally launched at a recent luncheon participated in by officials of the Cathedral Foundation at the home of John Hays Hammond, chairman of the U. S. Coal Commission and chairman of the Washington committee. Senator George W. Pepper of Pennsylvania, national chairman, Andrew W. Mellon, secretary of the treasury, and national treasurer of the Foundation, Henry White, former Ambassador to France, General John J. Pershing, are among those who support the cathedral movement.

PUBLIC STATEMENT MADE. The official statement, considered by many as a "confession of faith," signed by the Rt. Rev. James E. Freeman, Bishop of Washington, as President of the Foundation; Senator Pepper, National Chairman; Secre-

appeal will meet a ready response from every state in the Union. In this way the Cathedral is certain to be built within the period designated by the National Cathedral Foundation. The Bethlehem Chapel in the crypt of the great Cathedral is already being used for religious services. From here each Sunday, Bishop Freeman's sermons are broadcast to an inviolable congregation of many hundreds of thousands, for the Washington radio has been heard on stations all over the United States, as far west as Honolulu and as far east as England
