Pharmacists call it "Joint-Ease" because it's for Swollen, Sore, Painful, Creaky Joints Only.

It took a good many years to get together a combination of pain subduing and swelling reducing agents declared to be the one remedy that almost instantly penetrates through skin and flesh and starts right in to make swollen, inflamed, creaky, pain racked joints as good as new.

They call this new and wonderful preparation "Joint Ease" because the medical man who turned the trick, worked for years to perfect some low-priced remedy that would really benefit the millions of people who have on or more joints that need helpful attention.

So "Joint Ease" is prepared only for people who have a swollen painful, creaky, distorted or stiff joint, whether it be in knee, elbow, shoulder, ankle, neck or finger and whether it is caused by rheumatism or something else.

Of course, it can't help but quickly put an end to such superficial ailments as lumbago, neu-

MRS. PIERCE RESTING EASY AT HOSPITAL

PORTLAND, Jan. 18.—Mrs. Walter M. Pierce, wife of the governor of Oregon, is resting easy at the St. Vincent's hospital after two weeks' treatment for nerve trouble. According to attendants at the hospital, Mrs. Pierce will probably be discharged during the latter part of the week. Governor Pierce is in Portland visiting his wife during her illness.

ralgia, neuritis, aching muscles, stitch in the side, crick in the neck or sore feet because of its penetrating action, but what it is really recommended for is joint ailments of any nature whatever. Ask for a tube of "Joint Ease." You can use it several times in one evening for quick results, because it goes right through the skin with only a few seconds rubbing. It surely is a swift penetrator and when it gets under the skin, it starts right in to clean up all joint trouble.

All druggists dispense it daily for about 60 cents a tube, as do first class druggists everywhere. No. 3

Department Of State Market Agent

Prepared in the Office of C. E. Spence, State Market Agent.

"They tell us farmers that co-operation is our only hope, but if we wait for it to save us, we won't have much to save."

"Why cannot organizations do for the farm industry what it has already done for all other industries?"

"Oh, but farming is different. If we all raised but one crop we could combine and put it over, but we all raise everything, and our interests are so varied we can never all pull together."

"That's what they used to say about labor organizations; that there were so many laborers and so many different trades that it would be impossible to accomplish anything thru organization, yet they have organized and they have accomplished wonders for workers in the way of higher wages. Labor would be a twin industry in misery with farming today if the workers had believed in the 'it can't be done.'"

"Yes, but that is different, labor has no products to sell."

"Labor has everything to sell—days' work—but it no longer puts them on the market and asks 'what will you give?' Labor tells the contractor and employer what they can have the days' work for, and if they won't pay it, they don't get it. And they do pay it, because they have to have it."

"But labor has big national organizations and many leaders to stand back of the laborers' demands and help them get them."

"It did not have once. Farmers can have the same powerful machine any time it cares strong enough to build it. It can regulate production, do its own marketing, rid the nation of its speculators and make its own selling prices."

"Then why isn't it doing something along these lines in Oregon today. There are several long established co-operative organizations. Why haven't they made more progress along this line?"

"Because none of the strictly co-operative organizations are given strength enough to accomplish much. They are too weak in numbers. They do not control enough of the product to be able to fix their own price on their own goods. There are too many farmers like yourself who stand along the lines and say it can't be done, and you help to make it impossible by your outside competition."

"The government should help us in our present extremity. We have the most important industry in the world. Nearly all the newspapers and periodicals in the land and state and national representatives admit our plight of the past three years, and they state that agriculture must be made profitable in order that other business may progress."

"And because these newspapers and politicians have done this, you farmers sit down and pity yourselves. If these papers and these representatives had proclaimed that you farmers are getting all you deserve to have; that you should be satisfied with penance conditions and that you were too helpless to ever be dangerous to the industries that prey on you—if these papers and these office holders had made these statements instead of competing with each other in their deluge of sympathy, it would not have taken you long to get together in organizations powerful enough to show the world you could run your own business."

"When you farmers will work as hard as you complain; when you quit the self-pity and line up your locality for self-help; when you once get it into your heads that the government will never guarantee you profit prices on your products, but that you have got to get that guarantee by your own business."

ganzing along the same lines as other business that guarantees its organizers dividends, then will farming have its place in the sun."

The above are some of the many both side arguments on the co-operative movement that the state market agent hears every week. Read them again, and the next time think them over.
