Finally Settled
Charles Oglesby and family arrived this morning from Ashland, expecting to make their home in Grants Pass. Mr. Oglesby went to Ashland over a year ago but decided that this was the only place he could really call "home." He expects to enter business here. Grants Pass Courier.

Let us fill your pail with Swifts Silver Leaf lard—costs less than shortening, goes farther and is more nutritious. Detricks. 94-1f

Guests Yesterday
Mrs. Jessa Parry was a visitor in town yesterday spending the day shopping and with business interests. Mrs. Parry is from Tennant, Cal. Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Taylor were visitors from Dunsmuir. Harold L. Lood'n and family and Louis P. Reeb's, of Seaside, were guests at Hotel Ashland last night.

Visiting School
Miss Cecil Moore was a guest last night at the home of Miss Marjorie Field. Miss Moore is teaching school in Eagle Point and made the trip to visit the Neil Creek school in compliance with a state law which requires that a teacher shall visit rural schools with the idea of getting new ideas and style of accomplishing work.

Don't Forget the Hour
The Ashland Sunday School Council of Religious Education will have a Get Together dinner and meeting Friday evening at the Presbyterian church at which the plans outlined by the Executive Committee will be presented. Don't forget the hour—6:30 P. M. and the charge will be thirty-five cents a plate. Everyone interested in Sunday School work is urged to be present.

Mid-Winter Congress in Calif.
Captain Porter and Lieutenant Dye will leave February 9 to attend the western mid-winter congress of the Salvation Army in San Francisco. Commander Evangeline Booth will be assisted in the meeting by staff assistants and interesting problems are to be discussed. The dedication of a Young Women's residence in Los Angeles will mark the close of the entire conference.

Two Stages Required
When A. C. Howard came to Ashland this morning on the regular run to Klamath Falls he found an overly large number of passengers waiting to be taken over the mountain. He was obliged to send to Medford for a second stage before he left. Tourist travel between here and Klamath Falls has held up steadily all winter and two stages practically every morning has been required to take care of the travel.

Baptist Pastor Returns
Rev. B. C. Miller returned home last night from Glendale, where he was called again Tuesday to conduct two more meetings in the revival campaign that has been going on this week. Rev. Miller is docketed to speak at the Council of Religious Education this evening, which meets at the Presbyterian church with dinner at 6:30.

College Pete Altered
A total vote of 729 was cast Wednesday at the University of Oregon for a modification of the Junior Week-end resulted that 465 votes were cast in favor of the plan to eliminate high school guests. The response to a short amount of publicity that had been given the question proved to the student council that the students were alive to the question. Junior Week-end will be held, in all probability, as a play-time for university students and guests who have been asked to attend this year's fete are to be entertained at another time.

Burglars at Merlin
Burglars at Merlin Tuesday night received scant reward for their efforts. They went through the Merlin hotel and turned everything over hunting for money. The rugs were torn up, bedding disarranged and every possible hiding place of money ransacked. They then went to the William Hanner store but were evidently frightened away from there by the dog which had been left inside. The Bagley confectionery was entered and cigarettes, candy and other articles taken. The burglars selected a time at which all the Merlin residents were attending a meeting for the discussion of community house plans. Grants Pass Courier.

feet in storage in the reservoir at Hyatt Prairie, with 16 inches of solidly packed snow. This is 1200 acre feet more than was confined in the dam at this time last year. The depth of snow was greater by several inches a year ago, but was not so well packed, and it is believed that the present supply will afford as great a run off of water.

What the World Is Doing

AS SEEN BY POPULAR MECHANICS MAGAZINE

Cycling on Snow and Ice

SEASONABLY shod with a tread such as that shown in the illustration, the "bike" can be depended upon for winter sport, or ordinary uses over ice and snow. With ordinary tires, cycling is not only hard work, in winter, but precarious; with the tread described here, however, good traction is assured, and the runner makes the machine easily handled.

The necessary materials are: twenty 1 1/2 by 3-in. back-flap hinges; seven 1 1/2-in. stove bolts, 2 1/2 in. long, and four 3 in. long; three strips of 20-gauge galvanized sheet steel, 2 by 30 in.; 1/2 lb. rivets and washers; a pair of light 3-in. strap hinges; a 3-in. T-hinge; a pair of 3-in. butt hinges; a 1/2 by 1/2-in. machine bolt; six No. 14 screws, 3 in. long; one 1-in. awning pulley; 2 ft. of steel chain, No. 16, 3/8-in. link; one screen door spring, and a skate. For a 26-in. wheel, one less back flap hinge is used, nineteen 1/2 by 2 1/2-in. bolts, and one 3-in. bolt. The twenty hinges are bent at each end at right angles, the lugs being 1/2 in. long and the countersunk sides opposite the lugs. Beginning 1/4 in. from the end of each galvanized strip, rivet the hinges to the strips, using four rivets to each hinge, and keeping them 2 in. apart. Equip two of the strips with seven hinges, and one with six, then connect each hinge to the next with the 2 1/2-in. bolts. Cut the strips with 1/2-in. ends, center them over the rim of the wheel, and connect the end hinges with the 3-in. bolts. Tighten up all bolts, then, with pliers and hammer, shape the sides of the strips to grip the rim.

From 1-in. ash, cut a runner shoe, 3 in. wide and 25 in. long. Cut down 12 in. at one end to 1/2 in. or 3/4 in. thick, and taper the sides down to 2 1/2 in. wide. Steam the toe, or soak it in hot water, then bend it to shape. The fork post fits below the head and is 2 in. wide and 24 in. long (22 in. for a 26-in. wheel); the hub block is 2 in. thick, 5 in. long, and 3 1/2 in. wide, and is bored to take the machine bolt with

Hurried Departure Made
What would resemble working in the wake of an earthquake is the rapid course of events that preceded the departure of Mr. and Mrs. George E. Pope to their new home in Colorado. Receiving a telegram Wednesday noon of the serious illness of Mr. Pope's brother in Windsor, Colorado, household effects were disposed of, their home sold to W. W. Robison and a departure started on an evening train. Mr. and Mrs. Pope have lived here since a year ago in July and became actively acquainted with a wide scope of friends. They plan to live permanently in Colorado.

THERE is no exercise to equal swimming for the uniform development of every muscle in the body. Swimming adds a grace and beauty which cannot be equaled even by dancing. There is no danger of becoming muscle-bound in swimming because it employs every muscle in an infinite variety of motions.

One of the great secrets of swimming is relaxation. The more you relax the easier it is to swim. Relaxation means rest, and the conservation of strength and nervous energy. To stiffen or tense any part of the body is simply to tire yourself out quickly and prevents you from becoming a proficient swimmer. Relaxation enables swimmers to cover long distances with great ease.

The control of muscles trained in swimming will be of the greatest use in your everyday work and play. You will be a more graceful dancer and will be able to keep your balance under all circumstances. Don't overlook a chance to swim. If you can join a regular class so much the better. However, don't overdo it. Take your shower; take your plunge; exercise vigorously; get out; take a rub-down and get into your clothes, and you will feel a new life-thrill to your finger tips.

Every boy and girl has a right to learn to swim. If the swimming facilities in your community are inadequate write for information. Ask for booklet, "How to Swim," by Harry Hazen, Swimming Coach, Chicago Athletic Club.

under each screw head. At the heel attach a 4-in. butt hinge, three screws into B and screw in each side of the shoe, then cut off any waste heel. At the toe, rivet the 3-in. T-hinge, as shown. Assemble the gear to the post with a 3-in. butt hinge centered on top of the B-block. The 9-in. spring, pulley, and chain keep the runner "headed up" for limit of the cutout in the shoe for the blade—a slit centered from the heel of the shoe.

Assemble the runner with the toe point of the skate set in about 1/4 in. from the shoe bottom—so that there will be no possibility of "sticking." At this end there will be perhaps an inch space between B and the shoe. Fit a wedge block here with the heel of the shoe brought up to block B, and secure it with two 3-in. screws driven through B, through the wedge, and into the shoe. These must be countersunk 1 in. and a washer or two used easier steering, and safety when "jumping bumps." Back of the post, secure the pulley with a screw eye set into the lower edge of the 2-in. opening. Cut the spring to length, and with another screw eye, fasten one end, then connect up the chain, around the pulley, through the opening to the hinge on the toe of the shoe. With the runner of the ground, if the spring is pulled down to within about 4 in. of the pulley, the tension should be right.

After trying out this tread for a few minutes, tighten up any hinges on the tread if necessary.
